CORTES BEGINS TASKS IN SPAIN AMID ACCLAIM

Republican Assembly to Draft Constitution for Republic.

TROOPS LINE STREET AS CABINET PARADES

President Alcala Zamora Is Cheered and Guns Boom Holiday Salute.

Madrid, July 14 (A.P.).—The future of Spain, for the first time in eight years, tonight was in the hands of a popular Assembly.

While thousands thronged the Prado outside the Assembly hall, the constituent Cortes, first Assembly to be held for eight years and first Republican Assembly since 1873, was called to order this evening.

The session opened after a colorful cabinet parade along Madrid's troop-lined streets. Cheering crowds along the way and outside the Assembly hall voiced the hope of the millions who two months ago overthrew the monarchy for Republican government.

Cannon boomed 21-gun salutes as the artillery units did their share of welcoming in the new day for Spain.

Immediately after the gavel had banged in the Assembly hall officially opening the Cortes Don Niceto Alcala Zamora, the white-haired provisional president of the republic, took the floor to deliver the presidential address.

Urged Early Constitution.

Declaring that it was the happiest day of his life, the head of the cabinet which has carried on through the interim since the monarchy fell last April, pointed out that the republic had finally come "after a quarter century of struggle for liberty, as the most perfect example of a peace evolution."

The cabinet now wished, he said, to resign its powers to "Spain's only majesty—the Constituent Assembly." He urged the deputies to attack their many problems as rapidly as possible and to throw their entire energies into outlining a new constitution as quickly as possible.

As the assembly opened there were visible only two splashes of the color of the past. These were the uniforms of two "mace bearers," who stood, dressed like the Jack of Spades, on either side of the speaker's rostrum carrying ancient pikes and lanterns. Above them towered the two heroic statues of Ferdinand and Isabella.

Women Deputies Cheered.

Otherwise the chamber was stripped of everything which savored of the days of the monarchy.

Spain's first women deputies were cheered loudly as they entered the assembly hall. Among them was Victoria Kent, Spain's first woman lawyer, in a brown dress and black velvet coat.

Six Catholic priests, who are members of the assembly, were present, dressed in their robes. They sat in pairs, two on right benches, two in the center and two on the left.

The only untoward incidents reported up to tonight were the hissing of Papal Nuncio Tedeschini by the crowds as he entered the Congressional Building, and the jeering at the civil guards during the military parade. Both of these outbreaks were quickly drowned in the clamorous wave of public enthusiasm.

President Alcala Zamora was visibly affected by the cheering.

Must Avoid Bloodshed.

"This will be the last of Spanish revolutions," he said, "and the first which opens the pathway to social justice. We must avoid further bloodshed. In justice, we should pay the debt to those who have already been sacrificed and persecuted.

"Our way is beset with many thorny problems, and the solution of these must be taken up by the assembly. Our promise to hold them unsolved and to let the assembly decide served as a bulwark for the new republic.

"I think the revolution showed no stains of greed. The men who present themselves before you come with clean hands.

"There is no possibility of a return of the monarchy. Free from all

Beck Voices Warning On Rate Raise Delay

Hints I. C. C. Has Outlived Usefulness; Hearings Will Open Today.

By J. B. McDONNELL.

With a sharp threat of Congressional punishment hurled at them last night if they delay too long in acceding to the plea of the railroads for a 15 per cent increase in freight rates, members of the Interstate Commerce Commission this morning will begin formal hearings on the request.

The threat was voiced by Representative James M. Beck, (Republican), of Pennsylvania, in a statement made public in New York. Ostensibly Mr. Beck's statement merely was against a long delay before a decision was made, but actually it was a threat that unless the railroads' requests were granted quickly he would use his not unimportant influence with his fellow members of Congress to punish the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Representative Beck described the commission as a commission of circumlocution and said that he would ask his colleagues on the interstate commerce committee of the House seriously to consider whether the commission had not outlived its usefulness.

Although startling in the baldness of its purpose to intimidate the members of the commission, the Beck statement was but one of the developments yesterday in the fight for higher railroad rates which will be launched formally today.

An interesting sidelight was a criticism by examiners of the commission of a proposal by several roads to reduce freight rates on food products in glass containers. The commission examiners said the proposal

DIAMOND ACQUITTED OF TORTURE CHARGE

Gangster Freed, Although Truck Driver Tells Tale of Atrocities.

Troy, N. Y., July 14 (A.P.).—Jack (Legs) Diamond, gangster chief, was acquitted tonight of assault upon Grover Parks, Catskill Mountain truckman, who contended he was beaten and tortured because he refused to reveal the location of a still. He blamed Diamond and his gang.

The attorney general and his aids, admittedly taken aback by the verdict, held a brief conference before John T. Cahill, a deputy, advised the court that the State would not at this time move the other charges, kidnaping, coercion and carrying a gun. The extraordinary session of the court, summoned for this one trial, then was adjourned until September 15.

Parks, on the witness stand today, told how he was driving his truck along a lonely road about midnight of April 15. He was stopped by Diamond, the gangster's chauffeur, Jim Dalton, and a woman, Parks said. When he refused to tell the location of a still, Parks said he was beaten, doubled into painful contortion by a rope, hanged by his neck, and the soles of his feet singed by burning papers.

Harold Cluett, son of the founder of the collar manufacturing firm and one of Troy's wealthy citizens, was fined $25 and reprimanded for contempt of court because he did not appear when summoned for jury service in the Diamond case.

He reported a day late. The fine was assessed by Justice James C. Cropsey.

HOOVER STILL HOPES TO CURE COAL ILLS

(Associated Press.)

The administration still hopes to find some means of bettering economic conditions in the bituminous coal mining industry.

At the close of a two-day conference with representatives of the United Mine Workers, Secretary Doak announced further conferences would be held shortly. He did not indicate, however, who would be asked to participate.

"We have heard both the miners and operators," Secretary Doak said, "but have reached no conclusion. There will be further conferences before a final report is made to President Hoover, but I do not know at this time who they will be with."

The conference ended yesterday was the second in a series the Secretaries of Labor and Commerce are holding at the direction of President Hoover in an effort to ascertain whether there is a ground on which all elements interested in the coal industry may be brought around a common conference table. John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers, asked President Hoover to call an economic conference.

President Lewis, who headed the miners' delegation, said yesterday workers wanted a national conference so they might convince operators they should respect the rights of miners in their home communities to unite.

Asked whether the National Miners Union would be invited to a conference, Secretary Doak said that organization had eliminated itself when it notified President Hoover last Thursday that it was against such an assembly.

Attack in Apartment Laid to 2 Policemen

Women and Men Living in Spring Road Section Claim Tenth Precinct Detectives Cursed, Beat Them After Answering Call.

Serious charges against two policemen of the Tenth Precinct, accused of "conduct unbecoming an officer" while inquiring into a theft at 1122 Spring road, were under investigation last night by Police Inspector Louis J. Stoll.

The investigation was ordered by Superintendent of Police Henry G. Pratt after affidavits had been filed by members of two families in the Spring road apartment house, charging assault "with brass knuckles" on two of the complainants, use of abusive language, and alleging that one of the two kicked in the face a 4-year-old child.

The policemen involved are Richard F. McCarty and Robert L. Jones, both precinct detectives. Inspector Stoll said no action has been taken to suspend the men from duty, pending completion of the inquiry.

According to Miss Elsie Williams, Apartment 2, 1122 Spring road, the trouble occurred after she returned from an automobile ride the night of January 27. With her was her 9-year-old daughter, Peggy; Joe Pesavage, a soldier attached to Walter Reed Hospital; her sister, Mrs. Walter Sawyer; Mr. Sawyer; their 4-year-old child, Phylis, and a Mr. Ross, who does not figure in the case, her lawyer, Martin Mendelsohn, told authorities.

Miss Williams, a divorcee, who has resumed her maiden name, said they found "things strewn all over the floor" and a neighbor informed them she had seen a man jump out of a window. A search of the neighborhood was made and a man "who admitted he was in the place" was overtaken and brought back to the apartment. She said she called police and asked them to send some one to her apartment.

McCarty and Jones arrived in a few minutes, Miss Williams said, and "Jones had no coat or hat on and his shirt was sticking out." They refused to take any notice of the man who admitted the robbery, according to her affidavit.

"We ain't bothering about any robbery or who broke in, we came up to see who was disorderly around here," she quoted one of the two as saying.

When she protested, Jones told her "to shut up or I will wrap this around your face," shaking his fist at her, she charged. McCarthy called them "a bunch of rats," she added, and, when Pesavage objected to her threatened arrest, the detective hit Joe with a pair of brass knuckles, her affidavit declared.

Pesavage, in his affidavit, quoted one of the detectives as saying:

"This is the place we have been looking at for a long time. All of the neighbors have been complaining about parties going on in this apartment."

When Miss Williams denied this, he said McCarty called her a derogatory name.

Mrs. Sawyer took up the story. She lives in apartment 4, at the same address. She said in her affidavit:

"Jones came up to the door and said that he wanted all this noise stopped around here, and that he had received complaints for six months about my apartment being noisy.

"I told him that I had only been living there for two months, and he could not have received complaints

FASCISTS GIVE LIE TO ATTACK MADE BY POPE

BLACK SHIRTS PLAN SHOW OF STRENGTH

Army Will Assemble Soon on Piava Battlefields; Roll Numbers 1,515,000.

Rome, July 14 (A.P.).—Directors of the Fascist party, with Premier Mussolini at their head, tonight issued a long declaration in which they branded as "lies" the criticism of fascism by Pope Pius XI.

The declaration was issued after a five-hour session of the directorate. It implied that in his recent encyclical the Pope "defamed" fascism. The declaration also initiated vigorous effort to gather the entire youth of Italy into the Fascist fold.

The directors decided to show the strength of Fascism as a fighting and maneuvering force by a mobilization to be ordered some time soon, the date to be announced 48 hours in advance. The Fascists will mass in northern Italy on the Piava battlefields.

Directors Meet Duce.

The directors met with Mussolini in his Palazzo Venezia office, where he talked on Thursday with Col. Henry L. Stimson, American Secretary of State. Reports were presented showing that the party has a solid membership of 873,000 adults and 642,000 youths. Behind this active force there was said to be more than 2,000,000 in the juvenile organization, taking in boys from 8 years up.

These figures, it was understood, were cited to indicate a steady growth in the party in recent months, presumably as the result of resignations from Catholic organizations.

The party's declaration was divided into three parts. These dealt with the Pope's criticism of the oath Fascists take to the duce; the Pope's action in publishing his encyclical abroad, and with general denials of the papal criticism and a declaration of the Fascist determination forcibly to defend the party's work.

Strong Protest Issued.

"The directorate for the National Fascist party," the statement declared, "protests strongly against the affirmations in the recent papal encyclical, according to which the oath of the black shirts is taken for bread, for career or for life.

"Black shirts have demonstrated that they know how to renounce bread, career and even life, when it is necessary for the country and for the Fascist revolution.

"The Fascist party spurns, therefore, the grave attempts by which it is sought to depreciate its faith, already proven by sacrifices. The National Fascist party is not a party like others, past and present; it is an organization of combat, of a military type, that has achieved a revolution and has the imperative duty of defending it against whomsoever."

Declaration's Second Part.

The second part of the declaration reads:

"The directorate of the National Fascist party spurns with indignation, and with precise knowledge of the facts, the affirmations contained in the recent appeal to foreigners sent from the Vatican, in which it was said that Masons had risen to prominence in the party ranks.

"The attitude of the party has been, and is, positive on that score. If Don Sturzo (priest who was charged with political activity in Catholic Action) is in exile in London, the grand master of Masonry is on the island (of Lipari).

"The directorate of the party is vigilant to prevent any of the old remnants of the Masonic and liberal days from resuming any activities, even on the edges of the regime. But, this having been stated, the directorate of the party calls attention to the unheard-of alliance established between the Vatican and Masonry, which are bound together in a common hostility toward a Fascist state."

Declaration's Third Division.

The third part of the declaration said:

"The directorate of the party protests against the lies, and denounces the affirmations, in the foreign note of Vatican origin against 'Balilla,' the strong pride and future of the Fascist regime. It declares that no one should be permitted to defame the great organization to which a thousand carefully chosen Fascists, thousands of teachers in the public schools and 2,000 chaplains give their activity.

"It is an organization that should prepare, and will prepare, for tomorrow those who will carry on the Fascist revolution. The directorate invites all Fascists to work toward the end that 'Balilla' may soon gather under the Fascist emblem an entire new generation."

The "Balilla" is an organization for youth somewhat similar to the scout organizations.

GERMAN CABINET ADJOURNS, BUT PROMISES ACTION TODAY; OFFICIALS OF U. S. OPTIMISTIC

AMBASSADOR SAYS SITUATION IS EASIER

By EDWARD T. FOLLIARD

A spirit of optimism with regard to Germany seemed to permeate official circles here yesterday. Notwithstanding all the pessimistic talk about the financial and political situation in Germany, the United States is confident that Germany, due to common sense, will survive the present crisis.

Contributing largely to the feeling among American officials here was the report from Walter Edge, of New Jersey, the American Ambassador to Paris.

Situation Held Easier.

Acting Secretary of State Castle Ambassador Edge saying that the said he had received a message from situation in Germany was much easier. Ambassador Edge reported that the closing of certain banks in Germany was not such a bad sign as it appeared to be in the United States.

It also was made known that France would not attempt to collect the reparations payments that are due her today. There had always been some doubt about this point.

Acting Secretary of State Castle took occasion to point out that President Hoover's plan for a one-year moratorium on war debts had averted a serious international crisis.

Had not President Hoover made his proposal, Germany today would have had to put up something like 136,700,000 marks, about $30,000,000, into the Bank for International Settlements.

Young Plan Was in Danger.

Had not the United States made this gesture, Acting Secretary of State Castle said, Germany may have wrecked the whole Young reparations plan.

That the situation has reached a delicate point was indicated last night when it was announced that Ogden Mills, Undersecretary of the Treasury, had called off a radio speech he was scheduled to make in collaboration with Frederic William Wile.

Mr. Wile, speaking over the Columbia Broadcasting System, explained why Acting Secretary Mills could not talk on the German crisis.

"Since the interview was arranged a week ago," said Mr. Wile, "the financial crisis in Germany has thundered along. Necessarily, it clothed the moratorium project with a new aspect.

"Under these circumstances Mr. Mills prefers not to speak at this time. As soon as the situation is clarified, in consequence of prospective measures of relief for Germany, the Acting Secretary of the Treasury authorizes me to say that he will appear before this microphone in fulfillment of tonight's engagement."

It was not forgotten last night that President Hoover caused Secretary of State Stimson to postpone a speech he was scheduled to make on a particular night.

Situation Banking One.

The present situation has resolved itself solely into a banking one, in which there are elements of popular panic. However, the measures taken by the German government are looked upon here as very effective.

There are three fairly distinct elements to the situation. First, there was a general tendency in Germany, as in other parts of the world, toward overextension by certain banks. The larger bank in Germany, which failed yesterday, had about the same capital and surplus as had the Bank of United States, which failed without creating so much as a ripple in the United States.

It is the view here that the failure, coming at this time, had more effect on the popular mind than it merited, and it is declared in official circles

Capital Film Man Injured in Crash

Woman, Bringing Victim to Hospital, Hurt as Car Leaves Highway.

Gerald H. Payne, 231 Bryant street northeast, an employe of the R. K. O. Distributing Corporation, last night was in a critical condition at the Alexandria Hospital after he had figured in two accidents in quick succession on the Richmond boulevard, near Fort Humphreys, Va.

Mr. Payne, who was suffering from two broken legs and a double fracture of the right arm, had been picked up injured on the highway by an unidentified woman. While hurrying him to town for hospital treatment, her car plunged off the road.

The woman also was under treatment last night at the Alexandria Hospital, suffering from cuts and bruises. Mrs. Bernard Eberhart, the night supervisor, refused to disclose her name. The two were brought to the hospital by the Fort Humphreys ambulance. Both Alexandria and Fairfax County police said they knew nothing about the accident.

German Reds Press For National Strike

6,000,000 Communists Proclaim Plans to Confiscate Bank Accounts and Fortunes of Rich; Failure for Move Is Seen.

Berlin, July 14 (U.P.).—Extremists took advantage of the uncertain financial and political situation in Germany tonight to announce plans for a nation-wide strike, aimed to enforce measures allegedly for the benefit of the masses.

The proclamation was issued by the German Communist party, with a membership of about 6,000,000. If the strike plans were intended to stampede the masses from a returning sense of relief and hope, they apparently failed to accomplish their purpose.

Although Berlin appeared to be returning to a normal existence, in contrast to the panicky scenes of the past 48 hours when financial collapse seemed at hand, there were reports of violence from other parts of the country. At Neu Koeln, fascists attacked rival groups on the streets and retreated to a restaurant after a brawl. Police entered the restaurant, searched the Nazis for arms, and arrested ten.

The directors of the Berlin Stock Exchange, it was learned tonight, decided to keep the exchange closed the entire week, instead of only two days.

It was rumored that Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, former head of the Reichsbank, might succeed Dr. Hans Luther in that position and be given powers which made him Germany's "currency dictator" when the mark was stabilized in 1923.

Leading industrialists urged the cabinet to entrust Schacht with the German currency question, and it was believed he would be appointed Reich currency commissioner to control foreign currency transactions.

The Communist proclamation said that strikes would be called to enforce the following measures:

Guarantee of security for small depositors.

Confiscation of millionaire fortunes.

Forced resumption of work in all industries regardless of considerations of profit.

Distribution of free food and clothing to the unemployed.

Effect Is Felt by Other Countries as Some Banks Are Closed.

HENDERSON ARRIVES FOR PARLEY IN PARIS

U. S. Federal Reserve Says It Is Willing to Renew Credit to Reich.

(Associated Press.)

The German cabinet adjourned shortly before midnight without promulgating any of the emergency finahcial decrees it had planned to meet the country's financial exigencies. It promised action today.

Arthur Henderson, British foreign secretary, arrived at Paris and made no effort to deny that his visit was intended to help in reconciling French and German views on the Hoover war debt plan.

The effect of the German situation was felt throughout most of the other countries of Europe, where some banks closed and most others refused to accept German currency.

All banks in Hungary were ordered closed for three days.

The United States Federal Reserve Bank at New York announced its willingness to participate in the renewal of the $100,000,000 credit to the Reichsbank.

The State Department heard from Ambassador Edge at Paris that Germany's situation was "easier."

Berlin, Wednesday, July 15 (A.P.). The German cabinet adjourned shortly before midnight without enacting the emergency decrees which had been planned to meet further the nation's financial difficulties.

Action Is Surprise.

The cabinet's action came as a distinct surprise to financial circles, for it had been expected that the government would find some way to meet the pay roll and other emergencies arising out of the inability of the people to secure cash because of the closing of the banks.

It was announced that "guiding lines were discussed for the decision" and that these would be made some time this afternoon. It was expected that these decrees also would provide for ending the "bank holiday" and reestablishing normal conditions, although specific assurance that the banks would be open tomorrow was conspicuously absent from the announcement.

The belief was expressed in responsible quarters that a way would be found to open the banks for pay roll withdrawals, while at the same time erecting a temporary ban against withdrawals for other purposes.

It was understood that the cabinet discussed a number of drastic plans for meeting the currency shortage, but that difficulties and objections developed quickly in the case of each of the suggestions.

Luther Back in Berlin.

Dr. Hans Luther, president of the Reichsbank, yesterday afternoon returned from his latest whirlwind credit-seeking trip to a Germany already acting on the now widespread slogan, "Don't wait for outside help Germany; save yourself."

The Lufthansa plane that brought Dr Luther back from Basel made the trip in the fast time of three and one-half hours. Immediately after his arrival, he hurried from Tempelhof Airdrome to the chancellery, where the reparations committee of the cabinet was in session.

Meanwhile the government let it be known that Monday's emergency decree closing all banks was only one of a series to be expected in the fight to halt panic, consolidate the nation's credit strength and preserve internal peace.

Difficult to Predict.

Just how vigorously the Bruening government would have to act to preserve internal peace was a matter difficult to predict. The Nationalist opposition, led by Alfred Hugenberg and Adolf Hitler, thus far has been talking only vaguely of "taking over responsibility."

No indication has come as to whether the opposition will wait for the next election or say it with force.

Chancellor Bruening, who in previous critical periods has won the sobriquet "Iron Chancellor," hasn't

U.S. MAY REPOSSESS STEAMER LEVIATHAN

Operators Facing Financial Difficulty Reported Ready for Move.

New York, July 14 (A.P.).—The Leviathan, world's largest ship, may be repossessed temporarily by the Government, which acquired it from Germany when the United States entered the World War.

Paul W. Chapman, president of the United States Lines, was reported today to be ready to ask that the Government take such action to help his company out of temporary financial difficulties. Operation of the Leviathan, George Washington, America and Republic are understood to have caused the United States Line's troubles due to falling off in the number of transatlantic passengers.

American steamship operators and members of the United States Shipping Board held their second conference today in an effort to work out a solution. Chairman T. V. O'Connor said no definite plan had been formulated.

It was reported, however, that the International Mercantile Marine Co. may make an offer to take over the lines. Officers of the I. M. M. refused to discuss the report, P. A. S. Franklin, president saying merely that it is "naturally interested in building up the American mercantile marine."

Mr. Chapman did not attend the conference, but said his plan to have the Government repossess the four ships had not been submitted as yet.

Portland, Oreg., July 14 (A.P.).—Jefferson Myers, United States Shipping Board commissioner, announced today that three Pacific Coast steamship lines have been approached to determine whether they are interested in operation of the United States Line. America's largest steamship service.

The line has asked Shipping Board assistance because of the business depression.

Myers arrived today from Washington, D. C. He said those approached were the States Steamship Co. of Portland, the Dollar Steamship Co., and the Matson Steamship Co.

40 IN APARTMENTS ARE ROUTED BY GAS

4-Month-Old Baby, With Parents, Is Taken to Hospital.

Forty residents of the Parkside Apartments, at 1673 Park road northwest, were ordered into the street late last night after ammonia fumes, released from an iceless refrigerator by a broken connection, flooded the five-story building and sent a married couple and their four-month-old child to the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Chapdelaine and their baby, the trio who required attention at Garfield Hospital, were not believed seriously affected. Mrs. Florence R. Macdonald, from whose refrigerator the gas flowed, was treated by an Emergency Hospital ambulance surgeon, as were several others assisted from the building by the Fire Rescue Squad.

Mrs. Macdonald, who lives alone in a fourth-floor apartment and is a buyer for a downtown women's ready-to-wear shop, discovered the broken connection when she went to the refrigerator to get a bite to eat before retiring. Swinging open the door, she was almost floored by the gas which came forth.

She notified Mrs. June Anderson, the resident manager, and then called the rescue squad.

Radio Message Reports Ship Afire 50 Miles Out

New York, July 14 (U.P.).—The Radio Marine Corporation reported tonight that its Chatham, Mass., station had picked up a wireless message, signed by the master of the oil transport Axtell J. Byles, reporting the sighting of a small craft afire at sea. The message read: "Small craft on fire, blazing fore and aft, 39.15 North, 73.42 West, at 11:35 p. m."

The location given in the message is in the Atlantic about 50 miles east of Capt May in southern New Jersey.

MRS. MARGARET KELLY.

Told of Being Civil War Refugee After Seizure of Richmond.

Mrs. Margaret Kelly, 105 years old, who came to this country an apple-cheeked Irish colleen more than 90 years ago, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mamie Heindl, 3019 Fifteenth street northwest.

Alert and able, until a month ago, Mrs. Kelly had never suffered a serious illness before in a life which included many hardships on her voyage to this country and as a Civil War refugee from Richmond after its capture by Gen. Grant.

Mrs. Kelly, born Margaret O'Brien in County Tyrone, Ireland, was preceded to this continent about 1840 by her mother and father, who settled in Canada with four other children, many of whose descendants reside now in Montreal. Mrs. Kelly re-

Police Watching Closely.

Nevertheless, despite reports that a large part of the Nationalist funds were tied up in the collapse of the Darmstaedter und National Bank, political police were keeping close watch on the Hitlerites and also on the Communists—although the latter were reportedly hoping that Hitler would first pave the way for them.

Any attempt to upset the existing government would have to reckon with President Paul von Hindenburg, who, regardless of the division of Germany into quarreling political camps, may safely be said to have the unswerving loyalty of the Reichswehr.

Tense though the situation is here, Germans were watching with closest interest the reaction to the suspension of the Darmstaedter Bank in other countries, notably Austria, Hungary, Holland, Poland, Denmark and Latvia.

As a result of the sudden shortage of currency, due to the closing of the banks, the Reichsbank, which a few days ago was the scene of a phenomenal run on foreign currencies, yesterday became the urgent goal of persons in need of marks—which many bought with the foreign currency they had accumulated during the run.

May Satisfy Demands.

It was learned that other banks—including the Danat (Darmstaedter und National Bank)—will be permitted to satisfy certain pay roll demands today, although officially remaining closed. But the problem of meeting the 600,000,000 mark (about $150,000,000) pay rolls due July 17 can not be solved so simply.

Last night it was doubtful whether the "bank holiday" could be permitted to end tomorrow, although the cabinet was doing its utmost to that end.

The tendency of some taxpayers to regard the closing of the banks as a tax moratorium called forth a warning from the government to the effect that taxes must be paid just the same. Checks, even Danat checks, will be accepted in payment of taxes.

One West End cabaret hastened to follow suit. It advertised, "We take checks on any bank."

Black Expects Inquiry In Hall Case to Be Stern

(Associated Press.)

Senator Black (Democrat), Alabama, said yesterday the public "will look forward to a searching and open investigation" of the differences between Dr. Ray O Hall and the Department of Commerce. Dr. Hall, who resigned, charged that statistics he had prepared relating to the value of exports were changed.

"If this former trusted employe of the administration is now wrong in his charges against the administration, the people should know it," Senator Black said in a statement issued through the Democratic national committee. "If Dr. Hall is right, he has been done an injustice in the effort to utilize a governmental agency, paid by the money of all the people, to alter facts for partisan political purposes."

Wage Conference Is Urged by Green

Labor Chief Asks Hoover to Call Parley; Hits Unemployment.

New York, July 14 (A.P.).—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, urged President Hoover to call an industrial conference to maintain the present wage scale in an address today at the convention of the International Longshoremen's Association.

After mentioning what he called "serious social unrest" in coal mining regions and in textile districts of the south, he said:

"It is not good for a republic when workers are clashing with the police. We are now facing a third winter of unemployment. Our Nation has never been put to that test before." He said the present depression was worse than the panic of 1893.

Vallee's Mother Slowly Sinking

Litlte Hope Is Held That Parent Will Live Rest of Night.

Westbrook, Me., July 14 (U.P.).—Surrounded by her husband and her three children, Mrs. Katherine L. Vallee, invalid mother of Rudy Vallee, popular radio star, was near death at her home here tonight.

Rudy, who reached here with his brother William last night after a spectacular aerial race from New York, has been at his mother's side almost constantly. Other members of the family enter the sickroom quietly; but Mrs. Vallee, in a coma since a relapse suffered a few hours after her son's arrival, does not seem to recognize them.

Rudy's mother is suffering from a heart ailment and high blood pressure. Dr. Albert D'Arche issued a bulletin tonight saying his patient was sinking slowly. Her pulse is extremely weak, he said, and little hope was held that she would survive the night.

CRISIS TALK GAINS NEW SIGNIFICANCE

Britain Hopes Parley Friday of MacDonald, Henderson Will Aid Germany.

London, July 14 (A.P.).—The German financial crisis placed an entirely new significance today on the visit to Berlin that Prime Minister MacDonald and Foreign Secretary Henderson will make Friday.

Great Britain hopes the two cabinet members will be able to bring about a lessening of the tension in Germany, now looked on as becoming increasingly serious.

British interpretation of the action of the Bank for International Settlements in extending for three months its $10,000,000 credit to Germany tended today to the belief that at best it was only a measure of temporary relief.

In view of the German crisis, much interest was manifest in the departure today of Mr. Henderson, who went to Paris to talk with French government leaders before meeting Mr. MacDonald in Berlin Friday.

Greater Aid Seen.

Opinion was expressed in official circles that Germany hardly would emerge from her present crisis without greater aid from the outside than she has yet received.

This aid, it was said, might be withheld until even more drastic remedial measures have been put in effect by the Reich.

In addition to the suspension of several banks in various parts of Europe, a striking factor today was the unpopularity of the mark.

One large London bank said it could not accept marks during the present situation, and that it would adhere to that policy until the German status greatly bettered.

It was understood that all the other British banks were adopting a similar policy. One house with extensive dealings in German paper said it was not accepting marks, not so much because of the critical situation of Germany as because the German banks were not open and exchange dealings were therefore impossible.

In authoritative quarters it was believed the government would adopt the attitude that it was the turn of America and France to come to Germany's assistance with credit.

There was a strong disposition to blame the entire situation on the delay by other nations in accepting the Hoover proposal. Hope was expressed that the four-day delay in starting the conference of Young plan signatories would not have similar results.

This conference meets at the treasury Friday with the problem before it of adapting the Hoover plan to the Young plan.

The British invitation was for the meeting to start yesterday, but it was postponed at France's suggestion.

Paris, July 14 (A.P.).—Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson arrived from London this evening for a two-day stay before going to Berlin to return the visit to London of Chancellor Bruening and Foreign Minister Curtius in June.

Stimson's Arrival Near.

Mr. Henderson has made no effort to hide the fact that his visit to Paris before going to Berlin has the political purpose of reconciling the French and German views in regard to carrying out the Hoover war debt plan and to the extension of further financial aid to Germany.

Tomorrow he will be given a luncheon at the French foreign office by Aristide Briand, foreign minister. At that time he will have an opportunity to hear from Premier Laval, Finance Minister Flandin and M. Briand the exact position France has taken in regard to political guarantees from Germany in connection with financial aid for the Reich.

Col. Henry L. Stimson, American Secretary of State, will arrive in Paris tomorrow, while Mr. Henderson still is here, and will be in position to learn the French point of view regarding the coming disarmament conference. France's attitude has been set forth in a memorandum which will be handed to Mr. Henderson as president of the disarmament conference.

It is taken for granted that France is prepared to discuss world problems of every character with Mr. Henderson and Mr. Stimson from the point of view of one of three great powers, all of which have important interests overseas.

Currency of Germany Is Refused in London

London, July 14 (A.P.).—The effects of the German crisis were apparent today throughout Europe. The situation at a glance:

In London—British banks refused German currency. The stock markets closed weak.

Vienna—The Mercur Bank, which was controlled by the suspended Darmstaedter und National Bank of Berlin, closed its doors. The Boerse suspended trading in Hungarian stocks for three days.

Brussels—Reports from the borders of Belgium and Luxembourg told of thousands of Germans who were crossing over with their cash. Luxembourg suspended its marks exchange. At Ostend many German holiday makers were stranded.

Copenhagen—Thousands of tourists were without money when hotels, chauffeurs and shopkeepers refused to accept reichsmarks.

Warsaw—There were no signs of panic and the stock market showed only a small decline. Silesia was affected more than other sections of Poland, as several important business concerns there were financed by the Darmstaedter und National Bank.

Wood Thinks Democrats Would Engender Chaos

(Associated Press.)

Representative Wood (Republican), Indiana, said yesterday in a statement issued through the Republican national committee that differences among Democrats on broad public questions indicated there would be legislative and administrative chaos if the Democrats obtain control.

Mr. Wood cited as an example what he termed conflicting statements on the tariff by Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, and Senator George, of Georgia. He said Senator Robinson had announced that an effort would be made to reduce tariff rates when the next Congress convened and that Senator George had declared against any congressional revision.

FRANCE ALONE GAINS DEBT TRADE REVIVAL

Favorable Reaction in Other Countries Discounted in Weekly Report.

(Associated Press.)

Debt moratorium negotiations were reported yesterday by the Commerce Department to have produced a favorable reaction in France, but brought little uplight in business conditions in most other countries.

"The progress of the debt moratorium negotiations," said the department's weekly review, "produced a favorable reaction in France tending to relieve business tension. Commercial conditions, however, did not improve in June and labor difficulties continued.

"Except for seasonal increases in certain industries, Danish business showed little change throughout the last quarter, although the threat of serious trouble has been eliminated and the foreign trade balance is more favorable than last year.

"Business depression has continued to prevail in Spain and there has been a considerable degree of labor unrest.

"Portuguese business as yet shows no recovery from depression, but optimism has been increased by satisfactory crop reports, political tranquillity and the expectation of beneficial results from the currency stabilization program."

Optimism over favorable crop prospects was reported from Mexico. A more buoyant tone in Indian commercial circles was attributed to moratorium developments and there was a revival of trade activity in the Netherland East Indies.

Little change was reported in Greece, Canada, Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Haiti, Japan and the Philippines.

Miss Putnam Wed To Naval Officer

San Diego, Calif., July 14 (A.P.).—Lieut. William V. Deutermann, U. S. N., and Edwina Putnam, daughter of Lieut. Col. Russell B. Putnam, whose wedding Saturday was called off because the bridegroom failed to appear, were married by Chaplain Alfred Vogler late today.

The young couple immediately returned to the bride's home and received the blessing of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Putnam. Lieut. Col. Putnam said: "They are my children now, and we are all very happy that what seemed at first to be such a tragedy has come out all right."

Mrs. Putnam had said last night "there won't be any wedding now."

Lieut Deutermann returned from Van Nuys, Calif., yesterday and met Miss Putnam today. Shortly after noon they appeared at the county clerk's office and obtained a marriage license.

The great-great-grandmother is Mrs. Helen Craft, who observed her eighty-seventh birth anniversary on the same day little Arlene was 2.

foreign tutelage, we are masters of our fate."

Ample precautions were taken to prevent disorders. Troops, in colorful uniforms, were brought to Madrid from nearby barracks to line the streets as the cabinet passed from the presidential palace to the parliament building.

Radio Broadcast Abandoned.

The streets around the Parliament Building were heavily sanded so that the cavalry and mounted police might function without danger of their horses slipping.

Although an elaborate radio equipment had been installed to broadcast the entire procedure of the Assembly every night, it was thought that this might be provocative of arguments and conflicts among listeners beside loud speakers in cafes and bars throughout the country and it was finally decided to limit the broadcast.

Although tonight would be considered a cool night in Washington, for instance, the Assembly has decided to meet only from 6 p. m. to 2 a. m. as a precaution against the sweltering heat of Madrid midsummer days.

The first work of the Assembly was the election of Julian Besteiro, Socialist party leader, as president of the Cortes. The election was unanimous.

Sees Spain as Great Power.

New York, July 14 (A.P.).—Ambassador Salvador de Madariaga, of Spain, in an address tonight predicted that Spain, for the third time in history would become one of the great world powers.

Speaking at a reception to the Spanish colony of New York he voiced the belief that the spirit of Spain is essentially democratic.

"The revolution was a logical result of this deeply-rooted quality in the Spanish people," he said. "The monarchists themselves realized this before the revolt came to a head in the most humane governmental change within recent times."

He expressed the belief that order had been definitely established in the new republic.

Minority's Views On Tariff Sought

Senator Watson, in Letter, Asks Democrats to Be Specific.

(Associated Press.)

An open letter was addressed to Democratic senators yesterday by Senator Watson, of Indiana, asking them to specify the tariff changes they sought.

"If you prefer political to scientific revision, would you have Congress, for example, reduce the duties on long staple cotton, cotton goods, graphite, wheat, dairy products, vegetable oils and kaolin?" Senator Watson asked. "I specify these items, as I could specify hundreds of others, because, as I am sure you realize the tariff consists of items, not generalities. The time has passed for mere generalities. Now is the time to be specific."

First Effort Made to Cross Himalayas in Automobiles

Citroen-Haardt Trans-Asia Expedition Starts on Most Difficult Part of 13,000-Mile Journey, Radio Message to Geographic Society Says.

Headquarters of the National Geographic Society here received word yesterday that the Citroen-Haardt Trans-Asia motor car expedition, which is making the first attempt to cross the world's mightiest mountains by this means, has started on the most difficult section of the 13,000 mile journey across Asia crossing the Himalayas.

The radio message said that because of the obliteration of most of the mountain trail between Srinagar, capital of Kashmir, and Gilgit, by unprecedented rains the expedition is concentrating its efforts on getting over the mountains. All the cars are equipped with band drives, similar to those used on tanks, which enable them to climb extremely steep grades.

A supporting party made up of a large number of mountain ponies and 150 native bearers will follow the motor section of the expedition in a few days. A light advance party is preceding the motorized group. The three sections constitute the largest group ever permitted on the Gilgit road, which is maintained by the British and Kashmir governments primarily for military purposes.

The main expedition, which has just left Srinagar, plans to meet another group equipped with similar cars on the far side of the Himalayas in Chinese Turkestan, which has been traveling across plains and desert from Peiping, China. The China group has made good progress, although it has encountered minor difficulties crossing the Gobi Desert and the bandit-infested area.

The last report from this group stated that it had covered more than half the distance between Peiping and its destination, Kashgar, a trading center near the Kashmir and Russian borders. The two groups plan to merge at Kashgar and continue to China.

SWALLOWED TEETH COST SOLDIER'S LIFE

Septic Poisoning Victim Asked to Be Buried in Sweden.

Death won its 2,300-mile race with time and medical skill early yesterday, when Private Olaf Nelson, 30-year-old member of the Veterinary Corps of the Army, succumbed to septic poisoning at Walter Reed Hospital.

Nelson was rushed here Monday by plane from Fort Bliss, Texas, after surgeons there failed in four attempts to remove teeth and bridgework from his throat.

Walter Reed specialists Monday night made a fifth effort to loosen the obstacle held fast by four gold prongs in his esophagus. The obstruction could not be budged without violence. He died shortly before 7 a. m.

Asked Burial in Sweden.

Nelson, a son of Sweden, made a last request that he be buried in his native land, Walter Reed physicians said. The request was made to an El Paso minister before he began his northward trip by plane, they explained.

In a post mortem examination witnessed by about 40 doctors, the teeth were removed. The examination confirmed the staff's earlier conviction as to the futility of attempts to extricate the denture.

"It was just as though he had swallowed four fish hooks," one doctor explained.

Last night the hospital staff was waiting reply to a cable message to his mother in Sweden, apprising her of her son's strange death. Disposition of the body will wait on her reply, it was said.

The mother is Mrs. Kerstin Perrson. She lives at Fridlust, No. 2, Frenninge Wollajo, Sweden.

Hospital physicians could not confirm the report that Nelson has a 90-year-old father, C. O. Nelson, and a brother, Frederick Nelson, living in Clifton, Tex. They radioed Fort Bliss, Nelson's old post, for information on this point.

An additional wire was sent to Mrs. Elan Johnson, Nelson's only aunt, who lives in Irwin, Calif. Early last night no replies had been received to any of the messages.

Surgeon Suffers Injury.

Surgeon Gen. R. U. Patterson, who went to the hospital shortly after Nelson's arrival by plane Monday, said then that death appeared inevitable. The esophagus had been punctured in several places, he said, and septic infection already had set in.

Nelson swallowed the bridgework, containing two teeth fastened together by the two gold wires, while eating breakfast at Fort Bliss Saturday.

Lieut. F. G. Irving, of Kelly Field, who flew Nelson here, plans to take off today on a return flight to San Antonio, Tex. Maj. Daniel Franklin, who accompanied him here, and who performed the first three operations on Nelson, did not make known his plans. He was confined to the hospital yesterday suffering from a strained ankle received when he left the plane at Bolling Field.

AMERICAN OFFICIALS BECOME OPTIMISTIC

that more emphasis has been given it in this country than was warranted.

Germany, it is argued, does its foreign trade on more extended terms than any other country in the world. In the handling of that trade, exporters have adopted the practice of issuing acceptances against foreign trade bills and selling these to banks all over the world. The bills are stated in currencies of the country accepting the merchandise.

Considerable Amount Afloat.

Germany has a considerable amount of these bills afloat. They are secured by foreign trade operations and are self-liquidating. However, the Germans are in the habit of renewing these acceptances so that they may run as long as twelve months.

As the result of the situation in Germany prior to June 20, when the Hoover plan was broached, the people in Germany had started what is known as the flight of the mark. That is an inheritance from eight years ago when the value of the mark depreciated to practically nothing.

When conditions in Germany began to get panicky the Germans hurried all the more to get rid of the marks.

That created an intense strain on the exchange market and a feeling among holders of foreign trade acceptances that the situation in Germany was disturbing and in a good many instances the acceptances were presented for payment upon their date of expiration and there was not room to take renewals.

Thus there were two strains created on German finances—the flight of the mark from within Germany and the reaction abroad with respect to acceptances.

It is asserted that the presidential announcement on June 20 brought that state of feeling to an end and it remained sound for four or five days and the movement of exchange was normal. But the delays in coming to a conclusion as to adoption of the Hoover plan by France recreated the fears in Germany, the flight of the mark was resumed and the repreucussions abroad had a like effect upon foreign trade acceptances emanating from Germany.

Greece Agrees to Delay German Debt Payments

Athens, Greece, July 14 (A.P.).—The Greek government informed the British Ambasssador this afternoon that it is notifying the Bank for International Settlements of its consent to suspension of German reparations payments due tomorrow, but without acceptance of the Hoover moratorium proposal.

Installments due from Hungary also have been temporarily suspended. The opposition parties have signified their approval of the government's attitude.

Illinois Senator Praises Governor for Presidential Nominee in 1932.

Albany, July 14 (A.P.).—Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, and Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt lunched together today, and then had a long conference. Senator Lewis later said 1932 presidential candidacies were not discussed.

The senator, who has been promised support of Illinois for the Democratic nomination in 1932, said Gov. Roosevelt "has a strong following in all the Middle West."

He said the Democratic party should fight an offensive battle in 1932, calling its national convention ahead of that of the Republicans, and "declare where the evils of government now exist and in what way the party managers in power are responsible, throw them on the defensive and go to the people all over the Nation demanding that Democracy be put in power, that it may give relief from present conditions."

CONFERENCE BEGINS ON CLERK PERSONNEL

Effort to Encourage College Men in Federal Work Is Made in Minneapolis.

Plans of Thomas E. Campbell, head of the Civil Service Commission, and of Dr. L. J. O'Rourke, director of scientific research in personnel and administration of the commission, to bring the best brains of the Nation into the service of the Government got under way yesterday at a conference in Minneapolis, Minn.

Called by the University of Minnesota, and attended by responsible representatives of more than a score of the leading universities of the country, the conference is designed to discover how the universities and colleges of the Nation can best prepare their students for public service, not only with the Federal but with State, city, town and village governments.

There has been sharp criticism of the government service as a stagnant pool for the scientists and technical workers who enter it, and a remedy for the condition which justified this criticism is one of the aims of the inter-departmental personnel council appointed in April by President Hoover, who named Commissioner Campbell as chairman. The conference, which was begun at Minneapolis yesterday, is a part of the campaign of Mr. Campbell and Dr. O'Rourke to bring about a change.

Dr. O'Rourke announced at the conference that plans are in the making for a Nation-wide canvass of the universities and colleges to ascertain the attitude of students toward entering the employ of the Federal Government and public service generally.

The survey will be conducted by President Hoover's personnel council, but probably will be financed by private individuals or organizations.

Judge Tells Indian To Go to Oklahoma

Nabbed on Drunk Charge, Man Is Granted Wish to Return Home.

John Silver King, who described himself as a full-blood Indian from Oklahoma, was advised to live up to his role as "the vanishing American," insofar as Takoma Park, Md., is concerned, when he was haled before Judge A. L. Wilson charged with being drunk and disorderly yesterday.

Town Policeman Frank Lane, who arrested King, reported that he had gone around banging on doors at 4 a. m. and making whoopee in general. Brought before the court, Silver King said he would like to go back to his native Oklahoma, whereupon Judge Wilson suspended a 60-day sentence on condition that the Indian fulfill his desire.

When last seen the warrior was walking south on upper Georgia avenue.

Postal "Blacklist" Laid to Obscenity

Department Tells Why It Returned Money Sent to German.

(Associated Press.)

Replying to claims it maintained a "money order blacklist without authority," the Postoffice Department said yesterday it had returned to senders money orders addressed to Richard A. Giesecke, a Dresden, Germany, publisher, because he had sent pictures regarded as obscene through the American mails.

Gordon W. Moss, secretary of the National Council on Freedom from Censorship, had asked the department under what statute it "can censor money orders."

H. J. Donnelly, solicitor of the department, said a law permitting it to deny issuance of money orders was invoked against Giesecke in 1923.

The council said Giesecke had published Dr. Johannes Rutgers' book, "The Sexual Life in its Biological Significance," which was given a "clean bill of health" by a Seattle customs jury last April. Donnelly, however, said the ruling against the German publisher was on account of obscene pictures and not the Rutgers' book.

Sixth Marine Guidons Bear Snake's Emblem

Insignia emblazoned on the battle flags of Colonial troops in the early wars of this continent will henceforth also adorn the guidons of the Sixth Marine Brigade, District of Columbia Reserves.

APARTMENT ATTACK LAID TO POLICEMEN

for six months. I told him there was never any disorder around my apartment. He told me to shut my mouth.

"My husband heard him talking to me in this manner and told him that we were respectable people, and he didn't want him to talk to his wife that way."

She charged Jones then grabbed her husband by the throat and started to choke him, and "then hit him with brass knuckles, knocking him out and cutting him open."

Mrs. Sawyer said that both she and her little daughter tried to pull him away, 4-year-old Phylis grabbing the detective by the leg.

"He kicked her away with his foot," Mrs. Sawyer charged, "causing a bruise over her eye and a large black and blue mark across her body, caused by landing up against the steps where Jones had kicked her."

She further charged that "Jones, when he was in my room, smelt of liquor."

Attorney Mendelsohn took a written statement from 9-year-old Peggy Williams, who was in the Sawyer apartment at the time of the alleged attack. She gave similar testimony.

"They were cursing something terrible," she said. "They said words I never heard before."

Mr. Pesavage, Mr. Sawyer and Miss Williams were removed to the Tenth Precinct in at patrol wagon, where they were charged with disorderly conduct and using profane language. Last Saturday Judge Gus A. Schuldt dismissed the charges against them.

Pesavage made affidavit that Mr. Sawyer was "bleeding from cuts on the head" when he was taken out to the patrol wagon. Miss Williams charged that McCarty grabbed her coat and tore it when removing her to the wagon.

After striking Pesavage, she charged, McCarty told her:

"You get these knuckles if you don't watch out, and stuck the knuckles right up in front of my nose."

Her daughter's bank was the only thing missing from the apartment following the alleged robbery, she said. Mendelsohn charges the police allowed the man held for the robbery to leave the apartment unmolested.

Woodcock in Porto Rico To Enlarge Law Force

San Juan, Porto Rico, July 14 (A.P.).—United States Prohibition Commissioner A. W. W. Woodcock, who arrived here for an inspection of the Porto Rico dry law enforcement unit, said today the unit would be enlarged but that it would continue to depend upon the insular police for chief enforcement activity.

The chief difficulty in enlarging the Porto Rican unit, the commissioner said, was that there is no eligible list here from which to make appointments and he did not consider it advisable to send men from the United States.

Mason, Reported Heir To $900,000, Unmoved

Worcester, Mass., July 14 (A.P.). Apparent heir to $900,000, Henry Vann, foreman of the masonry work on the new Federal building construction job here, was too busy today to bother. He said he would investigate the matter in a few days.

When handed a telegram stating that a rich uncle had left him $900,000 and valuable timber lands in the West, Mr. Vann glanced at it nonchalantly, crunched the paper into a pocket and continued his work.

A Worcester newspaper made an effort to check the source of the wire from Kansas City, Mo., and was informed there was no record there of one McAllens, purported signer, and no record of such a bequest in the probate court.

Fort Myer Blast Peril Is Averted

Ammunition Taken Out as Big Crowd Watches $1,500 Blaze.

A fire of undetermined origin last night partially destroyed the equipment building at Fort Myer, Va., and came perilously near exploding several hundred rounds of ammunition before firemen from six volunteer companies conquered the flames.

When the fire was discovered the fire company at Fort Myer, aided by soldiers at the Army Post, removed most of the ammunition and other equipment, including valuable radio paraphernalia. The post firemen were aided by companies from Arlington, Clarendon, Ballston, Cherrydale, and Jefferson District.

Col. Harry N. Coates, commandant of the post, said last night that a board of inquiry would be called to determine the cause of the fire. He estimated that the flames did about $1,500 damage. They could be seen for several miles, and a large crowd rushed to the scene. Traffic was handled by the military police and the Arlington County policemen.

BUY-AT-HOME MOVE WILL BE EXTENDED

Council Plans to Include All Businesses in Organization.

Plans for enlargement of the Buy in Washington Council to include representatives of every type of business in the city will be formulated by a committee appointed at a luncheon meeting of the council yesterday at the Willard Hotel.

The committee will meet with E. J. Murphy, president of the council, next Tuesday to formulate a campaign to increase the council to city-wide proportions. Purposes and objectives of the council will be told the local business world through publicity and advertising.

A vote of appreciation was given the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. for its action in calling only on Washington contractors for estimates for new buildings.

The Washington Gas Light Co. was criticized for the method in which contracts were awarded for construction of a new gas tank. Favoring out-tof-town contractors in furnishing the labor and supplies for the improvement was condemned as being out of harmony with the council's policy of patronizing local business.

A general vote of commendation was given the Public Utilities Commission for its "consistent support" of Washington business.

The council pledged its support to the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. in its efforts to obtain a site in Washington for a new bakery. A letter was drawn up commending the company for its decision to employ local labor and to keep its rates on a par with those prevailing in the District.

Church Carnival Has Exciting End

Boy Falls Off Chairplane and Fire Engines Put Out Gas Blaze.

The carnival which Bradburn Memorial Methodist Church has been holding in a vacant lot at Thirteenth and K streets southeast came to a close last night with raucous fanfare provided by police, fire and ambulance sirens.

Ten-year-old Charles Lloyd, of 1111 I street southeast, started the emergency vehicle parade when he fell 20 feet to the ground from the "chairplane," an amusement device, and received a possible fracture of the arm and cuts on the face.

Scarcely had he been taken to Casualty Hospital than fire engines were sent to the scene to extinguish a blaze caused when a cigarette was thrown on a small quantity of gasoline which had been spilled during the process of filling the ferris wheel fuel tank. The fire was put out with little damage.

WHEAT MEN TO ASK DEBTS MORATORIUM

Farmers Despair Over Low Prices; To Seek Respite From Collectors.

Kansas City, July 14 (A.P.).—A debt moratorium for wheat farmers is being proposed in the Southwest where harvest time—usually the season of plenty—finds farmers in despair over the unprecedented low prices offered for their crops.

Instead of to the Government, sponsors of the moratorium are looking to bankers, farm implement companies and merchants to give them a respite from the bill collector.

The hope is that if creditors will hold off even 30 days, or better, 60 or 90 days, wheat prices can be increased by saving the farmer from the necessity of selling his product at existing prices, which are as low as 25 cents a bushel at some country marketing points.

At Enid, Okla., tomorrow night representatives of farm organizations will meet with bankers and implement company officials to ask that loan collections not be pushed for a month or longer. E. N. Puckett, manager of the Union Equity Cooperative Exchange, and John Manley, manager of the Oklahoma wheat growers, called the meeting.

Bankers to Aid Move.

A similar movement was under way at Larned, Kans., initiated by the local Chamber of Commerce. Those in charge of the Enid meeting said business and farm organizations in both Kansas and Texas would be asked to join the moratorium plan.

Representative bankers have announced they are willing to cooperate in any move to relieve the farmers, but are not offering any advice as to withholding the sale of crops.

In response to an inquiry from a Salina, Kans., banker, Alexander Legge, executive of the International Harvester Co. and former head of the Federal Farm Board, said several days ago that agents of his company had been instructed not to force farmers to sell on a depressed market to meet payments on farm machinery, but that each case would have to be considered on its merits.

Many farmers have piled at least part of their wheat on the ground for storage, but others have been forced to sell.

Some Plow Grain Under.

A report to the Amarillo, Tex., Daily News from Guymon, Okla., said many farmers were refusing to harvest their grain and a few were plowing it under.

"In the majority of cases the wheat crop is mortgaged, and the farmers have borrowed additional money for harvest," the message said. "Some of the farmers have advised mortgage holders to come get it out of the fields if you want it.' In other instances, machinery firms have tied up the wheat at elevators."

Another illustration of the temper of some growers was given at Bucklin, Kans. Forrest Kennett opened the end-gate of his truck and spilled a load of wheat on the street, refusing to accept 27 cents a bushel. His truck was decorated with signs representing the "Kansas wheat farmer" and the "Farm Board" as jackasses.

Reduced freight rates on grain ordered into effect by the Interstate Commerce Commission August 1 are expected to be of aid to farmers who sell after that date.

E. N. Puckett, at Enid, said the new shipping rate, averaging 4½ cents a bushel in that section "is bound to benefit the farmers even if the price does not increase."

Monarchist Flag Flies In Madrid by Mistake

Madrid, July 14 (A.P.).—The old monarchist flag floated for 5 minutes today above the ministry of the interior.

A veteran porter, intending to hoist the Republican tricolor, absent-mindedly ran up the monarchist emblem. Immediately the Puerta del Sol, the largest and busiest plaza in Madrid, was filled with a hooting, jeering crowd.

The mistake was quickly rectified amid Republican cheers.

Coolidge Returns to Farm And Poses With Fishing Rod

Former President Grants Every Request of Photographer in Two-Hour Visit; Even Uncovers His Baby Carriage, 59 Years Old.

Plymouth, Vt., July 14 (A.P.).—A group of friends whom he had not seen since 1923 visited Calvin Coolidge today, and the routine followed when he, as Vice President, spent his vacation here was carried out again. The friends were news photographers.

Eight years ago, prior to his serving as President of the United States, Mr. Coolidge traveled about his farm, visited his cheese factory and posed with his Vermont neighbors on the steps of the house where he was born.

The same photographers who were present called again today and the former President spent two hours with them, granting their every request.

He sat atop the hay rake while cameras clicked. He donned his rubber boots and took his fishing rod in hand as photographic plates recorded his every move. He even rummaged through a storeroom and uncovered a baby carriage, 59 years old, in which he himself had ridden when a baby.

Mrs. Coolidge and Tim, their dog, also took part in the proceedings which lasted for two hours.

While the fishing picture was being taken, Mr. Coolidge not only exhibited his skill with the rod, but also his consideration for small fish. On his third cast, a 6-inch trout grabbed for the fly used for bait. Instead of making the catch, the former President dragged the fly away slowly and withdrew his line from the stream.

"Why," asked the photographers in unison, "didn't you catch him?"

The answer was: "I don't want him."

FALL TO SERVE YEAR IN SANTA FE PRISON

Mitchell Makes Selection After Judge Adds One Day to Term.

(Associated Press.)

Albert Bacon Fall, Secretary of the Interior in the Harding administration, will serve his sentence of a year and a day in the penitentiary at Santa Fe, N. Mex., his home State.

The New Mexico prison was chosen yesterday by Attorney General Mitchell after Justice Bailey, of the District of Columbia Supreme Court, had added a day to Fall's jail sentence of a year.

The change was made to enable the Attorney General to choose a prison more suitable to the health of the former cabinet officer than the District of Columbia jail.

Fall is expected to go to the penitentiary as soon as the warrant for his commitment is sent to a United States marshal or prison officials.

Fall served as senator from New Mexico before becoming Secretary of the Interior and was a Territorial judge before New Mexico became a State. He was convicted in October, 1929, of accepting a bribe from Edward L. Doheny, oil operator, for the lease of the Elk Hills (Calif.) naval reserve to a Doheney company.

El Paso, Tex., July 14 (A.P.).—Albert B. Fall said today he had made no plans as to when he would leave for the State penitentiary at Santa Fe, N. Mex. He received information that the Santa Fe prison had been chosen for service of his sentence of a year and a day with little comment.

Members of his family were deeply distressed.

Airman Williams Departs for U. S.

Ends Tour Enlisting Fliers for Cleveland Show; Luncheon Guest.

Southampton, England, July 14 (A. P.).—Lieut. Alford Williams, American flier, completed his European tour enlisting prominent aviators for Cleveland's air week in August, and sailed on the Leviathan today.

He was entertained by the British Schneider trophy team at luncheon. Williams said of his recruits, "They will be the most outstanding group of aviators that ever visited America at one time."

"We in America," he said, "are determined to make aviation international, for international aviation is a great factor in world peace." Immediately after the Leviathan sailed, British fliers, including Capt. O. H. Orlebar, flight squadron leader, motored to Calshot, where they took up high-speed airplanes and flew over the ship as it steamed away.

Weather Holds Up Flight to Hungary

Magyar and Endres May Be Arrested There as Propagandists.

Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, July 14 (U.P.).—Bad weather again today held up the departure of Alexander Magyar and George Endres, Hungarian aviators, for Budapest in their monoplane, Justice for Hungary.

Reports were circulated here that, because of the propagandist nature of the flight, the airmen may be taken into custody on their arrival in their native land. Magyar and Endres are making the trip, they say, to call attention to injustices which they feel the country has suffered since the Treaty of the Trianon. Reports here said it was feared the project would precipitate communistic demonstrations.

The Justice for Hungary arrived last night after a difficult flight through fog from Roosevelt Field, N. Y. The pilots had hoped to start across the Atlantic this morning.

Large Military Funeral Is Given Officers Who Died in Crash.

More than 5,000 persons, about half of them soldiers and half workers, stood in the hall of the Central House of the Red Army while high Soviet officials eulogized the dead. The victims were lying in State, watched over by a guard of honor.

After the ceremony there was a procession through the driving rain to the crematorium. In line were twenty armored tanks and three pieces of light artillery, which were preceded by a group of friends and relatives bearing life-sized portraits of the victims and large wreaths.

Curtis Still Is Silent On Plan For 1932 Race

(Associated Press.)

Vice President Curtis said yesterday he still was withholding decision whether to be a candidate for reelection next year or to run instead for his old place in the Senate from Kansas.

Some of Mr. Curtis' friends who have talked with him since he returned from a trip home believed he is inclined at present to choose a Senate candidacy. They have received the impression, however, that he will make no actual decision until next fall.

GAS CUT, STOCK LINK IS DENIED IN KANSAS

Official Admits He Knew of Governor's Negotiations Through Papers.

Topeka, Kans., July 14 (A.P.).—Sweeping denial of any connection between failure of Gov. Harry H. Woodring's negotiations for a gas rate cut in Kansas and suspension of Cities Service Co. stocks, except first preferred, from the right of sale in the State was made today by Carl Newcomer, assistant State bank commissioner.

Newcomer was the first witness called after a two-judge court which is hearing the company's suit to enjoin enforcement of the stock order ruled that the suspension action, taken by the banking department early in the month, was void for the reason a law under which the order was made was unconstitutional.

Admits He Knew of Plans.

Under direct examination by Robert Stone, of Cities Service counsel, Newcomer admitted that at the time he issued the order under which the department withdrew its approval of the company's stocks listed on the New York curb, except its first preferred, he knew through newspaper accounts of Gov. Woodring's negotiations.

He denied, however, that at the time the order was issued he knew representatives of Henry L. Doherty, president of the Cities Service Co., which through a string of subsidiaries, serves more than 100 cities in the State, had terminated negotiations with Woodring, who had demanded a reduction from 40 to 30 cents a 1,000 cubic feet in the city gas rate charged to local distributing companies.

New York, July 14 (A.P.).—An official statement issued at the offices of Cities Service Co. today said the decision of the Kansas District Court in its case against the Kansas State Banking Department confirmed Henry L. Doherty's charge that the attempt to bar the sale of Cities Service securities in Kansas was based upon considerations other than the merit of the securities.

Made Clear In Argument.

"There was no reason to believe that the ban on our securities would be upheld," the statement said. "This was made clear in the legal arguments at the injunction hearing yesterday when the Kansas attorney general, in attempting to defend the arbitrary act of the commissioner, states that City Service stock had not been barred from the State.

"All the evidence points to the fact that the hand of the Kansas City Star, Gov. Woodring, and other politicians it controls, are back of this fight. The president of the Kansas City Star Co. has openly admitted that his son-in-law is engaged in the gas business."

Kansas City, Mo., July 14 (A.P.).—George B. Longan, president of the Kansas City Star Co., said today, "The charge that the Star or any of its executives is directly or indirectly interested in any gas company whatever is preposterous and untrue."

His statement was in reply to one issued from the New York offices of the Cities Service Co., whose president, Henry L. Doherty, has filed a $12,000,000 libel suit against the Star in connection with gas-rate litigation in Kansas.

New Dirigible Dedicated.

Akron, Ohio, July 14 (A.P.).—Akron's new blimp Columbia, which replaces the Vigilant, was christened at municipal airport today by Mrs. Fred M. Harpham, wife of a tire company executive, who broke a bottle of liquid air over the hand rail of the ship.

TOKYO PLANE CRASH BLAMED ON MOTOR

French Airmen to Depart by Train Tomorrow on Trip to Moscow.

Irkutak, Siberia, July 14 (U.P.).—Joseph Le Brix, Marcel Doret and their mechanic, Mesmin, will catch the trans-Siberian express for Moscow, Thursday, carrying the motor instruments from their wrecked monoplane Hyphen, but leaving the rest of the craft where it fell on its way from Paris to Tokyo.

Their forced descent nea Shebarta, with about two-thirds of their flight safely completed, was due to engine failure, according to word received today. At 10:30 p. m., when they were about 300 miles west of Irkutak, the motor stopped and both pilots took to their parachutes.

Mesmin remained with the craft, which struck the ground with great force, breaking off the motor and damaging the wings. The mechanic and one of the pilots suffered injuries which were not serious. Local authorities, who had been on the lookout on instructions from Moscow, gave prompt aid.

One message said that a storm had been encountered, but further word indicated that the engine was solely to blame for the forced descent.

For a time it was anticipated that the fliers would return to Moscow by a Soviet airplane, but it was subsequently decided to take the express train.

The Hyphen took off from Le Bourget early Sunday and followed the course taken by Harold Gatty and Wiley Post in their record-breaking round-the-world flight. It had been expected that if the trip to Tokyo, a distance of 6,200 miles, were accomplished successfully, the Hyphen might continue on around the world.

Naval Tug Draws Near Ship That Lost Propeller

San Francisco, July 14 (A.P.).—The Matson Co.'s freighter Golden Cloud, which dropped her propeller 200 miles west of Honolulu yesterday, drifted without danger today awaiting the arrival of the United States Navy tugboat Sunnadien to tow her to Honolulu.

Radio messages to the Matson Line said the Sunnadien was nearing the Golden Cloud, which was rolling in somewhat calmer water than yesterday's rough sea. The freighter was bound from Australia to Honolulu, with a crew of 35 and three passengers.

Rail Rates on Tobacco Are Found Reasonable

(Associated Press.)

Examiner Disque recommended to the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday that it find rates on tobacco in less than carloads from producing points in North Carolina and Virginia to Southern destinations reasonable.

The principal tobacco manufacturers and the Tobacco Merchants Association of the United States last November complained rates were too high. The examiner held that the cost of handling and other expense factors warranted the present rate change.

Heavy Bonus Receipts Laid to Razor Board

Boston, July 14 (A.P.).—Evidence that three former directors of the Gillette Safety Razor Co. had been voted bonuses of $140,000 each between 1928 and 1929 was introduced today in the trial of the $21,000,000 suit brought by minority stockholders against certain of the directors.

The three who were alleged to have received the large bonuses were Frank J. Fahey, Ralph E. Thompson and Thomas W. Ikelman. Records were introduced to show that in 1927 Fahey's salary was fixed at $100,000, Pelhan's at $85,000 and Thompson's at $80,000, and that they were to receive 3 per cent bonuses on annual net earnings of more than $18,000,000.

LIQUOR MOTIVE SEEN IN ENVOY'S ROBBERY

German Aid's Home Entered by Thieves in Absence of Diplomat.

Police were trying to establish last night whether any legation liquor had been stolen from the home of Alexander von Wuthenau, secretary of the German Embassy, by thieves who entered the place yesterday.

No one was at home at the time that the house at 3812 Warren street northwest was entered by smashing through a basement door and a locked window.

An anonymous call by a man to the Fourteenth Precinct notified police of the housebreaking. Police have been unable to ascertain whether anything of value is missing. Herr von Wuthenau is said to be en route to Germany.

Sergt. W. P. Barnes was informed that Herr von Wuthenau shares his home with a friend, who is now vacationing at a Virginia resort. Police intend to have this friend of the legation official check the property to determine if anything is missing.

The incident yesterday is the second in two months in which a foreign legation has been entered by thieves. The first occurred at the Legation of El Salvador, where Dr. Carlos Leiva, Minister of El Salvador, was badly beaten when he grappled with liquor thieves whom he surprised in his home.

joining Mrs. Macdonald's, were awakened by the choking fumes. They were taken to the hospital.

Meanwhile, most of the other tenants in the building either had fled to the street or were leaning out their apartment windows, gasping for air.

Before being forced to leave the building, the Chapdelaines are said to have suspended their child from the window to get air.

Although the refrigerator connection in Mrs. Macdonald's suite was repaired about half an hour after the rescue squad arrived, the gas seeped through the structure, especially the fourth and fifth floors, to such an extent that every tenant soon was ordered to leave.

The residents, most of them clad in pajamas and night dress, were taken from their rooms to the ground floor by Mrs. Anderson, who disregarded all thoughts of personal safety to bring them down the elevator.

At an early hour today, orders were given that the first, second and third floors might be reoccupied, but that none of the residents was to return to the fourth and fifth stories. Few of them, however, chose to return, electing, instead, to spend the remainder of the night with friends or go to Rock Creek Park, nearby, and sleep, thus escaping the heat under the watchful supervision of the park police.

GERMAN AID

MAN AND BOY ADMIT BURNING RESIDENCE

Walter Benson, 22, in Jail, Implicated by Pier, 15, Police Say.

Two Potomac youths yesterday confessed to Chief of Police Alvie A. Moxley that they had set fire to the home of Jack Benson, near Potomac, the night of April 25. The youths declared in their confessions that they placed boards and paper against woodwork and then saturated them with kerosene.

Walter R. Benson, 22 years old, who is serving a sentence in the county jail following a wild ride Sunday a week ago, in which four county policemen chased him on a 50-mile jaunt through the county, and William Pier, 15 years old, were charged with arson in warrants sworn out by Moxley. They were arrested by Sergt. Roy Bodmer, in charge of police headquarters at Rockville, acting on a tip.

The pair was questioned at length by Chief Moxley, and the Pier boy finally broke down and confessed. He said that Benson told him his uncle had made him mad, and he was going to burn the house down. He detailed how they had arranged the bonfire, and said that he had lighted the fire on Benson's orders. They then left the dwelling, he said. The house, a two-story frame structure, burned to the ground.

The house was owned by John Hill, but was occupied by Jack Benson, who is Walter Benson's uncle. The Benson youth is serving a sentence of nine months in jail, imposed by Judge Charles W. Woodward in Rockville Police Court. The pair will be arraigned in Police Court Tuesday on the arson charge.

Train, Drowning Cause Two Deaths

Grottoes Man Is Killed by Freight; Another Loses Life in River.

Harrisonburg, Va., July 14.—Two men met death in East Rockingham today, one by drowning and the other by being struck by a Norfolk & Western freight train.

Thomas Via, 21, of Mooremans River, Albemarle County, was drowned at the junction of the North and South branches of the Shenandoah River, at Port Republic. He was wading with a party of friends when he slipped from a rock ledge and plunged into water over his head. He could not swim. Efforts to locate the body had not been successful late today.

Via's drowning was the first in the Shenandoah Valley this summer.

George Grim, 38, of Grottoes, was killed early today by a freight train while he was walking from the home of a relative near Harriston. The tragedy was not revealed until section hands found the mutilated body this morning. Grim leaves a widow and three children. Funeral services will be held at Mill Creek Church tomorrow.

IRISHWOMAN DEAD HERE AT AGE OF 105

mained at home to nurse to health an ill younger brother, Patrick. With his convalescence she took ship to America with Rosa Murphy, a cousin.

Patrick, the brother, later came to the United States and when the Civil War began joined the forces of the North. He was killed in the fighting south of Richmond and Mrs. Kelly married, living in Richmond and sympathetic with the cause of the South, remained unaware of his fate until years after the war.

Leaving Richmond when Grant captured the Southern capital, Mrs. Kelly and two of her children made their way with a party of other refugees to Baltimore by an arduous trip in wagons, which were ferried over the lower Potomac in barges.

Many are the tales she has told her other children—she had eleven in all—and grandchildren of the Union soldiers pillaging her Richmond household, ripping the furnishings with bayonets and rifling the food supplies, and the hardships encountered on the tedious wagon trip.

Mrs. Kelly came to Washington to spend her last days fifteen years ago, her children and grandchildren scattered over the land. Quite a large group of her offspring, however, live here. Until she became ill several weeks ago, the aged woman retained all her faculties, being able to sew and read without aid of spectacles. She took a hearty interest in everything that went on and scanned newspapers avidly, her children say.

Automobiles were the object of Mrs. Kelly's particular admiration. Her daughter said last night that her mother, who always displayed a healthy appetite, would "rather ride in an automobile than eat." They had looked forward to arranging an airplane ride for Mrs. Kelly, her relatives indicated, she having also exhibited considerable interest in aviation, especially during the transoceanic flights.

On national and international affairs and politics, Mrs. Kelly always strove to keep well posted. During the years prior to prohibition and since she is said to have evinced a strong disapproval of the dry movement, believing it not to be a measure for the improvement of the country.

Her memory was exceptionally keen, according to both her children and grandchildren, who said she could "spin" yarn after yarn of her experiences in the "ould country" as well as in the new. Often she referred, they said, to "Big Winds" of Ireland, famous in poem and story.

Another of her favorite stories was of her voyage to this country when she was 15. The ship sprung a leak a few days out of port and was compelled to return to harbor. This commenced a series of mishaps for the vessel. Topping them off, smallpox broke out on the ship and Mrs. Kelly, unaffected by the scourge, fell to with a will, nursing the stricken.

Only four of her children are surviving. They are James J. Kelly, Mrs. M. G. McDonough and Mrs. Mamie Heindl, of this city, and William J. Kelly, of Louisville, Ky. She has fourteen grandchildren and twelve great-grandchildren, several of whom live here.

Mrs. Kelly will be buried in Mount Calvary Cemetery, Richmond, Va., beside her husband. The body will be taken to the Virginia capital tomorrow morning, with service prior to interment at Sacred Heart Cathedral in Richmond.

GERMANY'S RESPONSIBILITY.

Conditions in Germany have eased considerably, but the effect of the financial crisis is beginning to be felt in other Central European nations. The World Bank rushed to Germnay's rescue, and there seems to be little question that leading European banks, assisted by American capital, will see Germany safely through this crucial period. In the meantime German banks remain closed and the rush to obtain foreign money is abated.

Indications from several quarters suggest that the seriousness of the situation has been overemphasized. Germany has magnified its woes in order to bring all the world to its aid. Every creditor nation has agreed to forego payments from the Reich during the coming year in accordance with President Hoover's moratorium. German leaders doubtless thought that the world was in a relenting mood and made the most of it. The financial crisis seems to have been inflated to bring Germany greater aid from the outside. Conditions have been represented to be considerably worse than they are.

Results from this attitude of the German government have been unfortunate. Confidence of the German people has been shaken. Other people of Central Europe have begun to sense the approach of panic. Probably the German government did not foresee that its emphasis of the crisis would weaken its currency, frighten credit away and accentuate the country's financial difficulties. At any rate, that result is apparent now. Germany must not only bolster up its finances, but must again inspire the people with confidence in the stability of the government and the banks. It appears that if the situation should get beyond control it will be a result of panic psychology and not because of a lack of credit from abroad.

Why does not the government prevent the shipment of gold and other forms of capital from the country? Twice in the last ten years the government has found it necessary to take such steps. If Germany shows a disposition to set its own house in order and to cooperate with other nations in averting the crisis there seems to be no reason for alarm. The government can not afford to let the situation get any worse merely to impress foreign nations with Germany's need for aid.

Germany was unquestionably strengthened by President Hoover's moratorium. The successful negotiation of that concession to the Reich should strengthen the Bruening cabinet against the onslaught of the radicals. It should encourage them to strike out boldly, to adopt drastic measures to restore financial stability. If Germany expects cooperation from other nations in this crisis a willingness to devote its full energies to the work of stabilization must be manifest.

CONSUMERS' COOPERATIVES.

Cooperative buying and selling throughout the world in the last few years have assumed gigantic proportions. At the last Cooperative Congress 55,000,000 people were represented by delegates from the various producers' and consumers' organizations. The purpose of the convention was to discuss action against international trade restrictions.

The British Cooperative Wholesale Society has 6,000,000 members, owns 114 mills and factories, as well as coal mines, plantations, shipping, a bank and an insurance company, and does a business of $1,731,000,000 a year. So important is this organization that the government has given it a place on the empire marketing board.

The three general divisions of the cooperative movement are: First, producers banded together for marketing what they grow; second, consumers cooperating in buying what they eat, wear and use, and third, wholesale purchasing and manufacturing of goods to stock the stores run by the consumers' societies. In Russia this system is enforced by the Soviet government, yet it is of interest to see the extent of its growth under private ownership in other countries.

Germany counts 3,000,000 members in its cooperatives, and France has 2,500,000. Italy now claims to have a cooperative society that is free of political interference, which has established a large number of stores. Austria has organized the cooperative system more extensively than any country except, of course, Russia. Belgium, Holland, Sweden, Norway, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and other countries have established similar organizations.

The Argentine Republic is the only South American country to have entered this field to any marked extent, while China, despite its civil war, has branches of the Chinese Cooperative Union in all its principal centers. In the United States organization of distributive cooperation is still in its early stages. There are some 155 societies, with an individual membership of about 77,000. The greatest obstacle in the way of its progress here has been the difficulty of obtaining supplies.

CONTROL OF NARCOTICS.

Following eight weeks of negotiations at Geneva by fifty-seven national delegations a convention for the limitation of narcotic drug manufacture has been agreed upon. Many difficult questions arose among the delegates representing nations with widely differing ideals and interests in the production, manufacture and distribution of narcotics.

Twenty-eight countries, four more than enough to put it into effect, signed the convention on Monday. The United States delegates, upon receipt of instructions regarding reservaitons, is expected to sign this week. China and Poland will probably sign also.

While by no means perfect, nor embodying all the restrictions the American delegates desired to see incorporated, the convention appears to be a constructive step. The manufacture of narcotic drugs is limited for the first time and codein is put under international control, while heroin is declared as dangerous as morphine and its exportation prohibited.

Another important innovation is the control of raw material destined for factories to avoid production of surplus stocks. Following an American proposal, newly created drugs will not be allowed to enter illicit traffic. The intent of the convention in general is a full accounting of narcotic production which may be of great value to governments in suppressing illegal sales.

The opinion of the British delegates expresses the belief that if the governments will apply the convention in the spirit in which it was drafted it was certain that the work would be useful and lasting. Senator Louis de Brouckere, of Belgium, chairman of the sessions, announced it as his judgment that the congress had evolved the first strict convention establishing world control of the manufacture of dangerous narcotic drugs.

Whether this convention will prove to be more effective in curtailing the "dope" traffic remains to be seen. It is necessarily a compromise. The American delegates were not able to secure agreement to all the more drastic measures they proposed. The United States leads the world in its desire to abolish the curse of narcotics. But obviously this country can not accomplish that task until all other nations are willing to cooperate. Even though disappointed in its high hopes, the American delegation showed good judgment in taking what it could get.

The effectiveness of this convention, like all other international agreements, will depend upon the sincerity of the parties entering into it. The illicit drug trade can not be abolished until all nations cooperate against it.

DR. HALL'S CHARGES.

It is well that Secretary Lamont has decided to investigate the controversy that has arisen over data prepared by Dr. Ray O. Hall for the Department of Commerce report on the balance of international payments. Until the matter has been thoroughly investigated the public will do well to withhold judgment. Compilation of the figures on which this report is based is extremely technical. The public ought not to be misled by wild charges.

Dr. Hall's statement that the department's report was distorted is a serious accusation. It is the duty of the department to lay the facts before the country and not to interpret them in what may seem to be a favorable light for one party or the other. But it is quite probable that Dr. Hall himself and not the department was biased in his views as to how the data he gathered should be used. It seems to be a question as to whether Dr. Hall or the whole department is out of step.

A field worker in the Interior Department recently published extravagant charges against his superiors. A thorough investigation was conducted and his accusations proved to be without foundation. False charges against the integrity of Government officials can not be made without returning to plague the accusers. Dr. Klein's investigation will bring out the facts of this controversy. If this is another attempt to create a sensation out of nothing, Dr. Hall can look forward to an ignominious failure.

SHIP LINES HARD PRESSED.

The number of passengers east and west bound across the Atlantic between January 1 and July 3 this year was fewer by 127,000 than the number who crossed during the like period of 1930. So great has been the falling off in transatlantic passenger traffic that several of the lines have cut the schedules of sailings and those which are still operating report heavy and continuous losses.

Last week there was a meeting in Paris of the North Atlantic Shipping Conference for the purpose of devising means by which Europeans as well as Americans may be induced to travel the sea routes to vacation lands. It was proposed to offer the inducement in the form of a 30 per cent reduction in passenger rates. But the conference adjourned until July 28 without having reached a definite agreement. In the meantime the White Star and Cunard Lines have proposed a cut of 20 per cent in transatlantic rates, and it is believed that if the Paris conference fails to agree upon the greater reduction it will at least adopt the proposal of the two principal British lines. Therefore, those who contemplate a voyage to "the other side" at any time during the remainder of the season of 1931 may have the opportunity to save at least one-fifth of the cost of the journey.

In the meantime the Shipping Board is endeavoring to reach a solution of the problem as to what shall be done with the United States Lines. The Chapman Corporation, which purchased the United States Lines and the American Merchant Line offers to return the former to the Shipping Board and to continue operation of the lines under the "lump sum" plan. At the same time it asks to be allowed to retain the fleet of passenger and cargo vessels known as the American Merchant Line, because those smaller craft have been uniformly profitable ever since they were acquired.

The Shipping Board is unalterably opposed to the recapture of the holdings of the Chapman syndicate. The board is endeavoring to dispose of all the vessels remaining under its ownership, and unless some way can be devised to meet the situation and to protect the Champan company it is probable that the Leviathan, the Republic, the George Washington and the rest of the United States Lines fleet will pass into the hands of the International Mercantile Marine-Roosevelt Corporation, provided the International should first divest itself of all connection with the ownership of the several foreign flag lines.

The Chapman company has paid into the treasury of the Shipping Board approximately 25 per cent of the contract price, $16,032,000, for the eleven vessels which comprise the fleets of the United States Lines and the American Merchant Line, and besides have paid more than $2,500,000 toward the construction cost of the two new 30,000-ton liners under construction in the yards of the New York Shipbuilding Co. in Camden, N. J. The contract price of these is $20,000,000, and unless there is a break in the financial clouds it is probable that the Shipping Board will be compelled to provide for the completion of these vessels.

In the meantime President Herberman, of the Export Line, announces that the fourth and last of the 8,700-ton ships of that line to be launched in the Camden yards will sail on her maiden voyage for Alexandria and Mediterranean ports on August 11, and that hereafter a fortnightly schedule will be maintained to the Mediterranean and Near East ports.

DISARMAMENT TRIANGLE

From the Christian Science Monitor.

President Hoover's advice that the world should give "solemn thought" to the question of competitive armaments during the year of respite from war debts seems to have struck a responsive chord on both sides of the Atlantic. It is well that this is so, for, though the conference on limitation of armaments is called for next February, the thoughts both of statesmen and peoples have hitherto not seemed fully awake to the necessity of doing something. Everyone has been more interested in calling upon the other fellow to disarm first than in saying what he himself is prepared to do.

The fact of the situation today is that the nations are not yet agreed either as to the extent to which limitation of armaments should be carried or the methods by which it is to be secured. A draft convention, prepared after strenuous years of work, leaves blank spaces for the figures and embodies several different methods of approach to the main problem. Before next February the blanks should in large measure be filled and the rival methods combined and coordinated.

The three rival methods which have to be combined are limitation of expenditure, of personnel and of materiel. Statesmen of some countries pin their faith to one of these methods, those of others have pledged themselves to another. It may readily be shown that none of the three methods is sufficient by itself. For example, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, in a speech before the House of Commons, gave illuminating figures tracing how British naval expenditure had decreased between 1914 and 1924, and again between 1924 and 1931. He also told of a similar reduction in Great Britain's naval personnel.

There is, of course, no disputing the fact that the British navy is far less powerful now than in 1914. But, in full accord with the Washington Naval Treaty, two powerful battleships and several cruisers have been added since 1924. Obviously, therefore, neither limitation of personnel nor of expenditure gives a complete picture.

Similarly with limitation of materiel. By the Treaty of Versailles, Germany is forbidden to build any naval vessels of more than 10,000 tons. Accordingly, she spared no expense in producing a 10,000-ton supership immeasurably superior to every other ship of the same size afloat. The result, known popularly as the "pocket battleship," is one of the main reasons that France is insisting on building two new battleships, thus endangering the naval agreement negotiated in London last year.

It would be easy to multiply instances of this kind. France is spending more today on armaments than in 1924. But the strength of its standing army is down by about 100,000. Great Britain is spending less, but the figures of personnel in the standing army are slightly higher, and so are those of its air force. No one would ascribe aggressive designs to Great Britain or France on account of these facts, but they certainly indicate the prime necessity of statesmen getting down to business now if the conference next February is to succeed.

There is no difficulty about getting at the figures. The legislature of every country naturally wants to know how the nation's money is being spent, and practically every nation therefore publishes full details of its expenditures on armaments. For the last seven years the League of Nations has printed this information in a volume known as the Armaments Year-Book, which anyone may buy. Almost all the information regarding the armed forces of the United States forwarded to the league on June 5 by Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of State, is to be found here—plus the figures of the National Guard, which Mr. Stimson omitted because this force is "not available to the Federal Government without measures of mobilization."

From the point of view of the public, there are almost too many facts available. Much bandying of armaments statistics is liable to make the man in the street bewildered. What the public of every country needs to be assured of by statesmen is that there will be an all-round limitation, or better, reduction—that the expenditure on armaments will permit no navies of superships, and that there shall be a definite limit set to the number of trained fighters, as well as to the amount of materiel available for their use.

Better Work Fast.

POST HASTE.

When the alternative is Hitlerism, France can afford to be a bit more generous and Germany to swallow a little pride.

We are sorry for Germany, but what about the suffering of our miners and their families? If the Red Cross can not handle needed relief some other organization must.

The bankers in Basel added a credit extension to the moratorium, but it left Germany still looking for cash.

It seems that it is going to be necessary for old Lone Eagle Lindbergh and his mate to show the boys how to fly the Pacific.

Cheer up! If you hadn't lost your money in the market you probably would have invested in a miniature golf course.

Herr Hitler says Fascism must save Germany from Bolshevism. Rescue from a burning ship by jumping overboard!

We can forgive the Basel doctors this once for talking about Germany being "fundamentally sound," but if we hear anything like "technical adjustment" we'll know there's something wrong.

Post and Gatty should be engaged to get Ambassador-to-Plague-Spots Gibson from one job to another on time.

The riot at the Army and Navy Club pool in Manila started from the desire of the boys "to see the white, pretty legs of the bathers." Evidently what the Filipinos need is not independence, but the Ziegfeld Follies.

Hitler's Nazis don't seem to know that a Mussolini only "muscles in" once in a blue moon.

Wheat farmers, much abused for their overproduction, must get a smile out of the east Texas oil field—nine months old with 1,500 wells pouring 350,000 barrels a day into an already glutted market for a price 10 per cent of what oil brought a year ago.

Senator Hawes couldn't get to the Shriner convention so he donned a native costume, shirt a la Chinese, for the synthetic independence parade in Manila.

The Hitler idea of saving German credit is repudiation of treaties and debts. Is this the reason the Berlin Sovietzerein is so quiet?

Under a Fascist Germany the Young plan, overnight,—would require a mausoleum; the moratorium would become moribund and cancellation would be a mere coincidence.

ONE ARGUMENT FOR THE NEW BALL.

Whene'er I'd miss a four-foot putt
Or shank a mashie shot,
I blamed myself last summer, but
This summer I do not.
For when my shots desert the line
And into bunkers fall,
I know the blunder isn't mine—
The fault is in the ball.

Last year I shot some fearful rounds
But all that I could say
When drives of mine went out of bounds
Was: "This is not my day."
For scores that kept on mounting high
I'd no excuse at all,
But now I have an alibi,
I blame the larger ball.

The old ball may have had a flight
The new ball seems to lack,
But 'tis my golfing prayer at night
They'll never bring it back.
For as I dub my way along
From springtime until fall,
It's nice when things are going wrong
To blame it on the ball.

I could not bring myself to blame
The caddie for my sin,
Nor give excuses old and lame
Because I'd failed to win.
But this year when I badly play,
As I my score recall,
It seems to soothe my soul to say,
"The trouble's with the ball."

By ROBERT QUILLEN

LAYMEN have more respect for science than scientists have.

Physicians, for example, have little respect for the curative powers of medicine. They know that less than half a dozen specific cures have been discovered since the practice of medicine began. The more experience they have, the less they trust in pills and potions.

Laymen believe anything they are told in the name of science.

Patent medicine no longer is permitted to make false claims, but almost everything else the layman consumes, from tooth paste to cigarettes, is guaranteed to cure or prevent some dreadful ailment.

And every discovery science makes is somehow harnessed by charlatans to cultivate a new crop of suckers.

Much publicity, good and bad, has made us so "health conscious" that we eat and drink in terms of calories and vitamins and take the joy out of living by making it "scientific."

We duck to evade germs when we hear a cough; we wipe away the microbes after a kiss; we dose and diet ourselves more than any other people on earth, and we are fast becoming a Nation of neurotic cranks.

We are pulse-feelers, temperature-takers and symptom-watchers.

Child-like faith in "science" has robbed us of common sense. Quack magazine advertising has made us fad addicts.

Yeast, orange juice and light waves are expected to cure all human ailments, except the few that require removal of the teeth and tonsils, and to miss one's daily iron or brass or silicate is to flirt with the undertaker.

Yet our fathers lived long without knowledge of these matters, and people thrive in other lands despite their ignorance of health foods and balanced diets.

Nature's laws haven't changed. The things essential to man's health are the things shared by other animals: fresh air, sunshine, pure water, wholesome food, and as much exercise as wild creatures take in pursuit of their dinner.

The "balanced diet," regarded as a modern discovery, was included in nature's menu at the beginning and is known to the apex of the jungle. If man will eat everything that tastes good and agrees with him, he will get all the vitamins he needs.

Nature's way is the wise and necessary way. And health, in nature's scheme, is a thing to enjoy—not a burden of anxiety.

Prudent Creditors.

Indianapolis News.

Attention has been called to the undoubted fact that the Hoover moratorium plan called for large sacrifices on the part of France, larger than those made by any other power with the single exception of the United States. But comparatively little has been said of the result of a failure to make them. The choice was between refusing to exact reparation payments now and a failure to get any reparations at all. If Germany "went broke," as all the best authorities agree she was in grave danger of doing, there would be an end of the Young plan, and also of all reparations—unless France should decide to go to war to collect them.

Therefore, the sacrifices of Germany's creditors—France among them—are as much for their own good as for that of Germany. It was a question of postponing present advantage for a future larger advantage. Wise and prudent men are doing this every day of their lives. The policy is invariably followed by wise creditors in dealing with their debtors, which is just this problem. Whatever sacrifices are made are for the purpose of building up the debtor nation so that it may be able in time to meet its obligations.

Mr. Hoover in a Hurry.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A solemn inquiry is under way at the White House. Who, the authorities want to know, made public the story that Mr. Hoover, wrapped up in moratorium negotiations, left his Rapidan camp last Sunday in a terrific hurry? How did the newspapers learn that he missed his dinner, broke an engagement with Attorney General Mitchell, forced Secret Service men to rush from their quarters buttoning shirts as they ran, and speed 100 miles to Washington in two hours and a half? Presidential guards and newspaper men have been "on the carpet," and one member of the bodyguard has been transferred to another post.

Hoover Does Things.

St. Peter (Minn.) Herald.

President Hoover again has stepped into the breach and has asked the Federal Farm Board to refrain from dumping the huge surplus on the market while the new crop is being moved and to announce a definite policy so as to cause the least hardship. He recently signed a proposal greatly increasing the tariff on dried eggs, a raise of 50 per cent, to shut out the competition of the China hen. Such moves are doing much to reestablish his favor in the eyes of the agricultural Northwest. The moratorium on the German war debt, incidentally, worked opposite to the hopes of the Democrats also, for it brought almost universal approval—even Raskob favors it. There never was a more opportune time for a real statesman to accomplish things for the general welfare, and it appears that Hoover is losing no opportunities in that respect.

Losses in Wheat.

Topeka Capital.

One thing in the policy of the Farm Board in handling its wheat seems inconsistent, if some tales are true. The board is evidently desirous of keeping its loss down. It does not look forward with any pleasure to a final showdown of a heavy loss to the Treasury. Yet there are stories afloat of Farm Board wheat stored in elevators, of elevators waiting for orders from the board as to handling the wheat to keep it in condition, and of no orders being received. These may be mere tales, yet they are given with a show of authenticity. If Farm Board wheat is not being properly handled the loss will be heavy.

By Elimination.

Dallas News.

Br'er Curtis is hesitating between the Senate and the Vice Presidency, but us Democrats may make a business man of him yet.

Raskob's Moratorium.

Louisville Courier-Journal.

Other moratoriums have been in effect for some time, as Mr. Raskob well knows.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Discrimination Against Women in Government Service Is Condemned by Civil Service Worker.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Time after time the question is asked me: "Does not the law forbid discrimination between men and women in classified positions under the Government?" to which reply is made: "Yes, that is true." Then I am assailed with proof that such discrimination is prevalent: that nothing is done to prevent the practice; that whenever a vacancy occurs in a position which has been filled by a man and a woman is given the place she is not raised to the same grade as the man occupied but is expected to perform the same work while drawing a much lower salary and graded one or sometimes two grades lower.

I have in mind a certain office where the male clerk was allocated in grade 5. He died and the place was filled by a young woman thoroughly experienced in the same work. This young woman has filled this position for over two years without one promotion and is still allocated to grade 3, although doing the work in a more proficient manner than the man who formerly held the place under grade 5.

This is not an isolated case—there are hundreds of just such discriminations throughout the entire Government service, not all of them women, of course, but as a rule it is the women who are the greatest sufferers under this system.

Conditions such as this tend to lower the morale and sap the ambition of employes. It should not be permitted, and no doubt will be straightened out when the Brookhart board of appeal bill is enacted into law. In the meantime women can vote. A woman's vote is certainly as important as a man's and in very many instances much more important. Therefore, we can hope for better conditions just as soon as the women voters learn to exercise the elective franchise.

Nothing in this old world of ours was ever gained except by sacrifice, if not our own sacrifice, then the sacrifice of others through whom we reap the reward.

Relief From Depression May Be Obtained by Looking After Little Things, Writer Suggests.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: "Mrs. Jones" makes appeal in your columns for smaller quantities in packages in retail stores in the interest of economy. It is a valuable suggestion in that it shows the possibility of working out much of the improvement we desire by giving attention to the little things of every day life.

Too many of us are looking only toward big things for relief. Counties are looking to the States, the States to the Government, and we are in danger of overloading even Uncle Sam.

Counties, States, the Government, and greatest of all, individuals, should cooperate sympathetically in the mighty tasks that lie before us.

There is waste enough each day going into garbage cans of our self-supporting homes to supply all those who lack food. This may seem absurd to say, but plenty of readers will readily admit that it is not an overstatement. If this be true, it means we have a host of people who are not thinking seriously of their social responsibilities.

It is fine and sane to have a self-supporting spirit and to muddle through difficulties in taking care of ourselves. It is finer and saner still to have a disposition to help bear the burdens of the poor and weak.

Embassy Is Assured That Peru Bears No Animosity Toward Foreign Capital.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The embassy is in receipt of the following official cablegram from the minister of foreign affairs of Peru, which I would request that you kindly have published in the next issue of your valuable paper:

"Lima, 6th July, 1931. The Peruvian government is intent upon improving the economic situation of the country. For this purpose it is obliged to consider the situation of foreign capital, against which it bears no animosity whatsoever. All guarantees and legitimate facilities are granted to foreign enterprises; but in the fulfillment of its duty the government must see that these enterprises shall comply with the relevant legal dispositions and respect the rights and interests of the state. (Signed) Larco."

General Explains Native Garment Which Senator Hawes Proposed to Wear in Filipino Independence Parade.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: With reference to your editorial entitled "Hawes in the Philippines" in The Post of July 12, and the wearing of a "barong" by Senator Hawes, you are advised that the "barong" is a fighting weapon, a heavy knife used by the Moros.

It is possible that your writer had in mind a "sarong," which is a garment, not transparent, worn by the Moros of Mindanao and Jolo, and not worn by the Filipinos.

The garment which Senator Hawes proposed to wear, according to reports, was the "camisa" or shirt, usually of embroidered pina cloth, worn by the Filipinos outside their trousers.

It is usually worn by the "tao" or peasant, and not by the higher class of Filipinos. GEORGE C. SHAW,
Brigadier general, U. S. Army (retired).

Strong Home Is Modern to Last Degree

Young Married Couple Builds Unusual Place on Gibson Island.

YOUNG moderns as well as young marrieds, Mr. and Mrs. L. Corrin Strong, are this week supervising the final artistic touches to their decidedly modernistic summer home almost completed at Gibson Island. Within ten days the Strongs expect to be established in the cottage which typifies the last word in architecture of cubistic trend.

Designed after a charming house Mr. and Mrs. Strong admired in Germany on the course of recent travels, the cottage rises to varying levels with a series of fascinating roofs, which will offer retreats for supper above board or for tea on the "upper deck." Commanding a view of the bay, the house is attractively located, as well as boasting acreage which will lend itself to landscaping. The drawing room gives air and light in excellent measure, as the ceiling rises to the height of the house, the upper bedrooms being built above a wing of the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Strong have become enthusiastic members of the Georgetown colony and during the winter entertain in their charming house there. Heretofore they have frequented Gibson Island, although they have divided their summers between the popular resort and the summer home of Mr. Strong's mother, Mrs. Henry Alvah Strong, in Maine. The latter is now in Europe.

Representative and Mrs. Menalcus Lankford, of Norfolk, Va., accompanied by Mrs. Duncan Curry, of Staunton, Va., are guests at the Powhatan for a short period.

Lieut. Comdr. R. W. Fleming, U. S. N., is at the Powhatan.

Lieut. William W. O'Connor, U. S. A., of New York, with Lieut. J. Trimble Brown, U. S. A., of Boston, is at Wardman Park Hotel while in Washington.

Rear Admiral Moffett Montauk Point Guest.

Representative and Mrs. Fred A. Britten have as their guest at Montauk Point, L. I., where they are passing the summer, Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the Bureau of Naval Aeronautics. Admiral Moffett was honor guest last evening at a large dinner dance at Montauk Manor.

Mrs. George T. Summerlin, jr., and her small daughter left yesterday for York Harbor, Me., where they will pass the remainder of the summer.

Miss Laura Wolcott Tuckerman returned yesterday from Baltimore, where she was the week-end guest of Miss Mary Clare Cottman at Greyhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Owen Coffin and two children have gone to Swampscott, Mass., and are at Rock Maple, the home of Mrs. Coffin's mother, Mrs. George von L. Meyer. Miss Alicia Rodgers, Mrs. Meyer's granddaughter, also is at Hamilton and Mme Giuseppe Brambilla, the former Miss Julia von L. Meyer, will arrive there next week from Rome.

Col. E. Alexis Jeunet, U. S. A., retired, and Mrs. Jeunet, who completed a round-the-world tour in the spring of 1930 and have since been touring in France, Spain and eastern and southern Europe, are now in Paris for a stay of several months. They have taken an apartment at the Grand and will remain there until November, when they will return to their home in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. William MacCracken, jr., are again at the Wardman Park after passing a few days as guests of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Ransome at Pelham, N. Y.

2 WOMEN AND MAN TREATED FOR DRUG

Trio Is Lodged in Gallinger After Alleged Jag on Tablets.

Two women and a man were taken to Gallinger Hospital yesterday for treatment of a "drug jag," following arrest of James H. Zeaman, 23 years old, of Eleventh street, near C street southwest, on a charge of investigation.

The women are Mrs. Evelyn Van Winkle, 22 years old, 778 Sixth street southeast, and Mrs. Alice Taylor, 20 years old, 3527 O street northwest. They were taken to Emergency Hospital early yesterday.

Abraham Blaum, 19 years old, 224 Seventh street southeast, who went to assistance of Mrs. Ella Lockard, mother of Mrs. Van Winkle, accompanied them to the hospital after the Van Winkle woman had become violently ill from the drug.

Mrs. Lockard said a Casualty Hospital interne refused to remove her daughter to that institution unless she paid in advance. This was denied by Dr. Joseph D. Rodgers, head of Casualty Hospital, who said the interne explained that the people "were fighting when he answered the call and said he was not wanted." The interne denied having made any mention of money.

The women had consumed several drug tablets, allegedly given to them by Zeaman. Zeaman denied having given them the drug.

Iceman Calls Firemen To Help of Sick Horse

Charlie Brown, colored, iceman, had some trouble with his horse yesterday. It seems it had the "thumps." So he called the Fire Rescue Squad to the stable in Wards court. To squad members he explained that the horse refused to arise and when he tried to raise it, it just "thumped."

The firemen, not versed in things veterinary, decided they couldn't help the animal and advised Charlie to call a horse doctor.

Truck Driver Held in $300 Bond as Machine Hits Car Near T. B.

Two Federal dry agents and a girl were slightly injured yesterday morning when the car in which they were riding was struck by a truck and overturned near T. B., Md. The driver of the truck was arrested and charged with reckless driving and having bad brakes.

Those injured were Miss Jessie E. Morgan, of 1212 M street northwest, lacerations of the left eye and scratches on the head; J. P. Dell, jr., of 1900 F street northwest, cuts about the face, and A. C. Towslee, of 1125 Twelfth street northwest, bruises. All those injured were brought to Providence Hospital for treatment.

According to Prince Georges County police, the two agents were taking Miss Morgan, who is a stenographer, to their headquarters in Waldorf. They were riding in Towslee's car when it was struck by a truck driven by John House, of Washington, police said. House was released on bond of $300. Before striking the agents' car, House's truck is reported to have struck a machine driven by C. W. Mans, of T. B., who was unhurt.

WINS DIVORCE

GINGER ROGERS.

ACTOR IS DIVORCED BY GINGER ROGERS

Movie Actress Tells Texas Court Husband Drank and Gambled.

Dallas, Tex., July 14 (A.P.).—The Dallas Times-Herald says Ginger Rogers, movie actress, was granted a divorce here Saturday from E. J. Culpepper, Dallas vaudeville actor.

The red-headed Fort Worth girl, who entered the films after winning the charleston dancing championship of Texas several years ago, appeared in court under the name of Virginia Katherine Culpepper. Her husband, said to be filling a vaudeville engagement in New York, was not present.

On the witness stand, the actress testified she was married at the age of 17 without her mother's consent.

"I married the defendant relying on his representations that he was a sober, hard-working man with theatrical conenctions and that he could make a great actress out of me," she testified.

They were married in New Orleans, March 25, 1929, and lived together three months, she told the court. It was at this time she discovered Culpepper's representations were false and deceitful, she related. During the time they lived together, Miss Rogers complained, her husband often became intoxicated and took her money and gambled with it.

Pan-American Congress To Study Silver Puzzle

Business leaders from 21 American republics will come to Washington for the fourth Pan-American Commercial Conference, October 5 to 12, to discuss the silver problem and other matters of importance.

Mexico, the United States and Peru, leading producers of silver, have been strongly affected by the world crisis in the silver industry, which is said to have been accelerated by oversupply rather than overproduction. Both China and India have been seriously affected by the silver problem and the conference will undoubtedly have an important effect on any future negotiations on the silver situation.

BECK WARNS I. C. C. ON RATE RISE DELAY

Asserts Railroads Require Speedy Help; Hints Body Has Lost Usefulness.

by the railroads to reduce these rates was merely a weak yielding to the demands of a well-organized group and they recommended that the proposed reductions in rates be not approved. They referred to the joint efforts of the roads to force a blanket rate increase, and urged that to grant the reductions proposed would merely invite similar efforts by other organized groups of shippers.

The hearing on the plea of the railroads of an increase of 15 per cent in freight rates is to be held by members of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Usually inquiries are conducted by examiners for the commission.

But the hearing on the rate increase is not to be the only proceeding incident to the question, for the commission has seriously questioned the manner in which the railroads have been operated and announced its purpose to conduct an inquiry into that phase of the subject.

The roads have based their plea on the argument that they are not earning as high a rate of return on their valuation as they are entitled to under the law. The commission has gone behind that and challenged the efficiency of the roads and the manner in which their finances and other things have been handled.

The railroads are to have first say in the fight for higher rates. It is expected they will occupy 10 days before the commission. Insurance companies and other investment concerns will support their plea.

Some time after August 1 the opposition will have its innings. That is the rate hearing. The investigation of railroad management will be proceeding in the meantime. A decision by the commission is not to be reasonably expected for some time.

Beck Blunt in Comment.

Representative Beck was blunt in what he had to say about the matter on behalf of the railroads. The commission not only was a circumlocution office but a unique one, Mr. Beck said, adding:

"If the commission delays this vital matter until the snow flies, I shall ask my colleagues of the House interstate commerce committee to consider earnestly whether the commission has not outlived its usefulness and whether all necessary regulatory power could not be wisely concentrated in a smaller and more speedy governmental agency.

"From the very leisurely program in which the committee has announced it is likely that the leaves of autumn will be falling, and possibly the snows of winter, before this unique circumlocution office makes a decision.

"In the meantime financial interests, representing over $24,000,000,000 of securities, are jeopardized.

"There seems to be no excuse for such inordinate delays, except that we are in vacation days. But bonds rise or fall without respect to the calendar, and if our President can forego his well-earned vacation why can not the commission hear all that can be urged and reach a prompt decision?

"The facts are within the commission's possesaion and indicate a falling off of railroad revenues of nearly 40 per cent. This imperils billions of railroad bonds as legal securities.

"The depression of 1921 ended when the railroads were given compensatory rates and the present depression would be substantially lessened if the commission would sit from today and make a prompt decision.

"No one can dispute the facts. They are known of all men and yet the Nation must silently await a long and tortuous hearing to satisfy the formalities of the commission."

President Names Shoals Conferees

Agriculture and War Departments Are to Be Represented.

(Associated Press)

President Hoover appointed Edward A. O'Neal, of Alabama, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, to represent agriculture for the Federal Government on a joint commission appointed by Tennessee and Alabama.

At the same time he appointed Col. Harvey B. Ferguson, of the Corps of Engineers, and Col. Joseph I. McMullen, of the Judge Advocate General's office, to represent the War Department.

The commission will study methods for handling the Muscle Shoals plant as a result of President Hoover's suggestion that the two States, being primarily concerned, should appoint representatives to study the possibilities of the huge war-time development.

The suggestion was made last March 3 in a message vetoing the Norris Muscle Shoals bill.

Expected Rains Miss West As Winds Fan Forest Fires

Efforts of More Than 2,000 Fighters Are Hampered; Blaze in Wyoming Area Is Declared Worst in Decade.

Spokane, July 14 (A.P.).—The smoke pall over the intermountain country deepened today as forest fires in Montana, Idaho, and Wyoming roared on, out of control.

Expected rains did not come, and winds continued, hampering efforts of more than 2,000 fighters. Some of the blazes destroyed merchantable timber, but most of them were cutting through young trees over old burns.

The Hemlock Creek fire in north Idaho's Clearwater forest had reached approximately 13,000 acres, airplane observers reported, and more than 1,000 men were attempting to trench it.

East of Hemlock Creek, on Quarts Creek, two new fires in commercial timber were out of control. In central Idaho two more large fires were eating through the Challis forest. Three thousand acres have been seared.

Two fires in western Montana in the Bitter Root and Lolo National forests were defying 300 fighters and had swept over nearly 3,000 acres. Fifty additional men were mobilized at Missoula for each blaze. The Rock Creek fire in the Bitter Root Valley had covered 2,000 acres. Shifting wind relieved crews battling the other blaze along Gold Creek.

In Wyoming, a fire which was spreading rapidly had destroyed 600 acres of valuable timber in the Willow Park section of Big Horn National Forest. A hundred men were rushed to the blaze, the worst in that section in a decade. Fires which had burned 400 acres in the Paint Rock district were under control this afternoon.

Wyoming regional forest officials said the fires had grown to such an extent in the State that Emergency closing orders will be issued for any forest deemed necessary. A closing order was issued for the Medicine Bow Forest in Wyoming.

Four small fires near Allen's Park, 70 miles northwest of Denver, were believed under control.

In California, a fire which started yesterday along the southern boundary of Yosemite National Park resisted efforts of 200 park employes to hold it in check.

New Dry Agents Ready for Work

335 Men Have Completed Training and Are Assigned to Stations.

(Associated Press.)

Federal prohibition enforcement chiefs were prepared last night for the biggest campaign in dry law history with today set as the zero hour.

This was the word given out at the Prohibition Bureau, after receipt of information that the 335 new dry agents had or would complete within 24 hours their intensive enforcement training. By tonight most of them will have reached the posts assigned to them.

Howard T. Jones, acting prohibition administrator, said he did not anticipate, however, any immediate upward leap in arrests and seizures.

Electrolux, the Gas Refrigerator, is NATURALLY silent—permanently so because it has no complicated machinery—nothing to vibrate or grow noisy with age. It doesn't alternately stop and start. Instead, it works all the time, and so makes cold that is constant, steady.

There is nothing to compare with Electrolux so far as operation is concerned. A tiny gas flame and a thin flow of water take the place of all moving parts. They circulate a liquid refrigerant, which is hermetically sealed in rigid steel and need not be renewed. The tiny gas flame is completely protected by an automatic shut-off. The flame must stay lighted or the gas shuts off. The installation of this refrigerator is a simple matter. Connections for gas and water are quickly and easily made for you, without any charge. And with all these advantages, Electrolux costs less to operate than any other automatic refrigerator—6 cents a day average for both gas and water.

FREE LIFETIME SERVICE

Because there is no machinery and because this refrigerator is so thoroughly dependable, we can offer you free lifetime service on it. Not just a year or two's guarantee, but in addition free service for the life of the refrigerator. This means that if there is any necessity for labor for adjustments—ever—you get it free of charge as long as your refrigerator is on our lines.

NO FINANCE CHARGES 2 YEARS TO PAY

You can buy Electrolux now with the most liberal terms ever offered on an automatic refrigerator. There are no finance charges at all and you have two years in which to complete the payments. After a small initial deposit, as little as $10.00 a month takes care of the payments.

There are 11 different household models, from 3 cu. ft. to 20 cu. ft. capacity. Prices range from $235 to $775 installed, and if you buy now you receive FREE a $3.00 hydrator.

Really, before buying any automatic refrigerator, you should investigate Electrolux, the Gas Refrigerator. For complete information by mail, either write to us or call NAtional 8280. And remember—in an automatic refrigerator, SILENCE IS GOLDEN.

But Lots Still Are Sold by The Post for Old Price of $93.

When temperatures in the city are breaking the tops out of thermometers and a cool breeze is at a premium, then is the time to hop in the car, drive 32 miles over excellent roads and amid lovely scenery, to Woodland Beach, the fastest growing summer community in Maryland.

Woodland Beach, sponsored by The Washington Post, is gaining in popularity so rapidly that the demand for property there already has raised the value of lots above the price at which The Post is offering them to the public.

In other words, those who got in on the Beach development in its first days and grabbed themselves choice locations are being offered much more than the $93 a lot which they paid for their holdings. That is how popular Woodland Beach has grown.

Good Sites Still Available.

However, just because higher prices are being offered for some location at the beach is no reason for believing that all of the best lots are gone. There are still many pleasant sites for summer homes available, for Woodland Beach offers 4½ miles of waterfront property.

You, too, may become a contented home owner at this delightful spot on the South River through a very simple process. The procedure is to call at The Washington Post, look over the various sections of the development and pick out a lot. Then you pay $9 in cash plus the price of a subscription to The Washington Post and start right in to make plans for your summer cottage. The remainder of the $93 for your lot may be paid at the rate of $3.50 per month.

Varied Amusements Offered.

There is stilll time to enjoy several weeks of peace and comfort at Woodland Beach. Erecting a summer cottage does not take long or require much expense, once you have chosen your location.

Fishing, boating and bathing are offered at the beach; there are amusement devices for the children as well as shallow spots in the coves of the South River where the boys and girls may wade and splash in safety.

Drop in at The Post today, make your selection and spend the rest of the summer and many summers to come in comfort.

MURRAY CONSIDERS OIL SHUTDOWN RULE

Oklahoma Governor Asserts Operators Are Getting to Be "Bolsheviks."

Oklahoma City, Okla., July 14 (A.P.).—Eyeing the critical Texas situation for developments, Gov. Murray of Oklahoma put an operators' petition for an Oklahoma oil-field shutdown order in the hands of his cousin and personal adviser today and, meanwhile, complained, "The oil men are all getting to be bolsheviks."

"I can't blame them, though—the way the industry is," he said, explaining that details of the effort to close in wells until higher prices obtain is receiving the attention of Cicero Murray, chairman of the oil States advisory committee. The Oklahoma governor has said he would issue a shutdown order if joined by Texas, where developments awaited the passage of a proration law at a special session of the legislature convening today.

Meanwhile, a published forecast here said the shutdown movement was facing serious difficulty as the result of an immediate lack of official support. Opposition from crude oil purchasers, question in several States as to the legality of such an order, and the opinion that the State Corporation Commission itself could not make it effective, led to a belief that curtailment must necessarily be voluntary and elastic enough to meet market demand.

Gov. Murray said: "The oil men are so selfish they just can't agree. They expect you to handle it for them. I guess it will work out all right, though."

In his campaign, the governor recalled he had predicted: "The political flames which are consuming the huts of the poor would eventually burn up the mansions of the rich."

"The oil men now are worse off than the fellows whose huts were burned up," he added.

Man Is Jailed For Perjury In Edwards Divorce Action

White Plains, N. Y., July 14 (A.P.).—Thomas Wenstrom, 34-year-old salesman, was in county jail tonight charged with perjury, after confessing he signed a false affidavit last March stating he had been guilty of misconduct with Mrs. William H. Edwards, wife of the former collector of internal revenue for New York.

The affidavit was first brought to light several months ago when "Big Bill" Edwards, former Princeton football star, filed a countersuit for divorce charging infidelity, after his wife had accused him of mental cruelty and nonsupport in a suit for separation.

Wenstrom admitted to District Attorney Frank H. Coyne his story of misconduct with Mrs. Edwards had been fabricated and also confessed he had obtained a false deposition from Frank Passo, Bronx chauffeur, to be used with his in Mr. Edwards' suit.

Passo in his signed statement said he had previously driven the salesman and Mrs. Edwards about together in his car.

In default of $3,500 bail set by Judge John B. Coyle, Wenstrom was jailed.

Counsel for Mrs. Edwards charged a week ago that witnesses in the divorce action had committed perjury. At that time Wenstrom was at liberty on bail after his arrest for passing a worthless check.

Mr. Edwards posted a $5,000 bond July 9 as a result of a move to hold him in contempt of court for failure to pay his wife fees growing out of the litigation.

Neither the divorce nor the separation case has yet been heard.

Federal Agents Conduct Their Bigest Drive Near Jacksonville.

Jacksonville, Fla., July 14 (A.P.).—A campaign by Federal prohibition agents along the northeast coast of Florida has led to the issuance of 19 padlock injunctions in United States District Court here against 19 houses between Jacksonville and Daytona Beach.

The injunctions were issued at the request of S. O. McPherson, prohibition administrator for this district.

Establishments named in the proceedings included the Palm Valley Club in Jacksonville, which was recently converted into a night club. Nine of the houses are in Jacksonville, two in South Jacksonville, two at Jacksonville Beach and six at Daytona Beach.

Agents described the campaign as the most concerted drive against liquor law violators the northeast coast has ever witnessed.

Havana Diplomat Shot Four Times

American Tourists Watch Former Secretary of Interior Fall.

Havana, July 14 (A.P.).—A party of American tourists who came here on the steamer Virginia, stumbled today upon a display of gunfire in which Rogerio Zayas Bazan, former secretary of the interior and for ten years senator from the province of Camaguey, was shot four times and probably fatally wounded.

The tourists were sightseeing under the guidance of David Rabbi, a Syrian guide, when they arrived upon the scene in the Reparto suburb of Havana, just as the wounded man, still holding his revolver, fell.

Zayas Bazan's chauffeur said his machine arrived at the spot at almost the same time as another car and the two parked close together. As the former cabinet member left his car, the chauffeur said, one of the two men in the other automobile started shooting and his employer, although able to draw his pistol, could not fire it.

SHRINERS' DISPLAY THRILLS CLEVELAND

200,000 Persons See Parade on Way to Stadium for Merrymaking.

Cleveland, July 14 (A.P.).—Tonight was a "night in the Orient" as the realm of shrinedom reached the most dazzling display of its fifty-seventh annual convention.

Under a huge tent, 600 members of the Imperial Council of the Ancient and Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine sat down to feasting and merrymaking, while thousands more watched from the stands of the municipal stadium. Feasting was preliminary to the pageant which opened with a three-ring circus and dancing by a ballet of 300 girls of the caliph's harem.

The pageant was the second brilliant event of the day. Approximately 1,000 nobles from thirty-three temples formed a parade three miles long this morning. Twenty bands blared and brightly costumed patrols executed intricate drills as the line of march swung through the downtown section to the stadium.

Police estimated that 200,000 persons viewed the parade, the greatest gathering here since Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's return from his flight to Paris.

At the end of the parade in the stadium the convention was officially opened with a prayer and addresses of welcome. Among the speakers were Gov. George White of Ohio, who told of the ideals and purposes of the shrine, and Imperial Potentate Eaten A. Fletcher, of Rochester, N. Y.

The imperial council began its business sessions today with a proposal to abolish State jurisdictional lines as one of its most important problems. It is expected the proposal, advocated by Noble James Sanderson, of Chattanooga, Tenn., will be approved.

TO PREVENT MOTTLED TEETH.

IN certain places a large part of the population have what is known as "mottled teeth." Among the school children recently in these places the malady is almost universal. While no great harm results, the condition is at least disfiguring and those who have it are made unhappy. Most of the towns from which the reports of wide prevalence of mottled teeth have come are located in the Mississippi Valley and in the Rocky Mountain region.

There have been many investigations of and reports on the malady, but none of these have brought happiness or even hope to the afflicted. But now there is a different story to tell. Dr. H. V. Churchill and associated scientists have found the cause to be an excess of fluorine in the drinking water. In order to remove the excess of this element from a water supply, Dr. Churchill recommends the following procedures:

Enough lime or other alkali is added to make the water definitely alkaline. Then some ferric sulphate or other cheap iron salt is added. This throws down a precipitate sodium fluoride, which, in turn, is removed by filtration or sedimentation.

This may not be the ultimate best method, but it is the best now known. Eventually a better way may be worked out.

In an Arkansas town where the people used water from shallow wells there was much typhoid and other water-borne disease. This was an industrial community developed by one manufacturing company. The proprietors of the plant decided to put in a water system in which bacteriologically good water had to be piped several miles. The people were happy to be rid of typhoid fever, but their joy turned to sorrow when a large part of the population developed mottled teeth. Investigation showed the bacteriologically pure water of the new supply to be the cause. The people went back to the old shallow wells and the danger of typhoid.

It was in this community that Dr. Churchill, continuing the investigation, found excess of fluorine in the water to be the cause of the tooth trouble. The company can now apply the proposed method for the removal of the excess of flourine, and the people can resume the use of the public water supply.

That flourine was in some way related to tooth quality has long been known. Somewhere about a quarter of a century ago, Dr. J. N. Hurty, then health officer of Indiana, was using his bulletin to inform the people of the relation of fluorine to the teeth. These later investigations show that Dr. Hurty was wrong in some of his conclusions, and probably in some of his advice, but somehow he had acquired the notion that there was a relation between fluorine in drinking water and the quality of the teeth. He seems to have been right in thinking that the drinking water or the food should contain flourine, though he failed to recognize the harmfulness of an excess.

YOUR NAME — WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

By HARRY A DEFARRARI, Ph. D.

THE family name "Jefferson" is of English origin, and means "the son of Jeffrey." "Jeffrey" is a variation of the French "Geoffray," but it is ultimately of Teutonic origin and means "God's peace."

The family name "Cleveland" is of English origin, and means "he who lives on the land near the cliff." A certain Johannes de Clyveland is mentioned in an English record of the year 1379.

The family name "La Fayette" (also spelled "Lafayette") is of French and ultimately of Latin origin. Since its meaing is "the grove of beech trees," it obviously indicates the place of residence of the persons who were first so called.

The family name "Taft" is a Northern English form of "Toft," just as "craft" is a similar variation of "croft." These names are ultimately of Scandinavian origin, being based on the Old Norse "topt." Of the several meanings of this Old Norse word the commonest is "homestead." A secondary meaning is "the walls or foundations of a former building."

The family name "Harding" is of English origin, and means "the son of Heard." "Heard" was an old personal name meaning "hard," "brave" and "firm." An English document of the thirteenth century mentions a certain Hugh Harding and a Nicol Harding. This name has frequently become confused with "Hardwin," which is ultimately of Teutonic origin and means "firm friend."

The family name "Wilson" means "the son of William." The personal name "William" is of Teutonic origin and means "helmet of resolution." A certain Adam Wylson is mentioned in an English document of the year 1379.

What Today Means to You

"CANCER."

IF July 15 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a. m. to 11:30 a. m., from 3:15 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. and from 9:20 p. m. to 11 p. m. The danger hours are from noon to 2:30 p. m. and from 7:15 p. m. to 9 p. m.

July 15 is, from an astrological standpoint, a day of comparative happiness and good fortune. It is a safe day for business investments and speculations, providing a certain amount of caution, is exercised. It is also a good day for travel, as pleasant journeys are assured.

A child born on this July 15 will possess an ambitious and persevering nature. It will have a kind, frank and flexible disposition, and should be a great joy and comfort to its parents. It will, in later years, acquire a certain amount of fame and will find its greatest success in the field of business and commerce.

Born on July 15, you will have a very changeable life and may have many ups and downs before you finally attain success. However, your purposefulness and strong will never fail you, and you invariably come out on top. You will always dominate your fellowmen, which in itself is a very good thing, but which you often carry to extreme. You lack consideration and could really accomplish more if you would try to use a little more kindness in your dealings with other people. You are a very reserved and uncommunicative person among strangers, but among your very intimate friends, you become exceedingly expansive and eloquent. You can be very excellent company when it pleases you.

You are a born student and have a strong desire for learning. You have a marked talent for writing, and could achieve a great deal of success in this line if you cultivated your talents toward this end. You have a very strong emotional nature. You feel things far too keenly and are entirely too sensitive. You must learn to cultivate the most cheerful side of life and in this way you will find a greater happiness and contentment and also insure the success of your family and marital relationships.

Al Interprets the MODE

New York, July 14.

IT'S a strange world! There's a scurrying and a scampering and an air of mystery and great doings going on around the couture houses these days—in preparation for the soon-to-be-presented winter collections of what the smart lady will wear when the chill winds from the North descend upon her. And here we are basking in the sun or hoping that we might, with never a thought for any type of attire but beach pyjamas.

And now that our thoughts are turned to beach pyjamas, I must tell you that they appear in more versions than any one ever dreamed of when they first made their welcome appearance. Do you know, for instance, that the so-called pyjama can consist of one piece just as well as of the more usual two or three? And the "one-piece" is only trousers worn over your bathing suit.

And then there's a very important fact about beach pyjamas that doesn't hold true for feminine pyjamas used for any other purpose. And that is that the trousers make no attempt to conceal the fact that they are trousers. They're even creased down the front very often, exactly as men's trousers are. And they're trimly masculine, and straight in line with perhaps just the slightest little flare at the bottom to show that they're really not borrowed from your brother. Jeanne Lanvin and Jane Regny use gob trousers that are charmingly boyish versions of the pyjama trouser.

Knee-length, calf-length, ankle-length or longer, the smartest pyjama trousers agree on the one thing, that is, not to employ the device of having each leg as wide as a skirt, but to have both legs trimly narrow.

* * * *

Well, I've discovered that 99 out of 100 like to be—suited, summer or no! You can't blame them, for if they're intent upon enjoying some engagement of social importance in the morning, they're making a wise choice. To show you just what a wise choice, I have sketched for you today the stunning suit from Philippe et Gaston that would fit into any dressy occasion beautifully. This is of black crepe marocain—and the things that are done with this material are just the business of no one at all. The coat, with its wide revers and split cuffs, wraps snugly about the waist. The skirt has incrusted pleats that are so original as to defy verbal description, and that button up on the blouse, 'n' the blouse of rose crepe de chine, printed in black, ties about the neck and wrists with narrow black velvet ribbon!

'N' there you see why I call a dressy suit a good choice for most women—you have elaborate detail in a much more original way than you would with a frock.

Sometimes the tiniest bit of attention paid to the neckline of a dress you may think is hopeless will make it one of the prettiest in your collection! O-o-oh, of course, I don't mean just stick in a collar and let it go at that—but pick out just the kind of modern scarf that will flatter you and the dress at the same time. And that's the beauty of these present-day scarfs, as you'll see when you send your stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare department of The Washington Post. They are certainly lovely in themselves, and they do things to your frocks for every occasion that are just plainly miraculous!

Au revoir!

Culbertson on Contract

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

ETHICS AND MANNERISMS.

A SUBJECT of fruitful discussion at the Contract table and after the game is over is the subject of Ethics. All good Contract players maintain the very highest standard of ethics. They never consciously permit any mannerism of theirs to give information of value to a partner. The code of ethics of a Contract player is the code of a gentleman and it is because of this high standard that the game has gained such tremendous popularity throughout the world. On the other hand, while a player may not give to his partner any information in regard to his hand or in regard to a doubtful play, by hesitation or other such shady means, every player has a perfect right to take advantage of any indecision or any mannerism of an opponent. In fact, it is not only his right but his duty to his partner as such acts, unconscious though they may have been, are calculated to have some effect upon the subsequent play of the hand. A wise Contract player, even though free from any objectionable mannerisms, will adjust the tempo of his play so that no change is noticeable to an alert opponent.

In the recent match with Crockford's team in London, in which my team-mates were Mrs. Culbertson, Theodore A. Lightner and Waldemar von Zedtwitz, I played the hand in the accompanying chart against Capt. Kenneth Hogg and Mr. George Morris.

Capt. Hogg, who sat East, opened the heart deuce. The Queen was played from Dummy and Mr. Morris won with the Ace. He then led the club Ace and followed with a low spade. The play was quite correct, but Mr. Morris made a serious psychological blunder. Each play followed the other with extraordinary rapidity—a direct contradiction of his ordinary custom. After leading the spade, he visibly relaxed. All this gave me food for thought, and when I won the spade trick in the Dummy with the King, I led the eight of diamonds and when Mr. Morris did not cover it I permitted it to hold. This double finesse, under the circumstances and the bidding, was almost unprecedented. The result was that I made by contract of five diamonds.

"Your play was extremely brilliant, Mr. Culbertson," remarked Mr. Morris.

"You helped me a little," I replied.

The change in tempo in Mr. Morris' play had given me the one opportunity to play the hand for game.

Today's Pointer.

Only the honor-tricks and plus values can be counted when a hand is valued at a notrump bid. Length in a suit can not be given an accurate value, as a rule, either because partner's holding in the suit is unknown or unfavorable.

In no-trump bids the winning of tricks with low cards depends largely upon honors, which are the indispensable stoppers and reentries. The count of honor-tricks alone will automatically include a proportionate amount of low-card-tricks.

Indoor and Outdoor Gardens

By JANE LESLIE KIFT

To Free a Lawn from Insects.

This is the time when a lawn is apt to become infested with grubs, beetles and earthworms. The beetles and the grubs may do real damage to the lawn, as they feed on the roots of the grass and, consequently, cause the plants to die. In certain sections of the country grubs are more destructive than in others.

One means of checking the three pests mentioned is the use of arsenate of lead. It is well to mix the powdered lead arsenate with moist sand before applying it to the grass. You can use it in dry form, but as it is apt to be blown about it is not so effective.

Five pounds of dry arsenate of lead powder worked into a bushel of moist sand will be a sufficient quantity for covering an area of 1,000 square feet. Apply the sand when the grass is quite dry. I suggest this because if moist it is apt to adhere to the blades of the grass, in which case it will burn them. After applying it rake it under with a wire rake and then soak the entire lawn. The water will carry the poison down to the roots where the insects will eat it and die. Landscape architects frequently, when making a new grade where they are suspicious of the presence of grubs or beetles, mix arsenate of lead with the top soil. They imcorporate the poison only with the surface soil and apply it a few days before seeding. They claim that arsenate of lead used in the proportions suggested will keep a lawn free from grubs or beetles for several years. Arsenate of lead also discourages the growth of the much-dreaded crab grass.

You can buy arsenate of lead from any drug store. It costs but a few cents a pound.

You can always tell crab grass, as it grows faster than the ordinary grass. The blades with short, flat stems spread out right from the crown of the plants. Several shoots grow from the same crown.

If allowed to mature, crab grass, when cut with the mower, scatters thousands of seeds over the lawn. For that reason it is better to get after the weed before it spreads all over the lawn. In cases where it has more than a foothold a commercial weed destroyer should be applied. Any seed man will recommend a reliable one.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

IT IS noted from the advance proofs of an article written by Oscar Odd McIntyre, under the title of "The Inside Story of Will Hays' Ten Years in Movieland," for the July issue of the New Movie Magazine, out today, that the very odd Odd's "Firstly" is verbatim and to-wit as follows:

"I believe that Bill took the job because of the $150,000 a year pay—income tax paid by his bosses—and the fun he would have out of it."

Mr. McIntyre continues:

"The second biggest appeal is that Bill is a romanticist at heart and in the moulding of the movies he saw one of the most romantic enterprises of modern times."

Basing my views on the statement that Mr. Hays himself made in my presence as to the precise reasons for his relinquishing the Postmaster Generalship of the United States to embark on a career in the motion picture industry, I am constrained to believe that the famous double "O" has his reasons exactly reversed.

Mr. Hays' income was nothing for him to worry about, what with his political affiliations and his Middle West law practice and what have you, even before the tempting cinema offer was dangled before him. He was doing very well for himself, thank you, and won't you have some more of the cake?

Neither do I think he was tempted by any mere lure of romance.

From his own lips, it was his zeal as a crusader that served as the primary urge to undertake the redemption of a giant industry that was more or less floundering around in a cesspool of obnoxious incompetence. He perceived a real opportunity to be of genuine service to a tremendous number of people of all ages, colors and conditions of servitude. It was something of the preacher that he is at heart cropping out in a strange form.

The money, of course, was not a negligible factor in his final decision, but neither was it the primary one. Without the pledge of the member companies in the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America to execute a right-about-face in many of their practices—and not only mean it, but stick to it—the $150,000 per annum, or twice that, would not have tempted him.

"Thick-soup Bill," as his cronies back in Indiana used to call him, is like that.

Well, sir, what do you think? Here comes Earl Carroll again with the flat declaration that in his New Earl Carroll Theater the myriad light effects will be operated in full view of the audience. This will be the first installation of such a system in any theater in the world.

Every battery of lights, every device and every effect will be controlled by a central, new-style switchboard. Operated by dials, this control console is said to be no larger than a good-sized radio receiving set. It will be located immediately behind the musical director.

Seated among the spectators, the electrician—who is now to be known as the "Light Conductor"—will be able to see all of the effects he is creating.

This, it seems to me, is a perfectly swell idea. I suggest that it be carried one step farther and the authors, librettists, lyricists and composers of the good Dr. Carroll's gaucheries henceforth be placed on a raised dais in front of the trap drummer, where they can write the pieces to be presented in plain view of the audience while it waits!

This has never been done in any other theater in the world, either.

It will be of interest to patrons of the Fox Theater, as well as to his many personal friends acquired during service in Washington theaters over a long period of years, that the contract differences between Leon Brusiloff and the company management have been adjusted after several weeks of quiet negotiation.

Mr. Brusiloff, as I understand it, continues under the decision of those concerned as general musical director and contractor for the Fox, and, in addition, will serve as solo artist with the orchestra when such services are required.

This arrangement, I believe, will not affect Al Mitchell, who will continue as master of ceremonies during the presentation of the Fanchon and Marco "Ideas."

The prevalence of Leslie Howard on the local screen of late has developed as emphatic a division of opinion as exists, say, in the case of Rudy Vallee. One either likes Mr. Howard tremendously, it appears, or not at all.

Of the expressions that have come to this desk, all of a condemnatory nature have been from men. The majority, however, apparently are safely on Mr. Howard's side.

A breathless and heavily lathered courier dashes spectacularly in from the RKO-Keith sector with the hasty word that tomorrow morning will witness a special inaugural presentation of Helen Twelvetrees in "A Woman of Experience," now a record-breaking midsummer hit at the RKO-Mayfair Theater in New York.

The first screening of the picture will begin at 11 a. m., with the box-office open a half hour earlier. Thus, those wishing to view the variegated developments of "Lover Come Back" had best tend to it today or tonight. So far as it is concerned, tomorrow will never dawn.

If there had to be another distinction-without-a-difference note here, something might be said about wrestling in the District, but no boxing; wrestling pictures on the District screens until the cows come home, or the perspiring pachyderms pass out, but no fight pictures! Being a sucker for both rackets, this column wishes to be interpreted as putting in a plug for the mitt game, not a knock for the mat.

Russian Spring Wheat Average Unpromising

(Associated Press.)

The foreign service of the Agriculture Department said yesterday the condition of crops in important spring grain sections of Russia has for the most part been reported at average or less.

The present outlook for Russian spring wheat does not appear promising, the foreign service said, adding that winter wheat condition also was said to be average or slightly below. Late crop reports indicated a general decline in prospects for all Russian cereals. Preliminary reports of Russia's spring sowing campaign show about 240,000,000 acres planted to June 25, as compared with 221,000,000 last year. The 1931 plans call for 247,000,000.

(Associated Press.)

In answer to repeated inquiries, the Commerce Department wants it known that there was no gold or jewels aboard the steamer, City of Rio De Janeiro which sank in San Francisco Bay in 1901.

There was, however, quite a few casks of sake, a potent Oriental liquor. Reports that the City of Rio De Janeiro carried treasure have persisted since she went down and several attempts have been made to locate the wreck.

Wives of Tomorrow

FRANCES M'DONALD

Heroes on the Pan!

DEAR Frances McDonald:

I see by the papers you have us on the pan again. You are a hard one to please. Now it seems it is some poor well-meaning dunce who had to decide between jumping off the dock and giving the girl friend the air. I confess to not reading your hectic column regularly, so I missed the letter that got you so wrought up. But I glean that some big burly brute up and decided that he did not "choose" to have some maiden pining her heart away for him during the first hundred years that really are the hardest.

His story is that he gave her up for her own good. It is done every day, lady. Hadn't you heard? Listen, let's be serious about this. You have admitted yourself in this self-same column to having experienced many and diverse loves. Suppose the first fellow, with nothing in the world but his cheek had wormed out of you at the age of say 19 a promise to wait for him. You once wrote a wow of a description of that "first" fellow. Now suppose you had tied up with him. Wouldn't you be having a grand time now trotting out each day with the market basket to buy scraps for the children to eat. Instead you live the life you should, pleasantly remote from care, your own boss, a help to thousands, a happy, sound, useful woman. Can you tell me how that fellow could conceivably be entitled to mortgage your life and stultify your possibilities, deprive you of development and condemn you to mediocrity—just because he happened to love you? Yet you bawl out this fellow who knowing his own unworthiness, lets his girl out to find a better man. I call him the berries—although he is the razzberry to you! Be logical, woman. And let that poor fellow get off that sizzling pan!

NOMAD.

Since we must be personal who on earth can say that by going the way that I have gone. I have developed beyond what would have been possible in other circumstances? That "first fellow" is a millionaire. He had it in him to be one. I believe he would have been—even with such a wife to complicate his affairs. I am a writer. Could marriage with him have stopped me from being one? I doubt it. We might now be divorced. Again we might be very happy. He still thinks pretty well of my performance. And I admire him immensely. Our sons would be in prep school instead of waiting at home for the market basket of scraps! Besides even if I had known through love the experience of shopping for scraps to keep my children fed, I defy anyone to tell me that that would have downed me! Or that any experience could either stultify or sour me. And what I ask for every girl is merely the chance to take her chance! Perhaps I would not have had quite so many or quite such disappointing loves if the first fellow had not been so easily discouraged.

Reversal of Radio Decision Is Sought

(Associated Press.)

A move which might set aside all of the 1,409 licenses held by Radio Corporation of America subsidiaries was initiated yesterday by the Milwaukee Journal's broadcasting station.

Elisha Hanson, attorney for WTMJ, asked the District of Columbia Court of Appeals to reverse, insofar as it applies to Station WENR of Chicago, the Radio Commission's recent decision to renew licenses held by the National Broadcasting Co., R.C.A.-Victor Co., Inc., R.C.A. Communications, Inc., and the Radio Marine Corporation of America.

Hanson said he believed reversal of the WENR decision automatically would set aside all the licenses involved in the litigation. Representatives of R.C.A. asserted they would welcome an opportunity to test the commission ruling.

NEWS OF NEARBY VIRGINIA AND MARYLAND

WATER RATES SET FOR FALLS CHURCH

Mayor Authorized to Proceed in Having Mains and Meters Installed.

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST,
P. O. Box 245, Fairfax, Va.
Phone Fairfax 166.

The Falls Church town council at its monthly meeting Monday night established temporary rates for water, water main connections and authorized purchase of meters and other equipment. Mayor L. P. Daniel was given authority to employ some one to take charge of installations.

Pending completion of the municipal system, drilling of wells and adoption of regular rates, the water rent was set temporarily at $6 per quarter with a tapping charge of $35, payable $5 in advance and the balance $10 monthly. It is planned to secure water from Arlington County to turn into the mains as soon as they are laid in order to serve houses which need the water immediately.

Final arrangements for service from the Arlington County mains have not been completed, but the council is working on the basis of the county's tentative offer made some time ago to supply the town with water in emergencies at a rate of 30 cents per 1,000 gallons.

The town's water committee was instructed to secure a basis for a settlement with Arlington County for the transfer to the town of all mains already laid by it in the corporate limits.

The council, by its action of unanimously reappointing Horace E. Brown as a member of the twin school board for three years, ended a controversy which arose some months ago between the school board and citizens concerning the failure of the board to reappoint two teachers in the local elementary school.

A resolution was adopted calling on the State Highway Commission to have the town streets repaired, which were damaged when the State routed traffic on the Lee highway through detours in the corporate limits. Mayor Daniel called attention of the committee on laws to the need for revision of the town's traffic ordinances occasioned by widening of Washington street. One of the old ordinances prohibited parking of cars on one side of the street, which was considered unnecessary.

A report of the committee on roads and public works submitted a proposal from contractors now laying the Lee highway to remove the dilapidated sidewalk in East Falls Church from the bridge over Four Mile Run to the east building line of the Postoffice Building with curbing for $750.

Mayor Daniel brought to the attention of the zoning committee the need for adequate zoning regulations in the town. It was pointed out that under the law any zoning committee must be appointed by the judge of the circuit court and the town committee was directed to prepare a plan of action to submit to Judge Walter T. McCarthy for approval.

The board of directors of the Falls Church Bank reelected Dr. George Fadeley as president at the annual stockholders and directors meeting. Merton E. Church was elected first vice president; Dr. J. B. Gould, second vice president, and George A. Bready, cashier. Directors elected by the stockholders included Guy N. Church, Carroll V. Shreve, A. H. Barbor, George W. Hawxhurst, Horace A. Brown and Miss Mattie Gundry.

Preceding the directors' meeting the stockholders met with T. B. Snoddy as chairman and C. V. Shreve, E. R. Merry and Dr. J. B. Gould as a credentials committee. They reported that 226 shares were represented in person, 493 by proxy and 281 unrepresented. A resolution extending appreciation to the active officers of the bank for the excellent condition of the bank and an increase in salary for the cashier was voted. The regular 6 per cent dividend was declared and ordered paid.

The president's annual report showed that during the past fiscal year the bank paid $6,713.83 to depositors, $6,000 in dividends and $2,133.55 in taxes, and the current expenses amounted to $12,933.43. District Jobs Body Gets Second Office

Will Maintain Its Summer Headquarters in Old St. James Hotel.

The headquarters of the District committee on unemployment will be maintained in the old St. James Hotel building, at Sixth street and Pennsylvania avenue, throughout the midsummer job campaign which begins July 20, and ends August 15, according to an announcement made yesterday.

The committee, it was said, will not give up the present offices in the District Building, but all business pertaining to the summer activity will be transacted in the newly established offices, which are being used through the courtesy of the Office of Public Buildings and Public Parks.

Applications for work will be taken and forwarded to the public employment service office, which is acting as a clearing house. Various efforts are being made by the committee officials to persuade Washingtonians to hunt work around their places that may be done by those out of work at the present time.

MONTGOMERY SELLS $1,055,000 IN BONDS

$98.75, Big Drop in Value, Paid by Baltimore Firms; New Board Meets.

Montgomery County Bureau of The Post,
9103 Conn. Ave., North Chevy Chase, Md.
Telephone Wisconsin 4208.

Montgomery County's $1,055,000 in school and road construction bonds yesterday sold for the lowest figure that county bonds have brought in a long time. County officials declared that the recent activities of antiadministration groups in charging corruption in county offices is the chief cause of the sudden drop in bond values for the county.

The bonds sold for 98.75, which means that the issue is sold at a loss to the taxpayers of approximately $70,350 as compared with the prices brought by the last several issues of county bonds. The issue sold on May 26 brought a price of $105.31 and the June 9 issue for $104.312 and were purchased by the same group of Baltimore financiers.

The Baltimore firms which bought the bonds explained they could not offer more for the bonds because of reports that the county's financial situation was so grave that a grand jury investigation was imminent. They were forced to buy back several blocks of the earlier issues because of the reports, they told Berry E. Clark, clerk to the county commissioners.

The firms which bought the issue are the Mercantile Trust Co., of Baltimore; Chase, Harris, Forbes Corporation, Union Trust Co., of Maryland, and the Baltimore Trust Co..

The new Montgomery County Board of Assessors met yesterday at Rockville for the first time and discussed plans for inaugurating their work in the county. The three members of the board are: J. Hempstone Griffith, of Rockville, chairman; R. E. Hamilton, of Chevy Chase Terrace, and Maj. Phil D. Poston, of Silver Spring.

The assessors plan to make a study of the methods in use in tax assessing in the District of Columbia, Baltimore County and other jurisdictions which have systems which have been approved.

The Rockville Volunteer Fire Department will meet tonight at the firehouse at 8 o'clock. Election of a president and action on the proposal to purchase a rescue wagon and equipment for the department will be discussed.

President F. Barnard Welsh resigned when the department voted to purchase the equipment over his protest by an almost unanimous vote.

Mrs. Julia P. Anderson and Thomas M. Anderson, of Rockville, yesterday filed suit for injunction against the Maryland Gas Transmission Corporation. The petition asks that the company be enjoined from further trespass on their property and that they be forced to move a length of pipe and platform mounted on wheels which it is alleged was erected in violation of the agreement entered into by the parties in permitting the construction of a gas main and appurtenances on the property.

ARLINGTON COUNTY ROAD FUND IS CUT

War Department to Keep Up Only Links Within Fort Myer.

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

It was learned from reliable sources yesterday that the War Department has notified the office of C. L. Kinnier, county engineer, that it will discontinue maintenance of Federal roads in Arlington County save those within the limits of Fort Myer Military Reservation. Indications are that the matter will be one of the principal subjects at the meeting of the county board of supervisors today.

Commonwealth's Attorney William C. Gloth admitted having a conference with Engineer Kinnier, but declined any statement other than that he considered the question a matter for the supervisors to determine.

There are 22 miles of Federal roads within the county, and of that number not more than 6 are within Fort Myer.

Another matter to come before the board will be the request to be made by former Commonwealth's Attorney Capt. Crandal Mackey that the board file suit in the circuit court of Arlington County to test the constitutionality of the act of he General Assembly of 1930 providing for a change in the form of county government.

In discussing this matter B. M. Hedrick, supervisor, said yesterday he could not see how the board would have any jurisdiction in the matter.

Another matter to come before the board will be the purchase of the water lateral lines in Falls Church within the limits of Arlington County by the Town of Falls Church. It was revealed that a delegation of town officials will appear before the board in an effort to perfect such an arrangement.

To this question Commonwealth's Attorney Gloth also declined to voice an opinion, saying it was a matter for the board to decide.

The board will convene at the courthouse at 10 o'clock.

The Arlington Rotary Club meets tomorrow at 12:30 o'clock at the Washington Golf and Country Club. A full attendance is urged, as President Thomas Phillips, who recently returned from Vienna, Austria, where he attended the National Rotary convention, will submit his report on the activities of the convention.

A Cub Scout Troop of 50 boys, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association of the Henry Clay School at Lyon Park, was organized last night in the public park adjacent to the Lyon Park Community House. The Rev. Isaac Steenson, pastor of the Clarendon Presbyterian Church, was selected cub master.

The committee on organization included: A. D. Adams, chairman; Capt. W. C. Dunkle, Harry Sims, H. H. McKinney, John Buchanan, the Rev. J. H. Smith, and the Rev. Isaac Steenson.

ALEXANDRIA HOTEL REELECTS OFFICERS

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

The George Mason Hotel, practically all the stock of which is owned locally, showed the smallest operating loss in the year ended June 30, 1931, of any year since its erection, the figures being $11,773, according to the report made to the stockholders by Gen. J. Leslie Kincaid, president of the American Hotels Corporation, which operates the George Mason. The indications are that during the coming year, with the many conventions coming to Alexandria incident to the Bicentennial celebration of Washington's birthday, the hotel will show a large profit.

The stockholders reelected C. Page Waller president and John Barton Phillips secretary of the corporation. The old board of directors, consisting of C. Page Waller, Carroll Pierce, Harry Hammond, Benedict Weil, C. S. Taylor Burke, Charles T. Nicholson, J. Leslie Kincaid, A. J. Haas and Edward Olmstead, was reelected on motion by R. E. Knight. The management was praised by William Albert Smoot, and on his motion a rising vote of thanks was extended to the board of directors for their excellent work, and Doll M. Zirkle, manager, was also given a rising vote of thanks.

J. William May, R. E. Knight and Aubrey Shuman were appointed a residential committee, and they reported 55 shares of stock represented at the meeting, with 1,908 proxies of the 2,870 shares outstanding.

Lists of qualified voters in Alexandria, just issued by City Treasurer Roger C. Sullivan, show the largest number qualified of any previous time in the history of the city, the grand total being 5,945, with the next highest number 5,251.

Persons who have qualified will be entitled to participate in the Democratic primary to be held August 4, when a State senator and a member of the House of Delegates will be nominated, and in the general election in November, when these officials will be elected.

Lists containing the names of qualified voters were posted yesterday in the various wards.

William C. Gardner, of Washington, indicted on a charge of perjury by a grand jury in the corporation court here, and who was arrested in Florida, has surrendered to the local court and posted bond of $500 for his appearance, his case being set for July 23.

3 ZONINGS CHANGED IN PRINCE GEORGES

Commissioners of County Name 2 New Constables; Gravel Road Sought.

Three changes in zoning were approved by the Prince Georges County Board of Commissioners at their meeting in Marlboro yesterday. The changes included lot 31 on Guy avenue, in Hyattsville, belonging to Dickey brothers, which was changed from a residential to an industrial zone.

The other lots were No. 45 in Furman's subdivision in Hyattsville, belonging to George B. Furman, changed from residential to commercial, and a 100-foot tract on the Defense highway near Landover road, belonging to Hugh O'Neal, of Bladensburg. This was also changed from residential to commercial zoning.

The commissioners appointed two constables, rejected another, and received another application. Charles W. Robey was appointed for Vansville district, and William Kreitzer, a town commissioner of Bowie, was appointed in Bowie district. The application of Clinton W. Perrygo for a similar post in Oxon Hill district was turned down, although Benson P. McDaniel, justice of the peace in that district, appeared to recommend him.

An application for the post as constable in Kent District was received from Kelly Woodell, with the indorsements of Chief of Police J. J. Crowley, Louis Gundling, justice of the peace, and J. Raymond Cooms. This application will be advertised for 30 days to give time for interested persons to file objections to the appointment with the commissioners.

R. W. Bellamy, State commissioner of employment, appeared before the board to recommend that they write into all county contracts a clause compelling the use of local labor. Mr. Bellamy, who lives in Cheverly, said that a number of other counties are making this a practice.

The road committees of Bowie and Berwyn Districts appeared to ask the construction of a gravel road from Branchville to Glenn Dale. The two committees, who were empowered to act as a delegation from the citizens of these districts, proposed that the road be financed jointly by the road committees and the commissioners.

They proposed that each road district appropriate $500 from their road fund for this year to put with $1,500 to be appropriated by the commissioners. Next year the districts would take $500 from their fund, which comes from the county treasury, and put it with $1,000 to be provided by the commissioners. The stretch is 3.2 miles long.

The commissioners agreed to take over as a county road the stretch 2.25 miles long from Waterloo to Temple Mill road.

Braemar Forest Land Is Auctioned

56½ Acres of Calhoun Estate Taken Over for $92,000.

Fifty-six and a half acres of Braemar Forest, 72-acre estate of Capt. Clarence C. Calhoun and Mrs. Daisy B. Calhoun, in Montgomery County, Md., were sold under mortgage at public auction yesterday by T. Howard Duckett, attorney, representing the mortgagees, for $92,000, to the Maryland Title Securities Corporation, the sole bidder.

The purchase, it was learned, will not interfere with a community project planned for Braemar Forest by Gustave Nassauer, New York financier, in cooperation with the construction department of Sears-Roebuck & Co., but merely clears the title to this part of the tract acquired by Mr. Nassauer in May.

The acreage sold yesterday is exclusive of .1746 of an acre conveyed to the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission for a road. Thomas J. Owen & Son conducted the sale.

WHITE SOX POUND FISCHER AND BROWN TO BEAT NATS, 9-1; HAGEN DEFEATS ALLISS BY STROKE IN CANADIAN PLAY-OFF

Birdie Three Decides on 35th Hole

Match is Squared 6 Times; Putter Fails British Pro.

MISSISSAUGA COUNTRY CLUB, Toronto, Ontario, July 14 (A. P.).—The old showman, Walter Hagen, fought an uphill battle to conquer Percy Alliss, British pro, at the Wannsee Club in Berlin, by a single stroke in their 36-hole play-off for the Canadian open golf championship today.

"The Haig," after trailing Alliss by one stroke in the morning round with a 73 to the Briton's 72, shot a brilliant 68, 4 under par, in the afternoon to win the title with a 36-hole total of 141. Alliss followed his par-equaling morning round with a fine 70 in the afternoon, only to see Hagen slip into the championship with a magnificent display on the last nine holes.

Alliss' Putting Fails in Crisis.

In the final analysis, the ding-dong battle was decided on the thirty-fifth hole. Alliss had squared the match at the thirty-fourth by sinking a 35-foot putt for a birdie 3. On the next hole, however, Hagen's second just failed to go down and he sank a short putt for a birdie 3 without difficulty. Alliss' second had rolled to within a yard of the cup, but in this crisis, the Briton's putting touch failed and the ball rolled to one side of the cup, giving Hagen the one-stroke lead he needed so badly.

As it was, Alliss came within an ace of squaring the match at the home green, a long putt for a birdie three missing by inches. Hagen, with the championship in his grasp, played safely, carefully rolling up his approach putt and sinking the short one he had left to halve the final hole in fours, thus winning the one big championship he never previously had captured.

It was a heart-breaking defeat for Alliss, for he had held the lead most of the day and then had rallied gamely to deadlock the match after being two strokes to the bad as late as the thirty-first. He cut "Sir Walter's" lead to one stroke at the thirty-third when Hagen three-putted, and then deadlocked the match again with his long putt at the thirty-fifth.

Match is Tied Six Times.

All told, the match was all square no fewer than six times. Hagen started shakily and found himself four strokes to the bad after four holes. He clipped single strokes off this advantage at the sixth, eighth and ninth holes to turn in 35 strokes to 34 for Alliss.

Alliss went two strokes ahead again at the thirteenth, where Hagen put his second in the Credit River, but the Detroit veteran holed out with a deuce at the fourteenth to square the match. Alliss blowing a 14-inch putt and taking four. Hagen went into the lead for the first time at the fifteenth, and after that it was anybody's match, as first one and then the other would take the advantage.

Not more than one stroke separated the two stars then until Hagen gained a lead of two at the twenty-third hole. Alliss squared it again at the twenty-fifth and then went one up again at the twenty-seventh, where Hagen missed a putt of a foot.

It was at this point that Hagen made his stand. Walter almost holed his tee shot at the short twenty-eighth and scored a deuce to square the match, then followed with a birdie three at the twenty-ninth that put him two strokes ahead. Alliss holed a 30-footer at the thirtieth but still trailed his rival until he finally squared the match for the last time on the thirty-fourth.

Hagen, in winning the championship, shot three rounds of 68. He led the field with 68-68 at the half-way mark, added 72 on his third round and 74 on his fourth to permit Allis to tie him with 67-71-73-71 at 282. Hagen's third 68 came in today's play-off.

MRS. MOODY TO INVADE ENGLAND

Former Helen Wills Hopes to Regain Titles in 1932.

BROOKLINE, Mass., July 14 (A.P.).—Mrs. Helen Wills Moody announced that she planned to return to England next year and attempt to regain her Wimbledon tennis laurels when she arrived here today to polish up her game for the coming Eastern campaign.

The former queen of the courts also hopes to play in France and Germany next season.

Mrs. Moody's current plans call for a few days of intensive practice here on the Longwood Courts this week and participation in the Essex Country Club's invitation affair next week at Manchester, Mass. Her other Eastern play will be the Seabright (N. J.) tournament, the Wightman Cup matches and the Nationals at Forest Hills, Long Island.

Shortly after her arrival here from San Francisco Mrs. Moody appeared on the court and played a practice set with Tamas Maddish, thee Longwood professional.

Bush Hurls, His Well As Cubs Defeat Giants

Chicago, July 14 (A.P.).—Guy Bush held the New York Giants scoreless until the ninth inning today and the Chicago Cubs pounded out an 8-to-4 victory over two visiting hurlers. Four of the Giants' eight hits came in the final inning.

Bill Morrell, who started for the Giants, was knocked from the box in the fifth. Bush helped dispose of him by singling in the third and scoring on Cuyler's double and then doubling in the fourth to bring in Hartnett and Jurges. Bill Walker kept the Cubs in hand the rest of the way, but his mates could not overcome the locals' long lead.

Boston, July 14 (A.P.).—Singles by Ferrell, Storti and Burns with two out after Melillo had walked in the sixth inning netted three runs for the St. Louis Browns and a 5—3 victory over the Boston Red Sox today. Burns' single drove in the last two runs.

Schmeling to Rest; Eye Injured

Specialists' Decision to Keep Champ Idle 2 or 3 Months.

BERLIN, July 14 (A.P.).—Max Schmeling, heavyweight boxing champion, can do no training or boxing for at least two and probably three months, because of the left eye injured in his fifteen-round title defense against W. L. Stribling in Cleveland July 3.

Eye specialists, called in today by the champion within 24 hours after his return home warned him he must take a complete rest for several months. Their decision probably puts an end to negotiations in New York leading up to another championship match in the United States in September with Primo Carnera, the Italian giant, as the contender.

Eye Showed Slight Mark Day After.

After Schmeling sailed for home, Joe Jacobs, his manager, agreed with Madison Square Garden of Illinois for a title defense early in the fall against Carnera, but there have been persistent rumors since that this match would not take place.

After winning recognition as champion by defeating Jack Sharkey on a foul in four rounds in New York June 12, 1930, Schmeling returned to Germany after agreeing to a return match and announced from there that injuries resulting from the low blow prevented his going through with the bout.

Errors by Reds Help Browns to Win, 3 to 2

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 14 (A.P.).—Loose fielding by Tony Cuccinello, whose two errors set the stage for two Boston runs today, spoiled a pitchers' battle between youthful Si Johnson and the veteran Tom Zachary, the Braves winning, 3 to 2.

Johnson gave up two less hits than Zachary, but his hurling was discounted by Cuccinello's wobbles.

MACKS LOSE TO TIGERS, 12 TO 3

Earnshaw Is Pounded as Herring Holds A's Sluggers.

PHILADELPHIA, July 14 (A.P.).—The Detroit Tigers bumped George Earnshaw around the field today to take the first contest of a five-game series here with the Athletics, 12 to 3.

Detroit scored one run in each of the first two innings and added three in the third to assure a safe lead. Jonathan Stone hit a home-run in the fifth for the Tigers.

Herring went the route for the Tigers and was never in serious trouble. Bing Miller gave the Macks a run by hitting for the circuit in the sixth.

Despite their defeat, the Mackmen lost no ground in the championship race with Washington as the Nats were defeated by the White Sox.

The Yankees picked up a half game on both of the leaders by splitting in a double-header with the Cleveland Indians.

Indians Finish Season In Own Baseball Park

Cleveland, July 14 (A.P.).—The Cleveland Indians will finish the local season at their present home at League Park, Billy Evans, general manager, said today.

The Indians had hoped to move into Cleveland's new municipal stadium by the end of the month, but the city council refused to accept the management's final proposal of terms for a lease.

Thorn Low Gross Winner In Maryland Golf Play

By HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST.

DARKNESS had descended on the course of the Chevy Chase Club last night when the last of the 105 entries in the 18-hole medal play handicap tournament staged by the Maryland State Golf Association came up to the score board to register their cards. It was thoroughly appropriate that the Maryland contestants should make almost a clean sweep of all the prizes offered in the event.

Only the local professionals showed their superiority over the visitors. The low gross money was won by Arthur B. Brown, Woodmont, with a card of 35, 36—71, with J. Monro Hunter, Indian Spring, in second place with 36, 36—72.

When Thorn's 71 was posted so late in the evening that it was almost impossible to see the figures, Hunter naturally regretted that he had taken three putts on the twelfth green when he was within nine feet of the cup and that his tee shot on the fifteenth was in a trap, costing him a 6 for the hole. Thorn's score was only two over par and it is hardly necessary to add that at no time was he in serious trouble.

The cards:

Out—
Thorn	4	4	5	2	5	4	4	4	3	—35
Hunter	4	5	5	3	4	3	4	5	3	—36
In—
Thorn	4	4	4	3	4	4	4	5	4	—36—71
Hunter	2	4	5	3	5	6	3	4	4	—36—72

The contestants were divided into three classes, A, B, and C, on a handicap basis, with prizes for low gross and low net in each class. The winners were as follows:

Class A—Low gross, E. L. Caldwell, Hillendale, 38—40—78; low net, Walter Leonard, Hillendale, 81—9—72.

Class B—Low gross—E. F. Brunins, Forest Park, 44—43—87. Low net, Dr. L. I. Davis, Hillendale, 88—18—69.

Class C—Low gross—George W. White, Hillendale, 50—54—104. Low net, J. S. Rowan, Rolling Road, 100—24—76.

Frank P. Reeside, of the Chevy Chase Club, whose card of 82—9—73, lost out in low net Class A by one stroke, had the misfortune to be penalized two strokes because he stepped on the line of his put.

A team match on the course of the Columbia Club yesterday between women players of the Washington and Columbia Clubs resulted in a victory for the Columbia players by a score of 4½ to 3½ points. In the first four-ball match, with Mrs. J. Marvin Haynes and Mrs. S. F. Colladay paired against Mrs. William E. Hall and Mrs.

YANKS SPLIT; 2 HOMERS BY GEHRIG

Tribe Wins 5-1 and Loses 19-2; Chapman Steals 3 Bases.

NEW YORK, July 14 (A.P.).—The Cleveland Indians opened their Eastern invasion by splitting a double header with the New York Yankees today, the locals winning the first by the lop-sided score of 19 to 2 and losing the second, 5 to 1.

Lou Gehrig hit his twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth home runs in the first tilt, in which the Yankees made 19 hits for a total of 35 bases. Ben Chapman, of the Yankees, stole three bases, bringing his total to 34. Jim Weaver held the Indians to seven hits.

Harder, Indian right-hander, and Averill, slugging outfielder, contrived to lick the Yankees in the second. Harder allowed eight scattered hits and Averill knocked in the winning runs with a home run in the sixth. He also hit a homer in the first game.

SISTER ZOE FINISHES FAST TO WIN FEATURE AT ARLINGTON

Mare Scores Surprise Victory

Pace-Setting Robins Egg Second, Half Length Back.

Rocket Glare Third. Her Grace Disappointing Last.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 14 (A.P.).—Moving up from last place in the stretch, the Four Oaks Stock Farm 6-year-old mare, Sister Zoe, was the surprising winner this afternoon of the Glencoe Purse at 7 furlongs at Arlington Park.

The Green Tree Stable's Robin's Egg, the leader all the way, was a half length back for second, with Rocket Glare third, a length back, in a race run in 1:23 4-5. Her Grace, Ral Parr's highly regarded 4-year-old filly, was a disappointment, finishing last.

Joey Bibb, C. C. Vanmeter's candidate for Saturday's Arlington classic, was an easy winner in the Dallas Purse at a mile and a furlong, winning by two lengths over John Marsch's Chief John, the only other starter. After having won the race in 1:51 3-5, Joey Bibb worked out the classic distance of a mile and a quarter in the good time of 2:05.

Don Leon Winner At Latonia.

Latonia, Ky., July 14 (A.P.).—Don Leon, R. W. Collins' fleet Lee O. Cotner colt, showed a return to the good form which led him to the 2-year-old championship of the West last year, when he scored in the Wyoming Purse, cofeature here today. The little chestnut led throughout the 6 furlongs to cover the distance in 1:12 3-5.

S. S. Combs' Back Log, which only recently hit his stride, was in second place throughout. Scotland's Glory, from the C. W. Hay stable, was never in serious danger of losing the show end of the purse. Streakolite and King's Navy were the only other starters. King's Navy was left at the post and Streakolite was always outrun.

The Westwood purse, a mile and seventy yard affair which shared interest with the Wyoming, saw H. P. Gardner's Betty Derr scoring her third success of the current meeting. The Sir Gallahad III filly displayed rare gameness to outlast L. Johnson's Overlay after being headed at the head of the stretch. J. W. Parrish's favorite, quit badly after showing early speed and finished out of the money. Betty Derr paid $10.06 for each $2 investment.

The Balloon Ball As Golf Experts See It

This is the third of a series of seven articles in which the country's leading golf pros give their reactions to the new "lighter" ball, and the methods they are using in meeting its new problems.

By BILLIE BURKE
(Member of the 1931 American Ryder Cup Team).

IT is difficult for me to understand the reason for all the argument over the new ball.

I venture to say that if the lighter and larger golf ball had been placed on the market without a line of publicity, the majority of golfers, pro and amateur alike, could not have noticed much difference. Now that the cry has been started, it is more of a mental hazard than anythnig else.

Change my stance and grip? Certainly not. I hit the new ball in exactly the same manner as I hit the old ball. In the wind perhaps I do make a slight change in stance, but the same thing had to be done with the old one on a windy day.

There is another thing of which I am a little more careful. I start my backswing a little slower to insure myself a more accurate impact. At the same time a roll of the wrist when the club head meets the ball will give a little more distance.

On the fairway my golf style has not changed in any respect. I use the same old system and it gets me by fairly well.

When it comes to putting the old ball may be a trifle better. I find that the new ball has a slight tendency to rim the cup, whereas the old one would topple into the cup.

BILLIE BURKE
"...I use the same old system and it gets me by pretty well."

Lindstrom Leaves Hospital.

Philadelphia, July 14 (A.P.).—Fred Lindstrom, right fielder of the New York Giants, who broke a bone in his left instep in a game with the Phillies here last week, expects to leave the hospital here on Thursday and will go to Chicago. He will be on crutches for some time.

EGYPT pressed the early leaders for the first half mile, then moved up to take command in the final furlong and held VOLTA GREEN at the end. VOLTA GREEN was a forward contender and took a short lead in the stretch, but was tiring fast at the finish. BEAUTIFUL DOLL made up ground gradually and was going well at the end. DICK MORRIS sprinted into a good lead in the early running, but tired in last furlong. BLACK COMET and DOWNPOUR tired after going a half mile.

FOURTH RACE—Seven furlongs (out of chute). Purse, $1,800; allowances. For 3-year-olds and upward, fillies and mares. Start good. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:55. Off at 3:56. SISTER ZOE, although a trailer in the early part, was always within striking distance of the leaders and, coming with a rush through the stretch, caught ROBIN'S EGG in the last fifteen yards and was drawing away rapidly at the finish. ROBIN'S EGG set the pace under slight restraint, but tired badly in the last furlong. ROCKET GLARE was also tiring, but was going well at the end. NELLIE CUSTIS met with slight interference in the first quarter. HER GRACE was never dangerous.

STONE MARTIN, in a prominent position in the early running, came with a rush when straightened out in the stretch and, catching DIS DAME a sixteenth out, was an easy winner. DIS DAME took a good lead on the back stretch and raced well thereafter, but was not good enough to resist winner. ENGLEWOOD was prominent from the start. BUBOLA suffered interference, but closed fast. SWEEP PAST and LAURA NEGLEY tired badly in the run home. BROWN HILLS weakened after looming up. ATLIL was shut off soon after the start.

FRANCES WALKER WINS DISTRICT PUBLIC PARKS NET TITLE

Gains Title In Two-Set Match

Mrs. Martinez Bows to Old Rival by 6-4 Scores.

Miss Walker to Represent City in National Play.

FRANCES ESTELLE WALKER, former captain of George Washington University's tennis team, yesterday afternoon dethroned Mrs. Ruth B. Martinez to win the second annual District of Columbia Public Parks championship, winning in straight sets, 6—4, 6—4. The match was delayed an hour by the afternoon's showers.

The rain, which softened the courts at Rock Creek Park considerably, wrought a blessing in disguise for Miss Walker, whose victory can be traced to a consummate use of dropshots which barely rose from the court once they had cleared the net. These tactics played havoc with Mrs. Martinez' driving backcourt game, which needs long, straight drives directed against it in order that it will function well.

Miss Walker Gains Edge.

The victory of Miss Walker gave her an edge of 4-3 over Mrs. Martinez in a rivalry which saw its start at Eaglesmere, Pa., in 1929, when Miss Walker triumphed over her foe in their first meeting. Her three remaining victories over Mrs. Martinez came in the 1930 City of Washington singles, the 1930 Wardman Park Hotel tournament and yesterday. Mrs. Martinez won in the 1929 Wardman, the 1930 District and the 1931 Women's League tournament.

Two absolutely antithetical games clashed yesterday. Miss Walker makes use of underspin and Mrs. Martinez directs her shots with topspin. Miss Walker volleys consistently, and did yesterday, while Mrs. Martinez wins or loses her matches from the baseline. Miss Walker thrives on across-court shots, while Mrs. Martinez is a disciple of the center theory in tennis.

Damp Court Aids Shots.

Miss Walker had the game to beat Mrs. Martinez yesterday, and capitalized on it. The dampness of the court caused her shots to skid a bit more than they customarily do, and Miss Walker, wisely enough, did not change her game. Mrs. Martinez's driving prevailed in the early parts of each set. The eventual victim led, 3 to 0, in the first set and 3 to 1 in the second, only to be caught and passed.

Miss Walker will represent Washington in the ninth annual national public parks championship, to be contested the week of August 17 in Detroit.

Billie Burke of the 'Common People' Becomes Overnight Golf Sensation

AP

FAME has been a little slow in getting around to Billie Burke (formerly Burkowski), but when it arrived it came with a bang.

Few people ever had heard of the 28-year-old Connecticut Lithuanian when the Ryder Cup matches rolled around this year. True, he had won the North and South open at Pinehurst, N. C., in 1928, and several other tournaments of more or less sectional interest.

But when the time neared for the big international event at Columbus few mentioned his name in the same breath with the Hagens, Whitcombes and Sarazens. He was just another one of the pros entered in the elimination test to fill out the American team.

But from that point on Burke started shooting golf that leaves Tommy Armour, British open and P. G. A. champion, somewhat in the shade. There has been little talk recently about Armour, "the Bobby Jones of the pros." Athletic fame being what it is, things will probably remain that way until some new hero bobs up in the coming national amateur.

In the 72-hole elimination for the cup team, Burke shot a par cracking 284, and in the matches defeated Archie Compston, bulwark of the British team, 8 and 7, and held up his end in a winning foursome match.

Following America's victory at Columbus, Burke and the rest of the pros moved to Toledo. When the smoke cleared, Burke was the winner by a stroke over George Von Elm, following 144 holes of play, 72 holes of which were in two days of playoff.

Burke is one of the most popular men ever to win the open championship, and should have no great trouble crashing in on the professional golfer's greatest prize in exhibition matches and with indorsements.

He is the son of a Naugatuck, Conn., iron worker and is decidedly "one of the boys." It was his quality of a guy for friendship which got him a chance to play tournament golf after he had given up a regular job as a caddy and gone to work in a Bridgeport, Conn., iron factory.

Friends outfitted him for a Connecticut amateur tournament in 1928, where he was runner-up, and helped him start his career as a pro.

During his long playoff match it was Burke and not the nationally known though more aloof Von Elm who caught the gallery's eye. He was distinctly of the "common people," and they loved it.

During the matches he smoked a cigar which he handed to his caddy while shooting. And on the final hole he permitted the distraction of the whirring of a movie camera, while he made the final putts on which the open championship hinged. He thought the Nation would want to see the winning stroke, and he was sure he wanted it to. He's that kind of a guy.

3,000 SEATS FOR TILDEN MATCH

Stadium at Wardman Ready for Pro Net Play Sunday.

WORKMEN yesterday completed the miniature stadium which will surround Court No. 2 at Wardman Park Hotel to house the fans who Sunday will see Big Bill Tilden, Karel Kozeluh, Francis T. Hunter, Emmett Pare and Bobby Sellers clash in a series of exhibition tennis matches.

Able to seat 3,000 spectators the stands are similar to those erected during the Davis Cup matches at Chevy Chase. Forty boxes have been erected along the sidelines of the court, with six chairs in each box. A stand will be placed behind the court, on the hotel side.

Tilden Comes Here Friday.

Only $1 and $2 tickets were released yesterday to sport stores. The $3 box seats will be the only reserved seats sold, and all will be distributed at the hotel, where reservations may be made.

Tilden, fresh from his victory in the national professional championship last week at Forest Hills, will arrive in town Friday night. The gaunt, battle-scarred Davis Cup veteran, who, despite his 38 years, is playing the game of his life, has not shown his enormous bag of strokes to local audiences since early 1928 at Tech High Gymnasium.

The following shops have been appointed as ticket offices: Spalding's, Joe Turner's, the Tennis Shop, Fairway and Sport Mart. Matches Sunday will start at 2:30 with Tilden's singles clash with Kozeluh. Following that will be a double match in which Tilden and Hunter will meet Kozeluh and Sellers. Hunter will engage Pare in the third match of the day.

Piedmont League Split Season Brings Appeal

Raleigh, N. C., July 14 (U.P.).—Action of Piedmont League ball club owners in voting for a split season against the ruling of their president and the protests of one of their members will be taken for final settlement to the National Association of Professional Ball Clubs, it became known today.

Judge W. G. Bramham, president of the league, announced the appeal, claiming that the owners' action, taken by a 6-2 vote, was illegal because it was not unanimous. The Raleigh Club sided with President Bramham. Charlotte was in the lead at the end of the first half of the Piedmont season.

Greensboro, N. C., July 14 (U.P.).—The franchise of the High Point Piedmont League Club will remain here as the result of the decision to split the season, Mrs. E. E. Sensenbach, the club's president, announced today. It had been proposed that the club franchise be moved to Danville, Va.

DOEG FORCED TO LIMIT TO WIN

Other Seeded Stars Victors in Longwood Tennis.

By BILL KING

BROOKLINE, Mass., July 14 (A.P.).—Champion Johnny Doeg, whose present brand of tennis belies his top national ranking, today was barely able to squeeze into the quarter-finals of the Longwood bowl singles play and keep step with six of the other seeded stars.

Doeg was forced to put on a terrific last-minute drive to escape unharmed from the racquet of Eugene McCauliff, a seasoned campaigner from Yonkers, N. Y., whose own game was greatly bothered by his injured leg. The score was 6—3, 6—4, 7—9, 3—6, 6—3. The husky blond titlist fell to pieces when he needed but two more games to clinch the match.

Doeg and Coen Meet Today.

Doeg will encounter Junior Coen in tomorrow's quarter-finals. Coen advanced on an easy 6—2, 6—4, 6—2 victory over Capt. W. S. Anderson of the U. S. Army.

Another straight set win was scored by Keith Glendhill, of Santa Barbara, Calif., who trounced Dave Niles, of Boston, 6—4, 6—1, 6—1.

The Californian youngster, who has won the intercollegiate and Rhode Island singles championships in the past few weeks, will have Wilmer Allison, the second seeded Texan, as his quarter-finals opponent.

Allison, like Doeg, is very short on tennis this season, but he managed to win, 6—2, 3—6, 6—3, 6—4, over Sam Fitch, of New York, without being pressed. Another star to meet with unexpected opposition today was Clifford Sutter, of New Orleans, the tourney's defending champion. He made a ragged start against Ernest Kuhn, of New York, but won, 0—6, 6—0, 7—5.

The unhurried Jan Kozeluh, top-seeded foreigner from Czechoslovakia, won the right to exchange strokes with Sutter by eliminating Parker Cummings, New York, in steady fashion, 6—3, 6—2, 6—1.

Vines and Turner Clash In Quarter-finals.

RULE B

The other quarter-finalists were Ellsworth Vines, Californian, winner of the recent clay court play, and the unseeded Alfred Turney, of Boston. They will be paired tomorrow. Vines banged out a straight set, 6—4, 6—2, 6—0, victory over J. P. Laimbeer, of Groton City, Long Island, and Turner won from Harry Moore, of New York, 6—4, 8—6, 2—6, 6—1.

The doubles play brought 32 teams into action and the four seeded pairs, led by Gledhill and Vines, were among the survivors.

Opening play in the women's invitation tourney cut the field in half and among the sixteen to qualify for the next round were the eight seeded players, who were named in this order: Marjorie Merrill, Dedham; Dorothy Weisel, Sacramento, Calif.; Virginia Hilleary, Philadelphia; Josephine Cruickshank, Santa Anna, Calif.; Sarah Palfrey, Brookline; Mary Greef, Kansas City; Mianne Palfrey and Charlotte Miller, Berkley, Calif.

Results of the match:

Singles—Thomas (M.) defeated Reynolds (K.), 6—1, 6—4; M. Homer (M.) defeated Howell (K.), 6—3, 6—2; Sincell (K.) defeated G. Homer (M.), 6—1, 7—5; Weller (M.) defeated Oas (K.), 6—4, 5—7, 6—4; Kilmer (M.) defeated See (K.), 6—3, 4—6, 6—3; Mullis (M.) defeated Woodward (K.), 6—3, 6—2.

Pennsylvania Golfers Led by Dutra; Card, 69

Philadelphia, July 14 (A.P.).—Olin Dutra, of Los Angeles, took the lead today with a fine 69, in the first round of the annual 72-Hole Open Golf Tournament for the championship of Pennsylvania on the links of the Philadelphia Cricket Club.

After taking 38 strokes to the turn, Dutra railroaded his way home in 31, four shots under par for the back nine.

Aubrey Boomer, British player connected with a club in St. Cloud, France, was one stroke behind with a 70, and Auguste Boyer, also of France, was third with a 72. Joe Turness, White Plains, N. Y., and Al Heron, Reading, Pa., were tied with 73s.

Other scores included: Mortie Dutra, Long Beach, Calif., 41, 36—77; Gene Larkin, Washington, D. C., 37, 40—77.

Y. E. Booker, the contest ended all even.

Thomas P. Bones, jr., of the Columbia Club, yesterday received official notification that his entry for competition in the qualification round for the national amateur tournament to be played on the course of the Hermitage Club, Richmond, Va., on the 28th instant, had been accepted. This insures at least seven competitors in the event from Washington.

Among the Baltimore entries are Harry A. Parr, 3d., Alex M. Knapp, Donald McPhail, Edgar Lucas, Frederick A. Savage, jr., Ernest L. Caldwell, Thomas C. Cole and Harris Jones. All of these players have figured more or less conspicuously in golfing events in Baltimore and are certain to run a close race with the Washington contestants who include Miller B. Stevinson, Walter R. McCallum, John C. Shorey, Harry G. Pitt, Thomas P. Bones, jr., J. William Harvey, jr., and M. Parker Nolan.

Entries for the Maryland Country Club invitation tournament, which begins next Wednesday, close today. Twenty members of the Manor Club and fifteen members of the Indian Spring Club, have already sent in their names and a large delegation from Columbia, Washington, Beaver Dam and other Washington clubs is also assured. It is expected that the Washington entries will aggregate over 75.

Bass and Chocolate In Title Fight Tonight

The match involves the 130-pound title, which Bass has risked only once since winning it from Tod Morgan on a two-round knockout in New York on December 20, 1929.

WAKE OF GAME

out at first. A fifth alien run was crossing the plate at the time.

With the sacks loaded in the home third, Bluege shot a liner to left. "Fats" Fothergill, covering this territory with Lou Fonseca shifted to right, stumbled around, but finally managed to snare the ball.

There was a 28-minute delay between Faber's second and third strike ending the fourth, rain stopping play, with the count two and two on the Chicago hurler. When the game was continued, Fischer finished fanning him.

Fischer walked Blue on four successive balls opening the alien fifth. After Sullivan advanced him on a sacrifice, he stole third while Fischer was counting the crowd, or something, with the ball in his hand.

Brown made a sensational play to nip Fonseca at the plate in the fifth. He came in fast and gathered up Kerr's topped bounder in front of the plate. Not having time to toss to Hargrave to stop the runner, he dove for him, putting the ball on him just a foot or so from the plate. On the very next play another alien "bit the dust" at the check-in station, Fothergill being killed at home while trying to register on the front end of a double steal with Kerr.

Kuhel made all of the Nat putouts in the seventh.

Kuhel's double, the Nats' first extrabaser of the game, missed clearing the right field wall by less than two yards. It came with one gone in the seventh and helped nothing but the hitter's stick average.

Kerr made a fine stop of Harry Rice's liner to rob him of a hit and the Nats of a run in the ninth.

Harry Rice made a sensational diving shoe-string catch of Fonseca's drive opening the eighth. Bush, Chicago skipper, almost argued himself off the third base coaching line insisting that the center fielder had trapped the ball.

FABER MASTERS NATS AND WHITE SOX SCORE

Cronin followed with successive safe bunts and Harris walked, filling the bases. This put it up to Bluege and he cracked a liner to left, but Fothergill managed to snare it after stumbling while starting for it and otherwise making it look as though the drive would get by him. This was the last Washington chance.

Of the Nats' five hits, Harris' was questionable and Manush's and Cronin's bunts, leaving only two of the honest-to-goodness variety. And teams can not expect to win games with such puny hitting, especially when their opponents are crashing out eleven, with five coming in one frame and three in two others, Reynolds, Sullivan and Appling cracked out two each for the Windy Cityans, with one of Reynolds' being a triple.

U. S. HORSES WIN.

New Market, England, July 14 (A. P.).—The American sportsman A. K. Macomber sent two horses out to victory today in the races at New Market. His Rhum, at odds of 5 to 4, won the trial plate at one mile for a purse of $1,000, and Clustine led the parade to the wire in the Soltykoff stakes at 5 furlongs and 140 yards for a purse of $1,500. Clustine was odds on at 8 to 15, and won galloping by four lengths.

GROVE GETS CHANCE AT FT. WASH.

HAVING been justified in bringing Billy Strickler out of temporary retirement last Monday, Fort Washington A. A. officials are trying to sign Harry "Kid" Grove for a bout next Monday night. Grove once was one of the most popular fisticuffers in Washington.

Grove, a middleweight, has not fought for more than a year and since 1928 has not had more than a half-dozen fights. He is now working out in the Mohawk Club gymnasium and if negotiations are completed will make a comeback appearance on the forthcoming card, the fourth of the season at the nearby Army post.

Three 8-Rounders Listed.

The management took a gamble in signing Strickler, who had not seen action for nine months, and the rugged light heavyweight more than made good on his trial by earning a clean-cut decision over Joe Finazzo, of Baltimore.

If Grove fills in the dotted line, he will appear in one of the three eight-round tilts which top the program. In the other eights Frankie DeAngelo, of this city, will engage Billy Landers, featherweight champion of the Virginia National Guard, and Sailor McKenna, another local scrapper, will face Pepper Young, stablemate of Landers and National Guard lightweight champion.

Two four-round bouts will round out the show. The Government boat, which was disabled last Monday night, will be in readiness for next Monday's trip to the fort, it was announced last night.

Solons Table Garden's Request for Sanction

New York, July 14 (U.P.).—The New York State Athletic Commission today tabled until July 24 the request of Madison Square Garden for approval of a match between Jimmy McLarnin and Billy Petrolle on August 13 at either the Yankee Stadium or the Polo Grounds.

The commission gave no reason for the delay, but it has been rumored that the Garden would have difficulty obtaining sanction for outdoor matches, because one of its subsidiaries promoted the Schmeling-Stribling bout at Cleveland in opposition to the wishes of the commission.

The commission was more kindly disposed toward Primo Carnera, and approved Knute Hansen, the Dolefül Dane, who has been defeated by numerous second and third raters as a worthy opponent for the giant Italian, in a bout at Rochester, N. Y., July 20.

Gaithersburg in Streak, Plays Coleville Next

The Gaithersburg A. C. will play host to the Colesville Cardinals Sunday on the former's diamond. Gaithersburg ran its winning streak to seven straight Sunday with a double victory over the Waashington A. C. winning by the scores of 13-2 and 10-9. Esworthy's hurling, coupled with some timely hitting on the part of Goode, Dosh and Barber, gave the Marylanders the victories.

Ficucello, Retzlaff Fight Is Postponed

New York, July 14 (A.P.).—Rain tonight forced postponement until Thursday night of the bout between Charley Retzlaff, Duluth heavyweight, and Ralph Ficucello, of New York, scheduled for the Queensboro Stadium.

STOCK PRICE LOSSES NOMINAL AT CLOSING

Market Still Waits on News From Germany; Turnover Is 1,100,000 Shares.

New York, July 14 (A.P.).—Stocks were still willing to play a waiting game in the German matter today. The downward drift continued slowly, but few issues were off as much as two points at their lowest and the extreme declines were generally reduced before the close, making the average net loss little more than nominal. Once more the turnover contracted; total sales approximated 1,100,000 shares.

With the German banks on a two-day holiday, actual news developments in the Reich lacked spectacular elements. Evidence that repercussions of her troubles were being felt in other central European countries, notably Hungary, emphasized the disturbing possibilities in the situation.

Extension of the international credit to three months and France's announcement that she would not expect Germany to make the reparation payment due tomorrow give breadth to the breathing spell afforded by the bank closings, but it is believed in banking circles here that Berlin will sooner or later, and in some form or other, have to have another loan.

News Diverts Market.

Changes in domestic industry are being sidetracked in a market so completely diverted by the troubles of other nations. Home news today was sparse, embracing a rise in crude oil output for the past week, a 7¾ cent level for copper (equaling the record low) and a drop in cotton consumption last month.

On the other hand, American Metal Market reported that although there had been no pickup in demand for steel, production had advanced, presumably because of plant reopenings. "No increase of consequence over the present rate is expected by the trade in the next few weeks," said the review, "and perhaps no great increase until Labor Day has closed the vacation period, but it remains probable that August will make a slightly better showing than July, which may run in the neighborhood of 10 per cent under December production, or in approximately usual seasonal proportion."

Professional stock traders were unwilling to extend their operations while events abroad hung in so delicate a balance. U. S. Steel and American Can were down a couple of points at their lowest, but both declines were cut in half.

Phone Shares Drop.

American Telephone also dropped 2, notwithstanding the earnings report, which showed larger gross and net for the first half against a year ago, although that issue, too, halved its loss. Final quotations on Westinghouse, General Electric, General Motors, International Telephone, Consolidated Gas, Anaconda, Chrysler and Bethlehem were from a fraction to a point lower. Railroad issues fluctuated 2¾, and Union Pacific 1¼. International Match preferred lost 4 and Kreuger & Toll 1¾.

Foreign exchanges moved irregularly in contrast to yesterday's weakness. Quotations on the mark had to be nominal; rates given were somewhat lower. A good rise in the Dutch guilder may have reflected withdrawal of funds from Hungary. The French franc was firm, while sterling was off.

Wheat was easy, July selling down to 50½ cents, or one-eighth above the record 1894 low. Receipts were large and there was renewed pressure from hedging. Final quotations represented losses of ¼ to a full cent. Corn, irregular, finished ¼ lower to ½ higher, while cotton, after an early advance, concluded the day with declines of 1 to 6 points.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, July 14 (A.P.).—Cotton was steadier early today, but after showing gains of 6 to 11 points prices reacted to the low of the previous finals. The general market closed barely steady at 1 to 5 points net lower.

The market opened steady, 4 to 8 points higher, on the better showing in the Liverpool market and on a rather more favorable interpretation of the overnight news of the German situation. As the day progressed buyers became cautious and the market gradually declined under scattered selling prompted by the heaviness in the grain and stock markets. Furthermore, reports and talks in Texas had an generally favorable advices relative to the progress of the crop in that State also served to discourage aggressive operations on the buying side, while, as a matter of fact, it was the prevailing impression in the trade that the crop as a whole was making satisfactory growth and there was little in the crop situation to complain of.

The census report on consumption shows that 485,388 bales of cotton, exclusive of linters, had been consumed during June, which compared with 465,770 in May and 506,236 in June last year. Consumption for the eleven months was 4,820,430 bales, against 5,726,818 for the same period last year. These figures attracted some attention, but were too closely in line with expectations to be considered an active feature in the market. The demand generally during the day was small, but neither was the selling of large volume, and offers were fairly well absorbed by the trade.

Liverpool cabled that the market there had been influenced by continental buying, although trading was of small volume. Receipts today, 41,847, making 6,866,376 so far this season. Port receipts, 6,814. Port stocks, 2,863,376.

BOND MARKET SAGS AS GERMANS SLUMP

Average Prices of 10 Issues Are Lower; Day's Sales Total $9,814,000.

New York, July 14 (A.P.).—Selling pressure was evident in the bond market today, although the turnover with a few conspicuous exceptions was moderate. Sales totaled $9,814,000.

The attention of Wall street was focused on foreign, especially German, issues but domestic corporate bonds closed generally, if narrowly, lower. Average prices for ten bonds each of public utilities, railroads and industrials were all lower.

Foreign issues established a number of new low levels, some of which were the lowest on record for all time. The German 5½s of 1965 closed at another new low at 59 after sales totaling $603,000 at par value and the 7s of 1949 reached a new bottom price also at 86. German corporate, provincial and municipal loans afforded similar evidence of distress selling. A number of other European bonds, especially those of countries near Germany, were more active than usual and closed lower in most instances.

Evidence of this trend appeared in the action of Belgian 7s of 1956 and the 6s and 6½s of that nation, Danish 4½s, United Kingdom 5½s, Warsaw 7s, Rome 6½s, Paris-Lyons Mediterranean 6s, Paris-Orleans 5½s, Nord 6½s, Lyons 6s, and Italian 7s. Many Latin-American loans slumped, too.

United States Treasury and Liberty issues were quiet with one or two exceptions. They held steady until the afternoon but they closed narrowly lower.

Atchison General 4s picked such a day to reach a new 1931 high level at 101¼, on a steady demand, which is some indication of the high investment rating of these bonds. On the whole railroad issues, although more active than public utility or industrial loans, lost fractions both among the high grade and secondary issues. Rock Island refunding 4s 1934 were conspicuously weak.

Sales of utility and industrial loans were limited but the trend was irregularly lower.

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

While the Bell System reveals a loss in telephones during the first six months of 1931, according to the report of President Walter S. Gifford, released yesterday, its local unit showed a gain.

President Gifford's report to the stockholders of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. stated that during the first half of this year there was a net loss in the Bell System of approximately 100,000 telephones, or two-thirds of 1 per cent of those in service.

Telephones in Washington continue to increase, however, while other parts of the country show losses. For the first six months of this year, there has been a net gain of 4,022 telephones in the District of Columbia, as compared with 3,048 for the first six months of last year, according to a statement made yesterday by John A. Remon, general manager.

Net Gain of Phones

For the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Companies operating in the District of Columbia, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia, there has been a net gain of 13,076 telephones since January 1.

President Gifford's report states that the number of long distance calls handled was aboue 3 per cent less than for the same period in 1930, and total telephone revenues were about 1 per cent below last year's level. The company now has approximately 600,000 stockholders, an increase of 33,000 since the first of the year.

Net income for the company for the six months of 1931 was $89,109,843.92, as compared with $81,796,812.60 for the corresponding period last year. Net income per share for the first half of this year is $4.89, compared with $5.72 for the first half of last year.

Trust Work Is Subject

"Trust Work in National Banks" is an article by Aubrey B. Carter, well known in local banking circles, appearing in the July issue of the American Bankers Association Journal. Mr. Carter is a national bank examiner in charge of the section of trust department supervision, Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

His article reveals that between 1926 and 1930, the number of trusts administered by national banks has increased 250 per cent and that during the same period the volume of individual trust assets under administration has expanded $3,500,000,000 or 385 per cent.

The Departmental Bank, 1726 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, takes care of a share of the personal finance needs of this community in the form of what its president, Joseph T. Exnicios, characterizes as "character investment loans."

Under this plan the borrower is encouraged, indeed, is compelled, to save a part of his income amounting to approximately 10 per cent of the amount of his borrowings. The bank explains the system as follows:

The borrower, for instance, gives his note for $120, repaying $10 monthly for twelve months. He receives $101.20 cash immediately, and after net interest charge of $7.15 has been deducted, has a saving of $11.65 payable at the end of the loan period. The amount of the savings increases and the cost of the loan decreases with an increased amount of the monthly deposit.

American Phone Net Exceeds All Dividends

New York, July 14 (A.P.).—The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. in the first six months this year earned 39 cents a share in excess of its dividend requirements of $4.50 a share for the period.

Net income for the six months ended June 30, as reported today, was $89,109,843, equal to $4.89 a share on the average shares outstanding during the period, compared with $81,796,812, or $5.72 a share on a smaller capitalization for the corresponding period of 1930. June quarter net income was $43,924,430, equal to $2.38 a share on 18,480,174 shares, compared with $41,179,873, or $2.77 a share on 14,897,506 shares in the June quarter of 1930.

Head of Slain Sportsman Is Recovered in Louisiana

Baton Rogue, La., July 14 (A.P.).—The head of Earl Miles, youthful New Orleans sportsman, was found today in a drainage ditch a short distance from the spot where his decapitated body was discovered late yesterday. He disappeared July 6, and an intensive search for him was made after his blood-stained automobile was found near here.

Before Miles' head was found police expressed the belief a hired murderer decapitated him to be able to present proof of his death.

Miles recently brought an unsuccessful divorce suit against his wife and later assaulted a prominent New Orleans physician he had named as corespondent.

A coroner's jury today returned a verdict of death at unknown hands.

UTILITY BODY TO ASK 3-CENT FARE STUDY AS RATE FIGHT BASE

Motion Seeking Information to Be Filed in District High Court Today.

PEOPLE'S COUNSEL WINS RIGHT TO ENTER BATTLE

Keech to Appear in Case on Behalf of Users Who Benefit by Rate.

A motion requesting more information from the two street car companies and the Washington Rapid Transit Co. as to operation of the 3-cent school fare will be filed today by William A. Roberts, special assistant of the Public Utilities Commission, in the District Supreme Court as the first move of the utilities body to save the reduced fare.

People's Counsel Richmond B. Keech yesterday obtained leave to intervene in the case through an order signed by Justice Oscar Luhring after he had filed a motion to make an appearance in behalf of the users of the 3-cent fare.

Keech, Roberts Cooperate.

While he attacked the order of the commission recently on the ground that its interpretation of the law was too narrow, Mr. Keech has been cooperating with Mr. Roberts in preparing a defense of the order in court and will have a hand in whatever legal moves are contemplated.

The commission has now under way a valuation of the Washington Rapid Transit Co., recently instituted to combat some of the evidence offered by the bus company in the bill of complaint. The case is consequently not expected to be heard for several months.

Confiscatoin Is Alleged.

Numerous reasons were cited by the Washington Railway & Electric Co., the Capital Traction Co., and the Washington Rapid Transit Co. in their asking that the 3-cent order be vacated. Principal among these was that the reduced fare constituted confiscation of their properties, that it was illegally drawn in that the hearing was held prior to enactment of the act, and that the commission failed to provide compensatory relief by raising adult fares.

Third Victim Dies After Auto Crash

Edward H. Kennedy, 21-year-old Baltimore jockey who was driving the automobile in which Miss Sina Reuthe, Gunston Hall teacher, and Charles H. De Thierry were fatally injured Sunday near Buffalo, N. Y., died yesterday.

Mr. De Thierry's body reached here yesterday from Buffalo. He lived at 316 Fifth street southeast. He will be buried today in Mount Olivet Cemetery following services at St. Peter's Church at 9 o'clock this morning.

Funeral services for Miss Reuthe were held in Buffalo. A fourth member of the party is still in a Buffalo hospital suffering from a broken leg and multiple lacerations.

The accident occurred when Kennedy drove past a red traffic light and struck another car. Miss Reuthe and Mr. De Thierry died almost instantly.

AUTO VICTIM'S BODY IDENTIFIED BY WIFE

John Walter, 54, Believed Killed by Hit-Run Driver Near Laurel.

The body of a man, said to have been the victim of a hit-and-run driver near Laurel, Md., last Sunday, which for more than 48 hours lay unclaimed at the District Morgue, was identified yesterday as John R. Walter, 54 years old, of 2109 Eighteenth street northwest. The identification was made by his wife, Mrs. Geraldine Walter, after she read newspaper accounts of the accident.

According to Prince Georges County police, Mr. Walter was struck by an automobile which failed to stop, as he attempted to cross the road at a traffic signal just outside of Laurel, on the Washington-Baltimore highway. He was taken to Casualty Hospital in a passing car, and pronounced dead a few hours later. No marks of identification were in Mr. Walter's pockets, so his body was removed to the Morgue.

When he failed to return home, members of his family became alarmed, and after reading of the accident, went to the morgue where the identification was made.

Mr. Walter was a native of Boyds, Md., and had been a resident of this city for 35 years. He had been employed for some years here as a carpenter.

Besides his wife, he is survived by four children, Miss Mildred E. Walter, John L. Walter, John R. Walter, jr., and Mrs. Hilda Rea McKay; three brothers, Elmer Walter, of Dodgetown, Md.; George C. Walter, of Gaithersburg, Md., and M. I. Walter, of this city, and a sister, Mrs. A. C. Kingsbury, of Boyds, Md.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at St. Paul's Catholic Church, Fifteenth and V streets northwest. Interment will be in Barnesville, Md.

Auto-Crash Hurts Fatal to Woman

Victim Struck Two Weeks Ago by Car Driven by John W. Merritt.

Two weeks after she was struck by an automobile driven by John W. Merritt, son of Dr. E. A. Merritt, well-known X-ray specialist, Mrs. Charlotte Powers, 49, of 14 Hesketh street, Chevy Chase, Md., died at Georgetown University Hospital yesterday afternoon.

Merritt was rearrested last night and charged with manslaughter. He was held on bond of $1,000 for action of the county police court.

The accident in which Mrs. Powers suffered her fatal injuries occurred just north of Chevy Chase Circle shortly before midnight on June 28. Merritt, who was later arrested by Montgomery County police and charged with reckless driving, rushed the woman to the hospital. On the way to the hospital Merritt's car was in collision with another machine.

Mrs. Powers had been employed by Mrs. Warren Brush, wife of Dr. Warren Brush, of the forest service, as a housekeeper for more than two years at the Hesketh street address. She came here from Bristol, Tenn., where her husband, from whom she is said to be divorced, lives. A son, Lynn Powers, 20, lives in Pittsburgh, Pa. Merritt told police the accident was unavoidable, the woman rushing out in front of him after leaving a street car.

Baby Locked Alone Saved By Firemen

Two-year-old Edward Ellwanger, jr., made his bow in Capital society yesterday morning when he received informally members of No. 7 Truck Company in an upstairs room of his home at 1208 East Capitol street.

The unlooked-for reception had its inception when the youngster turned the key in the lock and then found himself unable to open the door. He set up a howl and his mother decided to call the rescue squad. By some mistake the truck company responded.

Unable to gain entry without breaking in the door, the key being stuck in the lock, the firemen resorted to the primitive expedient of invading the transom and lifting Junior out by the seat of his rompers.

WARDMAN PROPERTY RECEIVERS NAMED

Court Acts on Application of New York Bank Over Interest Default.

Alleging that there had been a default in the payment of interest due on March 1, 1921, and that there had also been a default in the sinking fund payments which were due March 1, 1930, and May 1, 1931, the Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., of 70 Broadway, New York City, and Frank Wolfe, of the same address, trustees, yesterday sought for and obtained the appointment of receivers for the Wardman Real Estate Properties, Inc.

The suit disclosed that while authorization had been obtained for the issuance of $16,000,000 in mortgage notes on ten Wardman properties here, only $11,350,000 was issued, and some $387,000 of that amount has been retired. The amount now due because of the alleged defaults is $10,963,000 in principal and $356,297.50 in interest.

Properties Involved.

The properties which were placed in the hands of three receivers are Wardman Park Hotel, Wardman Park Hotel addition; The Carlton Hotel, The Chaselton Apartments, Cathedral Mansions, The Davenport Apartments, Boulevard Apartments, Stoneleigh Court, 2700 Connecticut avenue, and the Department of Justice Building.

The receivers are Thomas B. Carson, president of the defendant company; Julius I. Peyser, and Joseph P. Tumulty. Their bond was ordered set at $100,000 and they were ordered to continue the management of the properties pending further orders.

Company's Assets Given

The bonds were issued in three series, all of September 27, 1928. Justice Jesse Proctor, who ordered the receivers appointed, also signed an injunction preventing any of the officers or employes of the defendant Corporation from interferring with the receivers.

The Wardman company, through Attorney Daniel Thew Wright admitted the allegation of default, and assented to the receivership.

The suit of Leslie M. Shaw, former Secretary of the Treasury, instituted several days ago, was dismissed, though ten days was allowed to file an amended bill. The ten days have not yet expired.

MAN HURT IN FIGHT; OPERATION FOLLOWS

Taxi Driver Picks Up Body of Printer After Dive Through Window.

An operation was performed at Walter Reed hospital last night to save the life of Edward J. Cunningham, 46-year-old plate printer at the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, who had fallen, run or been pushed through a window during an altercation a few hours earlier. He is said to have received a fractured pelvis.

According to police, Cunningham and Walter A. Murray engaged in a fight in the latter's apartment, 1477 Newton street northwest, after being driven there in a taxicab operated by Raymond O'Tippett. The hackman, having been instructed to wait, saw Cunningham's body come hurling through the window, through glass and screen, and fall to the pavement fifteen feet below.

Placing the man in his cab, Tippett drove to Sixteenth street and Columbia road, where he encountered Policeman Robert V. Murray. They took Cunningham to Garfield Hospital, whence he was transferred to Walter Reed after receiving first-aid treatment. The victim is a war veteran.

Murray was arrested and held at the Tenth Precinct Station for investigation. Cunningham lives at 2153 Thirtieth street northeast. O'Tippett's home is at 1206 Four-and-a-Half street southwest.

Man Hurt as Motorcycle Skids.

Frank A. Webster, 31, of Takoma Park, Md., had his left hip dislocated yesterday when his motorcycle skidded from the road and crashed into a fence as he attempted to avert a collision with an approaching automobile, according to police. The accident occurred on Tilden street, near Beech Drive. He was taken to Emergency Hospital in a police car.

SLANG AND THE DEBT PARLEY.

("Paris.—Slang was used as a code in the telephone conversations between Secretary Mellon and President Hoover."—News item.)

THE President (after getting Mr. Mellon on the transatlantic phone)—What's the latest news from the sick room?

President—I's regusted. Spill the hot soup. (I'm very disappointed. Give me all the details as things now stand.)

Mr. Mellon—The garcons are trying to keep us behind the eight ball, to give us the run-around through a nonstop huddle, but the boy friend is wise and will make them jump through the paper hoop if they don't change batteries on him. (The French are still blocking an accord through futile conferences, but I have the situation well in hand and will win unless there is a new cabinet shake-up.)

President—Give me the lowdown on the sauerkraut and frankfurters. Cracker-barrel boys all hot and bothered. (Tell me the latest about the situation in Germany. American voters are very much concerned.)

Mr. Mellon—Three flat tires and little air in fourth, but service station is within sight. Stow the chills. (Germany in very bad shape, but feel confident moratorium will be agreed on soon. Don't be impatient).

* * * *

PRESIDENT—Is there any chance the show will be a turkey? (Is there any possibility the debt suspension proposal will not go through?).

Mr. Mellon—Baloney, no matter how they slice it. Am sitting pretty. Put away the crying towel. (All talk of moratorium failing is absurd. Feel confident agreement will come soon. Stop worrying).

President—Give the risque postcard peddler the heat and step on gas. (Read the riot act to the French and speed an agreement).

Mr. Mellon—Oke with me. I am tired of buggy ride, too. (I will do as you say. Delay is getting on my nerves, also).

LATER.

MR. MELLON (calling from Paris)—Is this the Kingfish?

President—Yes, Andy.

Mr. Mellon—Napoleon laid an egg at 4:20. (The French agreed to the debt suspension at twenty after four).

President—Attaboy! Shoot me the words and music. (Fine! Give me the details).

Mr. Mellon—Frogs did a Walt Disney symphonic dance as forecast from Pittsburgh. Tomorrow fair and warmer. Iron Hat is sending love and kisses. Allez oop! (French agreed to program, as I predicted. Outlook now very splendid for world trade pick-up. Von Hindenberg is sending congratulatory cable to you. Home soon).

Poison Draft Swallower And Druggist Are Arrested

Raymond D. Smith, 27, of 1358 Kenyon street northwest, who, police say, attempted suicide Sunday night when he consumed a quantity of poison, was arrested and charged with violation of the pharmacy law last night at the Third Precinct station. Detective Sergt. Robert Sanders, of the drug squad, investigated the case and said he learned that Smith had purchased the poison from Albert Meisrow, a druggist, of 2901 Connecticut avenue northwest. Meisrow was also arrested and charged with violation of the pharmacy law.

Smith was found late Sunday night at his home apparently in an unconscious condition and was rushed to Emergency Hospital, where he was treated. His case was not serious and he returned home the next day. No reason for his action could be determined.

FRASER GAINS FAVOR AS NEXT CHOICE FOR LEGION COMMANDER

Department Official's Race Expected to Result in Victory August 5.

CONVENTION IN CAPITAL WILL LAST TWO DAYS

Parade and Band Contest Planned by Various Posts Included in Group.

Unless there is a complete upset in the political situation in the District department of the American Legion between now and August 5, the date the annual department convention will open, Frederick Fraser, past commander of the Sergt. Jasper Post, and now senior vice commander of the department, will be elected department commander for the next year.

With the annual convention of the department only three weeks away, even several of the opponents of Mr. Fraser concede that he is so far out in front his election as department commander seems assured. They add, however, the important reservation that their admission is made on conditions as they now exist. They also say they are unwilling to admit that no one nor anything can change existing conditions.

Services Are Cited.

They point to the important part the vice commander has played in the fine administration of department affairs in the last year, and the able assistance he has given Dr. B. C. MacNeil, present commander, as justification for their confidence that the department will advance the senior vice commander to be commander.

The Fraser "slate" is reported to be: Fraser, commander; Richard O'Brien, past commander of the Vincent B. Costello Post, to be senior vice commander; William McGrath, commander Washington Police Post, to be second vice commander; Helen Sprague, of the U. S. S. Jacob Jones, yeoman (f.), post, to be third vice commander.

Norman B. Landreau, a lawyer, is the only other candidate whose aspirations for the job of department commander has been announced. Mr. Landreau fell into poor luck the last time he ran for department office two years ago.

Landreau Silent on Slate.

Whether the managers of the Landreau campaign have prepared a slate with which to aid the chances of their candidates has not been disclosed. Such a slate has not been announced.

The election of officers, however, will not be the only thing to occupy the convention. A sharp fight is expected to develop over a proposed amendment to the department constitution. At present past department commanders have a vote in the annual convention, without the formality of getting themselves elected as delegates.

The total of such votes in the forthcoming convention will amount to less than a dozen at the outside, and just about all of the past commanders could get their posts to send them as delegates, and as such they could vote whether the amendment to deprive them of their vote as past commanders was adopted or rejected.

Session Opens August 5.

The annual department convention is to be held in the southeast section of the city this year, in the auditorium of the Buchanan School, at Thirteenth and E streets southeast. It will begin August 5 and close on August 7. There will be a parade and a contest among the bands and drum corps of the various posts and the Southeast Business Men's Association will cooperate to make the gathering a gala occasion.

The parade will start on B street southeast at New Jersey avenue, proceeding to Pennsylvania avenue, thence to Thirteenth street, there turning north to Buchanan School.

PITTS RENEWS PLEA TO SUPREME COURT

Habeas Corpus Route Taken to Win Freedom for Former Banker.

G. Bryan Pitts, former chairman of the board of the F. H. Smith Co., yesterday again petitioned the United States Supreme Court to release him from the District Jail, where he is now being held under sentence for conspiracy.

Denied release on bail by Justice Butler, of the Supreme Court, at a recent hearing at the Butler summer home in Pennsylvania, Pitts yesterday advanced substantially the same grounds again in his petition for habeas corpus proceedings filed yesterday.

He claims the District code contains no statute defining or prescribing punishment for conspiracy. Under the Federal criminal code under which he was indicted, he said, he can be tried only in a "District Court of the United States."

Congress deliberately omitted a conspiracy section from the criminal laws of the District, the petition declared.

It added that no attempt was made to bring him before a district court of the United States, although there is provision for holding such a court here. The petition contended that under the circumstances his trial and conviction in the District Supreme Court was invalid. He should be released, he claims, because he is being held under sentence imposed by a court which had no jurisdiction over his case.

Stuart Walcott Post Pledges Aid to Miller

Unanimous support of Warren E. Miller, judge advocate general of the District of Columbia Department of the American Legion, in the forthcoming elections for departmental commander at the convention of local posts beginning August 5, was pledged by the executive committee of Stuart Walcott Post, No. 10, at a meeting last night.

Citing Miller's record in his present post in the District department as "distinguished," and pointing out that he is not employed by the Government, as many legionnaires are, thus making him a man of probable effective caliber for the leadership of the organization here, the Walcott post committee adopted a resolution indorsing the judge advocate and pledging its support. He is a former commander of the Walcott post.

Child, Woman Hurt In Crash at Tunnel

Youth Held for Reckless Driving in Wreck on Canal Road.

A 15-month-old boy and a woman were injured, the child seriously, last night in an automobile accident at entrance to the C. & O. canal tunnel on Canal road. According to police, an auto driven by Guy M. Gordon, 20, of 4531 Canal road, ran into a machine operated by Turner A. Burns as the latter was about to make a turn into the tunnel. Burns lives at 3214 M street northwest.

Both of those injured were riding in the Gordon car. They are Monroe Gordon, the baby, who was treated at Georgetown hospital for a possible skull fracture and then transferred to Children's Hospital, and Mrs. Coachie Justice, who suffered scalp lacerations.

Seventh Precinct police charged Gordon with reckless driving. Mrs. Justice lives at 4525 Canal road.

Man Wanted in Hit-Run Case Gives Himself Up

Charles H. Taylor, colored, wanted in connection with a traffic accident Sunday in which a 5-year-old colored boy was injured, walked into the Eleventh Precinct Police Station yesterday and gave himself up. He was charged with leaving the scene of an accident without making his identity known.

William H. Proctor, of 2638 Douglas road southeast, suffered internal injuries and a fracture of the left arm when a car which police claim was driven by Taylor struck him as he was drinking from a water fountain in front of his home. Taylor lives at 2531 Fifth Sterling avenue southeast.

NEXT YEAR CAR TAGS TO BE SENT BY MAIL

New Titling System to Aid Issuance Is Idea of Van Duzer.

Automobile owners will not have to visit the Department of Motor Vehicles and Traffic to obtain license tags for 1932 William A. Van Duzer, head of the department, announced yesterday. Instead, the department, upon application will mail the tags to owners.

The new system of mailing tags has been devised by Mr. Van Duzer. He believes it will facilitate issuance and will be of great convenience to automobile owners.

The new method, Mr. Van Duzer said, is made possible by the new rule which requires that every automobile in the District be properly titled. A car owner in the future will be unable to obtain registration tags unless his automobile is so titled. A mailing fee of 10 cents will be charged.

Applications for tags will be mailed to all automobile owners about November 15. All the owner will have to do is to sign his name to the application and return it to the Traffic Department with a check or money order covering the amount of the personal property tax and $1 for the tags, plus 10 cents mailing charge.

The department is ready to begin the work of titling 135,000 registered motor vehicles in the District. Blank forms have been placed in every police precinct station in the District, at the headquarters of the American Automobile Association, the National Motorists Association, the Washington Chamber of Commerce, Board of Trade and the Merchants and Manufacturers Association. All motor vehicles must be titled before January 1.

Liquor Charge Dropped, Retired Army Man Free

Assistant United States Attorney David A. Hart yesterday dropped charges of possession of a small amount of liquor against Maj. Joseph T. Kingsley, a retired Army officer. The prosecutor said he did not believe the prohibition laws were meant to punish citizens where no commercial element entered into the case.

The Army officer was arrested by police of the Third Precinct near the Powhatan Hotel. There was a disturbance between the major and an employe of the hotel roof garden, and police were called in. A small bottle of liquor led to the arrest of the retired Army officer.

Man Shot When He Sits on Gun.

Rodger Epps, colored, 31 years old, sat on a .22-caliber pistol while at 81 Fenton street northeast yesterday afternoon. The gun was discharged. He is being treated at Freedmen's Hospital.

THREE MEN FELLED AS MERCURY SOARS TO 95-DEGREE ZONE

Government Employes Are Released From Tasks; No Relief Today.

Another hot day is in store for Washington today after the scorcher yesterday which prostrated three men and gave hundreds of Government workers a half holiday because their offices were too stifling in which to work.

A thunderstorm yesterday afternoon proved to be just a splash in the frying pan. The few drops of rain brought a slight breeze which sent the thermometer down a degree or so, but before dinner time Washington was complaining just as much about the heat as during the early part of the afternoon.

Seven Degrees Above Sunday.

The thermometer at the United States Weather Bureau reached a high mark of 95 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, 7 degrees higher than the day before. The kiosk on Pennsylvania avenue, in front of The Post Building, exceeded this temperature by only 3 degrees, registering a 98 mark between 1 and 2 o'clock.
